

Carnival

Week much more enjoyable. Watch for further information in the Cadre, Guardian, Evening Patriot, Topics, and over CIMN Radio 700 and Channel 12 on Cable.

The Carnival Committee and Cadre offers the following advice if you want your carnival to be a big success:

- 1.) Mention any ideas you have to Carnival Committee Members (Gerald McKenna, Liz Burke, Debbie McMurdo, Tina Madan, Kathy Connolly, Jim Picone and Peter MacQuaid).
- 2.) Save your money.

3.) Attend meeting on Fri., Jan. 21, at 3 p.m. in S.U. Office.

4.) Find a girl/boy friend (if you can't afford one, ask a friend to the Carnival Ball at least).

5.) Practice your drinking endurance.

6.) Finish all term papers, seminars and assignments in advance.

7.) Pick up a bottle of "Bromo" at the Kmart before the last minute rush.

Any questions you might have about Winter Carnival '77, call or drop into the office in the basement of Memorial.

ACT Weekend - Probably not what you think

With the approach of the A.C.T. (Adult Christian Thinking) Week-end, it would be most fortitious to make clear to students its purpose and at the same time to dissipate falacies concerning its function. Firstly, it is not, as is often thought, a social gathering attended by innocuous do-gooders who would thereby pacify their philanthropic urges nor is it a gathering of hard core religious fanatics who assemble to decry the iniguities of the day. Its purpose, rather, is to stimulate self evaluation in relation to basic Christian tenets, through a series of group discussions, presentations, films and what not. For the duration of the week-end, the participant is isolated from the commonplace stimuli and will hopefully define his/her values and their implementations in society at large.

Although the A.C.T. Week-end is presented in a Christian orientation, it should interest anyone from any background who is concerned about the growth of self and community. At the very least the week-end should stimulate a little meaningful thinking.

As far as the good times and socializing they are incidental, but always present. The A.C.T. week-end is presented entirely by a group of students (with a little help from the chaplaincy) and should be sincere and original.

May you find it in yourselves to attend.

Director of A.C.T.

P.S. The week-end will take place commencing the evening of Jan. 28 and end the afternoon of Jan. 30. Watch for a booth at the library or contact the Chaplain's office.

Now... more than ever the RCMP offers a rewarding career

If you've ever considered a career in law enforcement, now's the time to talk to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. The opportunities have never been greater.

For instance, the RCMP is accepting applications from both men and women, married and single. And the salary scale has increased considerably. It starts at $12,750. per year ($245. weekly) with regular increases to $17,625. ($339. weekly) in the first four years.

If accepted as a member of the Force, you'll receive intensive training in all aspects of police work such as law, investigation, first aid and community relations. Then you'll be posted to a detachment where there's every chance to put your knowledge and talents to work; to earn promotion and, equally important, be proud of what you're doing for yourself and for Canada as a member of one of the finest police forces in the world.

So if you're a Canadian citizen 18 or over and in good physical condition, think about a career with the RCMP.

Call or write your nearest office or use the coupon. We'd like to tell you more.
