NEXT in importance to the Close-running and Good Mechanism of the Watch itself, is that it should be protected by

A Tight and Well-Fitting Case.

Among the best for this purpose we consider those made at the Keystone Watch-Case Factory, Philadelphia, U. S.

Started by JAMES BOST, over 30 years ago this Factory has stood the test of time, and now employs a working force of 500 men.

Their Silver, Gold-filled and Nickel Cases are A. 1. Their Gold-filled are Guaranteed to Wear 20 Years, in fact, they often wear longer than that. Many of our Rockford Watches are protected by these cases, specially made for us, and which possess advantages over any other case in the market.

Lord Churchill's Boast.

THAT HE WILL BE PRIME MINISTER WITHIN SIX MONTHS.

It is stated that the personal relations of the Marquis of Salisbury and Lord Randolph Churchill are growing more and more angry daily. Lady Salisbury, the most ambitious woman in London, who has played a prominent part in the quarrel from the beginning, aggravates the situation by her violent tongue. She has carried the quarrel from the proper sphere of politicians to the drawing rooms of the highest London society, and wages implacable war, not only against Churchill himself, but all connected with him by family, social or party ties. Lord Randolph and his relatives are not the kind of people to submit to treatment of this character in silence. The late Chancellor of the Exchequer openly denounces Lord Salisbury as the greatest coward in Europe, and prophesies that he (Churchill) will be Prime Minister of England within the next six months.

Banks of the Dominion.

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT FOR DECEMBER 1885 AND 1886—A FAVORABLE SHOWING PRESENTED.

An extra of the Canada Gazette, published Jan. 18, contains the bank statement for December, which continues to make a most favorable showing. The total liabilities are $150,518,455, as compared with $147,440,253 last year. The total assets are $231,300,483, as against $227,863,547. Circulation has increased nearly $2,250,000, while deposits on demand have decreased nearly $1,400,000. Dominion and Provincial Government deposits show a decrease of about $2,000,000, and loans to Provincial Governments an increase of nearly $300,000. Current loans and discounts have increased $12,000,000, and overdue debts secured and unsecured have decreased over $1,000,000, a very unsatisfactory feature. Taken altogether, the statement shows that the banks are in a good position, and that the improved condition of business requires a great deal more capital to run it than it did at this time last year.

Inhuman Spectacles.

THE LONDON PRESS ON THE IRISH EVICTIONS.

The London Standard says: "There are beyond question, many cases which bring shame and discredit upon the whole body of landlords in Ireland, cases wherein the land owners have not behaved with any show of respect for equity and in which they have done gross wrong to those whose happiness, and even lives, depended upon their landlords' forbearance. Such landlords," the Standard says, "have no right to be supplied by the Government with the means of enforcing the decrees granted to them by the strict process of the law. Some of the evictions enforced this winter have been inhuman spectacles, fit only for a barbarous country and age, and the Government may well consider whether it is not time to disassociate the action of the Irish executive from the enforcement of the decrees."

At the Standard adds that the Government will at an early date, submit a measure for the removal of the Irish executive from the agrarian conspiracy in Ireland.

Funeral of Lord Iddesleigh.

The funeral of the late Earl Iddesleigh at Pynes, near Exeter, was very impressive. All the members of the family, with the exception of one son, who is in America, were present, and the Queen and Royal family were represented. In London the Government offices were closed, and the political clubs drew down their window blinds during the service at Westminster. Lord Salisbury was present at this service, and was visibly affected. The members of the Cabinet and many politicians of both sides attended. There were services also at Exeter and Edinburgh cathedrals. Sir George Stephen, father of Mrs. H. S. Northcote, was one of the mourners.

Free Trade.

The reduction of internal revenue and the taking off of revenue stamps from Proprietary Medicines, no doubt has largely benefited the consumer, as well as relieving the burden of home manufacturers. Especially is this the case with Green's August Flower and Boecher's German Syrup, as the reduction of thirty-six cents per dozen has been added to increase the size of the bottles containing these remedies, thereby giving one-fifth more medicine in the 75 cent size.

The August Flower for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, and the German Syrup for Cough and Lung troubles, have perhaps the largest sale of any medicines in the world. The advantage of increased size of the bottles will be greatly appreciated by the sick and afflicted, in every town and village in civilized countries. Sample bottles for 10 cents remain the same size.

Fifty miles additional of the Manitoba and North-Western Railway have been accepted by the Government engineer, and will be operated at once.

The death of Mr. John Roach by cancer at the root of the tongue removes a moral that a former death caused by the same disease proclaimed. When General Grant fell a victim to cancer it was stated that the disease had been induced by the use of tobacco. But Mr. Roach has never smoked and the smokers are therefore rehabilitated, and the tobacco is therefore once more.

Among the begging letters received at the Paris Bureau de Bienfaisance was one running thus:—"This unfortunate young man is the only son of a widow who died childless, and his earnings maintain his aged father and infant brothers whose sole support he is." The secretary wrote on the margin of the epistle the following note:—"The circumstances of this case are evidently exaggerated."

Trampled to Death.

THE FALSE CRY OF FIRE CREATES A PANIC AND TWELVE WOMEN AND SEVEN BOYS ARE TRAMPLED TO DEATH.

A frightful accident happened in London on the evening of the 19th, as stated in our telegraphic despatches a day or two ago. The Hebrew dramatic club gave an entertainment at the theatre in Princess street, Spitalfields which was attended by about 600 persons, mostly Jews. Some one in the gallery, doubtless for a joke, shouted "fire." The gas was immediately turned off at the metre and a terrible panic ensued. People rushed in a solid mass for the doors and numbers were trodden under foot. When the panic had subsided it was found that twelve women and five youths had been trampled to death in the rush to escape, and many others injured. The hall in the Princess street, Spitalfields, where a fatal panic occurred, is a favorite resort for the Jews of that part of London. Entertainments have been given there every night for a long time past. On the evening of the accident a benefit performance was given and the place was crowded. During the progress of the play, a man and a woman quarreled in the street outside and near the main doorway of the hall. The man used violence and the woman screamed. Her cry was heard by a passer by who misunderstood it and shouted "Fire." The woman's screams and cries of "Fire" were heard inside and at once created a panic, the audience, numbering 500, rising in a body and rushing pell mell for the main entrance. The audience was almost a complete mob. The manager of the Hebrew Dramatic Club, which was giving the entertainment, was on the stage when the panic began. He perceived at once that there was no power to allay the excitement and to afford the possible facilities for the exit of the people. The whole crowd, as if with one impulse made for the main entrance. It happened that among those who first reached it were a number of women and children who had been occupying some of the rear seats. They were overborne by strong men attempting to pass them, and as the women and children fell at the door-way as stumbling blocks they were trampled upon by the frantic crowd. It took but a few moments to empty the house and the alarm was so thorough that not a soul among the entire audience refrained from the struggle to get out. Seventeen corpses were found inside the theatre near the door. They were all torn, crushed and disfigured. It was found that of the dead twelve were women, three were boys, one a girl, and the other a man. The remains were almost unrecognizable. Eye witnesses say the way strong men who got the uppermost in the struggle at the door, crushed and trampled on those who fell down in the conflict; was indistinguishably ruthless and brutal. It is stated that a number of infants carried in their mother's arms and clung to through all the panic were also crushed or smothered to death, and that a number of others were terribly injured. The scene during the attempted return of the crowd was painful in the extreme. The bereaved remained at the doorways all night waiting to have their dead restored to them, and the lamentations of the women were heart-breaking. The police have been giving a number of contradictory stories about the cause of the panic. One statement is that thieves started the cry of fire for the purpose of getting an opportunity to dispoil many rich Jews in the hall of costly jewels worn on their persons to the entertainment.

Evictions in Ireland.

The sheriff and a force of police from Cweedore while on their way to evict tenants at Bloody Foreland, county Donegal, on the 19th inst., found the road blocked with immense granite boulders and were obliged to proceed on foot. The blowing of horns, and ringing of bells brought together large crowds of peasants, who threatened the police with violence. The police made a strategic move around the base of the mountain by the sea, but scouts on the mountain top gave an alarm and the peasants cheering rushed down the mountain side and blocked the passage. A constable threatened the crowd with the baton. This was the signal for a shower of stones from the excited peasants. A desperate fight ensued in which five policemen were badly wounded. A priest who was present finally succeeded in calming the people, and they allowed the police to proceed. A tenant named Gallagher was evicted, but for various reasons the police left the other tenants undisturbed. In many cases they were unable to identify the cottages from which the occupants were to be ejected. In the meantime the peasants carried Gallagher back to his house, kindled a fire and reinstated him. The priest then persuaded the people to allow the police to retire. While the sheriff and his escort were on the way home, masses of men were rolled down the mountain side, and the officers narrowly escaped injury. While the fighting was going on, two vessels off Bloody Foreland stopped to watch the melee. A large number of writs of ejectment have been granted, but it is expected that no further attempts will be made to enforce them.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little child awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gum, allays all pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for their use, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind! fcb4 cod wk
