

PUBLISHES AGAIN AFTER FIRE

Jack Dillon, Patriot pressman, looks at one of the first copies of the Patriot run off Wednesday from the Guardian Press. The Patriot missed one edition following the destruction of their plant by fire. It has not yet been determined how much of the equipment of the evening paper can be salvaged or where it will be set up but in the meantime they will continue to publish using Guardian facilities.

FWC Enrolment Is Continuing

The number of commerce students registering at Prince of Wales College is seen to be 11 more than last year. Yesterday 53 students registered in the commerce graduating class as compared to 42 in 1956. The academic grade XII enrolment is also up with 122 students registering against 116 last year. In the Normal Training class the opening enrolment is three short of last year's class when they had 46 compared to 43 this year. However college officials said they would not be surprised if a few late comers would bring the number of teacher trainees up to that of the previous year. Third and Fourth year students will register today and Friday.

W. R. Shaw To Judge Nfld. Fair

Mr. W.R. Shaw, long-time Deputy Minister of Agriculture for P.E.I., now retired, has been invited to judge horses and other livestock exhibits at the first all-Canada Agricultural and Handicrafts Exhibition held in Canada's newest province since 1939. Mr. Shaw also officiated as a judge at the last big show held in St. John's prior to the destruction of the Exhibition Buildings by fire. Apparently the Island agricultural services on that occasion have not been forgotten, and the exhibition committee has once more chosen him to place the ribbons at their big re-opening event. Mr. Shaw, who judged the horse show at the Charlottetown Exhibition earlier this year, and in addition to officiating at some of the Maritime's biggest shows in the past, has been invited to judge at several of this season's most important agricultural fairs. The Newfoundland Exhibition will be held at St. John's, September 23rd. to September 28th. Over $9,000 will be paid out in prizes, and in addition, there will be substantial special prizes. Livestock breeders and field crop producers from the other Atlantic Provinces are expected to attend the big show. Mr. Shaw will leave for St. John's September 21st.

FOR MINISTRY

Richard Allan Dunbar, son of Mr. and Mrs. M.D. Dunbar, Charlottetown, has announced his plans to leave September 9th for Western Canada to enter Theological Training in the Churches of Christ College in Calgary, Allan, as he is popularly known here, will be greatly missed by a host of friends gained through the years. Particularly will he be missed in musical circles. For the past several years Allan has served as pianist for the Interchurch Youth Sing Songs held Sunday nights at the YMCA. Central Christian Church will miss Allan's efforts in many capacities and especially as Church organist in which capacity he has served for the past several months. The course to be pursued will be the Classical Ministerial Course requiring five years of study with the degree of Bachelor of Theology to be earned. Friends of Allan wish him the greatest success in his career.

School Space In Nfld. Short

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Reports from local schools Wednesday indicated hundreds of children were turned away Tuesday when they returned to start the fall term. Officials said the increase is felt mostly in the kindergarten, primary and intermediate classes. A St. Michael's school official said a "surprising large number of outport students registered this year." Most schools plan to add extra classrooms where possible to take care of the rush. About 110,000 students are expected to register in Newfoundland.

Soviet Charges War Of Nerves Against Syria

MOSCOW (Reuters)—The Soviet Union has accused the United States, Britain and France of "re-inforcing their war of nerves against Syria" and preparing new joint action against her. It was learned here Wednesday night the accusation was made in notes—similar but not identical—to the three Western powers. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko handed the notes to the western ambassadors Tuesday. Russia said action against Syria "cannot but arouse indignation of the peoples of the whole world." The note termed the British "armed intervention" in Oman an act of "crude violence." A American interference had caused a coup in Jordan and the preparation of plots against Syria and Egypt, it said. Russia reiterated a Soviet call for the renunciation of the use of force in the Middle East. The note rejected the view that the basic cause of tension is the Arab-Israeli dispute and added that this dispute would not be so acute if the United States, Britain and France "ceased to use Israel as a tool of their colonial policy." Well-informed sources in London said that the notes were replies to Western notes June 11 which rejected the Soviet proposal for a great power declaration. The notes are the fifth in a series started by Russia Feb. 11.

Food Helps Boost Cost Of Living

OTTAWA (CP) — Higher food prices were the chief incentive for a July boost in living costs that sent the consumer price index to a record 122.6, the bureau of statistics reported Wednesday. The index rose seven-tenths of a point, one of its biggest monthly advances in recent years. It is based on 1949 prices equaling 100. July prices rose for eggs, pork, butter, beef and grapefruit in the food field. They also went up for rent, home ownership costs, coal, gasoline, public transit fares, taxi fares, newspapers, drugs hospital room rates and personal care items. These were only partially offset by cheaper fresh vegetables, apples, coffee, men's and women's wear and fuel oil. The index of 122.6 compared with 121.9 a month earlier and 119.1 a year previously. It now has gained 2.1 points in five months of continuous rise. MIXED TRENDS Meanwhile, wholesale prices for August showed mixed trends with no clear picture of possible future changes in retail prices. The index of 30 industrial materials, based on 1935-39 prices equaling 100, moved down slightly to 239.6 in the week ended Aug. 23, from 240.2 in the week ended July 26. The farm products index, on the same basis as the wholesale index, rose to 215.6 from 213.9. The components of the consumer price index for July, with June figures in brackets: Food, 129.2 (118.2); shelter, 135.3 (135.1); clothing, 108.2 (108.4); household operations, 119.7 (119.6); other commodities and services, 126.9 (126.5).
