

A Remedy for Diphtheria.

In view of the prevalence in this Province of diphtheria we reprint portions of a letter written by Russia's Minister to the United States, to a New York paper. We will be delighted to hear of the remedy being used with success:—

IMPERIAL RUSSIAN LEGATION, Washington, Nov. 16, 1879. To the Editor of the Herald.

In view of the increase of diphtheria, I communicate to you a very simple remedy, which having been used in Russia and Germany, may prove effective here. For children one year old and under, the remedy, used internally is:—

Natr, benoic, pur. 5.0 solv. in aq. distillat aq. menth, piper, ana 40.00 syr. cort. aur. 10.0.

For children from one to three years old, from seven to eight grammes for 100 of distilled water, with same syrup; for children from three to seven years old, ten to fifteen grammes, and for grown persons from fifteen to twenty-five grammes for each 100 grammes of water.

Besides this, also the insufflation on the diphtherial membrane through a glass tube in serious cases every three hours, in light cases three times a day of the natr. benoic pulver. For grown people for gargling adulation of ten grammes of this pulver for 200 grammes of water.

The effect of the remedy is rapid. After twenty-four or thirty-six hours the feverish symptoms disappear completely and the temperature and pulse become normal. This remedy was used with great success by eminent physicians in Russia and Germany.

N. SHISHKIN, Minister of Russia to the United States.

MOSAICS.

A matchless story—one in which there are no weddings.

The locks of a bald-headed man are like a fool and his money—soon parted. When a sick man feels well he sits up. When a well man feels sick he sits down.

Columbus made the egg stand, but Italians of less renown have made the peanut stand.

Why is a grocer who gives short measure like an ambuscade? Because he lies in weight.

The law can never make a man honest. It can only make him very uncomfortable when he is dishonest.

If the fall hats would fall a little more at the top they would give a better stage view to persons sitting behind them.

The Tribune Home Club, of Chicago, is going to found a kitchen school for girls. The question is, will it be used when found?

A newspaper reporter who died recently left a large sum of money behind him. In fact, he left all the money there was in the world.

A little boy came to his mother recently and said, 'Mamma, I should think that if I was made of dust I should get muddy inside when I drink.'

If a sermon written by any particular clergyman is calculated to do good why should he object to its being stolen and preached by another brother?

'Fulness under the eye denotes language,' we are told by the phrenologists. It certainly is apt to do so, and the more violent the language the more conspicuous the fulness.

A petrified woman has been discovered near Halifax. It is suspected that her husband gave her $10, without being asked, to get a new fall bonnet, and she was petrified with astonishment.

A correspondent wants to know what to do about sheep killing dogs. Let them alone. If dogs cannot defend themselves against, or get away from sheep, they do not deserve to live.

Household Hints.

To TAKE INK OUT OF LINEN.—Dip the ink spot in pure melted tallow, then wash out the tallow and the ink will come out with it. This is said to be unfailing.

SIMPLE REMEDIES.—Cotton wool wet with sweet oil and laudanum relieves the earache very soon.

To PURIFY A SINK OR DRAIN.—Dissolve one-half pound copperas in two gallons of water. Pour in half this liquid one day and the other half the next.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The famine in Upper Silesia is assuming alarming proportions.

Peter Goelst, a bachelor, member of one of the oldest New York families, died Sunday, aged 80. He leaves an estate estimated at twelve millions, principally real estate.

Emperor William was petitioned by a synod of Prussian clergymen not to permit a military review on Sunday. His reply was:—'The Sabbath has been created for man, not man for the Sabbath. The Puritanical and Calvinistic conception of the Sabbath as a day of mortification and penance is entirely foreign to the feelings as well as to the taste of the German people.' Emperor William is, however, a religious man.

In an article on Sir Leonard Tilley's visit to that city, the Free Press of London says:—'Few men, members of any Government, have ever taken the same trouble to obtain correct information as a guide to legislation that has Sir Leonard Tilley, and few have shown the same unselfish and patriotic desire to promote the prosperity of the country through this legislation. It is evident to every one that it is for no party triumph that he labors, and that he regards his exalted position as desirable only so far as he can make it contribute to the promotion of this great object of his life—the prosperity, the progress and the development of the country.'

AN IMPORTANT IMMIGRATION SCHEME.—A Fredericton despatch to the St. John Telegraph of yesterday says: 'Hans Peterson, Esq., of New Denmark, is here for the purpose of submitting the following proposition to the consideration of the Government; That the Government reserve two hundred thousand acres of land lying between New Denmark and the Tobique and extending towards the Restigouche and open it by running roads through it. If they will do this, Mr. Peterson will guarantee to bring out, during the next five years, ten thousand Danish emigrants who will pay for and settle upon the land. Some of the land in question is in the hands of the Rivier du Loup Railway Company, but we understand that they will dispose of it on reasonable terms. Mr. Peterson is of opinion that the tide of emigration from Denmark, Norway and Sweden can be turned toward this Province.'

Susceptibility to alcohol and tobacco is one of the most striking characteristics of the many evidences of American nervousness. We cannot bear these stimulants and narcotics as our fathers could; we cannot bear them as can the English, or Germans, or French; indeed, all the Old World can both drink and smoke more than the Americans. Foreigners travelling and sojourning here must be far more cautious than is their wont with the purest and mildest liquors; while Americans, when long abroad, can often partake of the native wines, and also of stronger liquors, to a degree that at home would induce intoxication, perhaps lead directly to the symptoms of alcoholism. In truth this functional malady of the nervous system, which we call inebriety, as distinguished from the vice or habit of drunkenness, may be said to have been born in America, has been developed sooner and far more rapidly than elsewhere, and here also has received earlier and more successful attention from men of science. The increase of the disorder has forced us to study it and to devise plans for its relief.

He connected his house on the banks of the North West Arm, Halifax, and his office with a telephone, and with a self-satisfied air set out for the city. The wife knowing that he was now within reach, did not call after him from the head of the stairs to remind him of the daily wants of the household. So with unruined temper he closed the front door of his house, and in good time reached Bedford Row. Scarcely had he opened the first letter of his mail when a subdued voice came forth from the telephone, 'now don't forget the dinner,' 'send home a turkey,' 'cook says the flour is out,' 'don't send home another barrel of your flour.' All right was signalled back over the wires, and he proceeded to open his letters. Two or three gentlemen dropped in the office and were discussing business affairs, when the 'machine' broke forth again, 'Baby's got wind colic, bring home some soothing syrup,' 'put some money in your purse to pay the washerwoman,' 'Hang the baby and the washerwoman too, he exclaimed. Half a dozen times through the day, at most inopportune moments, the ventriloquic voice broke on his ear, ending with 'hurry home the dinner is spoiling,' 'order some desert, dear aunt Betsy has just dropped in,' 'mind and get tickets for the concert—reserved seats.' And so he plodded home, feeling that modern inventions were not always labor-saving machines after all.—Hx. paper.

Read and Learn for Yourself.

Many valuable discoveries and much useful knowledge is kept from the world, because of the immense expense in making them known to the people. This is not the case with Boschee's German Syrup, although but a few years introduced into this country, its sale now reaches in every town and village in the U. S. Its wonderful success in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Pneumonia, Asthma, and all other diseases of the throat and lungs, was first made known by distributing every year, for three years, over 450,000 bottles to the afflicted, free of charge, by Druggists. No such a test of merit was ever given before to any other preparation. Could you ask more? Go to your druggist and get a bottle for 75 cents and try it. Sample bottles 10 cents.

CATARRH. Constitutional Catarrh Remedy CURES CATARRH.

Hear what a Reverend Gentleman says of the Constitutional Remedy.

T. J. B. HARDING, Esq., Brockville, Ont.:—'DEAR SIR—It is now two years since your "Constitutional Catarrh Remedy" was introduced to me. I have waited this long to see if the cure would remain permanent before doing this, my duty, to you, as at first the happy effects seemed to me to be "too good to be true."

I was afflicted in my head for years before I suspected it to be Catarrh. In reading in your Circular I saw my case described in many particulars. The inward "drop" from the head had become very disagreeable, and a choking sensation often preventing me from lying long, I would feel like smothering and be compelled to sit up in the bed. My health and spirits were seriously affected. When your agent came to Walkertown in August, 1876, I secured three bottles. Before I had used a quarter of the contents of one bottle I found decided relief, and when I had used two bottles and a third, I quit taking it, feeling quite clear of that ailment, and have not used any since until of late I have taken some for a cold in my head.

A sense of duty to sufferers from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, prompts me to send you this Certificate, unsolicited, with leave to make what use of it you may see proper. Yours truly, W. TINDALL, Methodist Minister. Port Elgin, Ont., Aug. 24, 1878.
