This was announced by Mrs. Harry Oudmore, provincial director of Red Cross water safety, and first aid.

This season's third water safety instructors school was concluded yesterday, as 19 new candidates received certificates in swimming, life saving and first aid.

Among these, five merited instructor's qualifications and the remainder leader awards, which requires the same skills but are granted to those who have not yet reached the beginning of their 18th year.

Commissioner Visits Island

Making his first visit to the province since his appointment as head of Canada's famed mounted last winter, RCMP Commissioner Charles Edward Rivett-Carnac yesterday morning conferred with Prince Edward Island's Premier and Attorney-General A. W. Matheson.

He also took time out to visit historic Confederation Chamber where he signed the visitor's book.

Following talks with the attorney general, the Commissioner, accompanied by Inspector Martin, officer commanding the RCMP Division in P.E.I. made courtesy calls on His Honour Lieutenant-Governor Hyndman and His Worship Mayor Johnstone.

Later he called on W. C. J. Creeper at RCAF Station Summerside.

Port Elgin Man Remanded To Jail

A remand until Monday, July 20, was given a resident of Port Elgin, N.B., when he appeared before Magistrate E.M. Martin in City Police Court yesterday morning, on a false pretenses charge.

The accused was specifically charged with false pretenses in the uttering of a worthless cheque to the amount of $32.30 to a local service station operator.

A Charlottetown woman charged with keeping a "filthy" yard was ordered to have the premises cleaned up before Monday.

One drunk and incapable was sent to jail on a previous commitment, and two others were fined five dollars and costs or two days.

Visitor Sees Road Changes

The Island roads have changed greatly but the houses look much the same, commented W.W. (Wally) Taylor of Vancouver, who has not seen the Island for 37 years.

While in the province, Mr. Taylor, and his wife are visiting many old friends and relatives including Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Beaton.

The Taylors are formerly of Millview and Pownal and have three children and five grandchildren.

The Province would have to judge whether or not this was being done on P.E.I. (Mr. Pickersgill is Liberal representative of the Newfoundland Bonavista-Twillingate constituency).

So far as the Island was concerned, Mr. Macdonald did not feel that sufficient credit was being given the Diefenbaker government for initiating this program which is paying 50 per cent of the cost of the paving now being done in the province.

the sitting he met Mr. Peters of the OCF in the House corridor and explained to him the large number of roads on the Island, and outlined the Province's alternative tourist facilities which provided the paving of a large percentage of roads under the federal-provincial roads-to-roads arrangement.

Over the period of time selected, each Province will receive $7,500,000 road-building assistance under this policy, Mr. Macdonald said. On this basis Prince Edward Island has already used its full quota for the first year.

"Until this program was announced by Mr. Diefenbaker it was felt that paving-up provincial sources had reached a saturation point," Mr. Macdonald declared.

BONANZA TO PROVINCE

"This project has been a particular bonanza to our small province," he said.

Mr. Macdonald noted that B.C. had signed an agreement and decided on their program. Other Provinces as well had received advances.

As to Mr. Pickersgill's statement that the federal government "shouldn't be voting this money blind for provincial purposes" to go around exploiting for political purposes," Mr. Macdonald said that the citizens of

Strathcona Trust Shield Is Again Won By Parkdale

The physical fitness division of the Department of Education last evening announced that once again Parkdale High School and Elementary School have been successful in winning the Strathcona Shield for the rural school in the province standing highest in physical education for the year.

As in past years, the display put on by these schools showed keen interest in the program, and the pupils in their display presented a well-balanced program of marching exercises and games.

Teachers and pupils of the Parkdale schools are to be commended for the interest they have maintained in this important part of the school curriculum and it is hoped that as time goes by many more schools will become as keenly interested in the physical well-being of the pupils as have the Parkdale schools.

Castro's Leadership Is Said Unchallenged

By HAROLD MORRISON

Fidel Castro's Cuban leadership is unchallenged.

That is the heart of thinking among United States diplomats.

The bearded leader may call himself premier or dogcatcher, but he still will rule Cuba.

And so American authorities feel his dramatic move to resign the premiership is aimed mainly at stirring up a great display of affection for him among the Cuban people.

The end result, they felt, is a greater build up of resentment in Cuba against the U.S. the country that granted a haven to Maj. Pedro Luis Diaz Lanz, former Cuban air force chief who called Castro a communist.

President Eisenhower didn't help to ease American-Cuban relations this week when he dealt negatively with a press conference question of whether Castro was indeed a Red by saying such charges "are not always easy to prove." He hastily added that the U.S. itself had made such charges against Castro.

This appeared to be an odd way of making friends and influencing people. The U.S. in fact may be missing the boat in the Caribbean area where a stage of unrest is growing and where the Communists may be chucking with glee.

There is a great deal of state department opinion that Castro is not a Communist, though there are doubts about his brother Raul. There also is a view that Castro is in some ways immature, idealistic and emotional and on his coattails.

Castro at one time accused the U.S. of aiding his predecessor, dictator Fulgencio Batista. He has in fact expressed hatred of all dictators.

Cubans have been involved in some peculiar and ill-fated invasions in Panama, Dominican Republic and Nicaragua. The U.S. has given its support to the calling of a conference of all Latin America foreign ministers in efforts to ease the unrest.

But among American state authorities there are some deep questions as to whether such a conference will resolve anything in some quarters there is a state of apathy, a wishy-washy feeling that perhaps the whole thing will resolve itself given time.

That same evening they will attend the performance of "As You Like It," the Shakespearean comedy directed by Peter Wood with Irene Worth as Rosalind, William Sylvester as Orlando, and Douglas Campbell as Touchstone.

On Thursday morning they will assemble in the theatre auditor-

Cement Cargo To Be Shipped

Another cargo of cement is being loaded in Corner Brook, Newfoundland and normally should arrive in Charlottetown about the middle of next week, according to J.A. Clark of Provincial Portland Cement, Summerside.

Mr. Clark who strongly criticized the longshoremen policy of Charlottetown longshoremen earlier this week said he did not wish to discriminate against the port of Charlottetown and was acting in good faith that the next cargo would be handled to the satisfaction of all concerned.
