EXECUTES HIMSELF

REINISHAW, Eng. (Reuters)—William Roberts, a 67-year-old laborer, killed himself in a home-made electric chair, an inquest was told Friday. The jury returned a verdict of suicide.

Inkeepers Plan Change In Name Of Association

In connection with the proposal to change the name of their association to the "Prince Edward Island Tourist Association," a committee from the P.E.I. Inkeepers Association under Gordon Shaw recently waited on Premier A.W. Matheson and members of the Government.

The committee reported progress and further and further plans were laid in regard to same. F.A. Large, Q.C. was named to look after necessary legislative regulations involved in such a change.

An announcement to this effect was made at the meeting of the Directors of the P.E.I. Inkeepers Association held Wednesday afternoon in the Blue Room at the Old Spain Restaurant.

Further discussion took place regarding the widening of Association membership to include Associate members and it was reported that our leading business firms catering to the Tourist Trade were most interested.

Mrs. Wallace Rodd and Mrs. Doris Campbell reported on the Inkeepers Island Accommodations Map Project and further progress was made in this connection.

The committee for securing Roadside Tables likewise reported progress and it was noted with pleasure the recent action

Tomorrow To Be Marked As Y. M. C. A. Sunday In Ch'town

Sunday is designated as Y. M. C. A. Sunday in the Protestant churches of Charlottetown and churches which use weekly bulletins are making use of a very special and attractive one supplied by the "Y".

It is fitting that the churches should cooperate in this way, because the "Y" is considered an "arm of the Church" and actually had its beginning with a Sunday School Class, when George Williams a young clerk of London, Eng. gathered together a group of young men of his own age and taught them the Bible each Sunday.

This was enlarged to include mid-week activities which finally became the great Y. M. C. A. as we know it today and which is aptly described as, "a fellowship of young people seeking to develop personality in accord with character ideals based upon the New Testament, particularly on the personality of Jesus Christ."

In our churches young people learn of the glory of God, and ageless wisdom and beauty of the Bible and the Y. M. C. A. in with the Church, helps these young people translate these lessons into vigorous, healthy lives-rich in ethical value, moral conduct and strong Christian faith.

Climaxing Y. M. C. A. Sunday will be the impressive induction ceremony in Trinity United Church when 125 teenagers will be inducted into the Hi-Y Club of the "Y".

Those fortunate enough to attend this service will be further impressed with the religious nature of the "Y" movement when hundreds of young people will take part in a service of consecration and worship.

JOINING TALENTS

A few years ago all the honored Hillary and Tenzing who were the first men to reach the summit of Mt. Everest. We must not forget, however that it took the help of many others to enable these two to reach that goal.

They were all the men who assembled supplies, carried the heavy loads and established the camps. Two men reached the top, but it took hundreds of men to put them there. And so it is that many Christian agencies are indebted to the British and Foreign Bible Society - and one of these is the great Y.M.C.A. which is being especially recognized this week in Charlottetown.

In its worldwide work with youth it is part of a great team of Christians engaged in extending Christ's kingdom on earth. As Christians we cannot hope to accomplish great things unless we first learn to join our talents together in God's service. We play an important part on a great team when we support the Bible Society.

"CHARACTER"

Character is destiny. For deeds flow from character, and our deeds create our destiny. As mountain ranges form the backbone of continents, so Character forms the structure of life. There is more than goodness in Character. There is also wisdom and beauty. A life without Character is a life deformed and crippled. Religion becomes functional in character development if one can be persuaded to undertake the arduous daily task of self perfecting.

The troubles of life are in reality lessons in character training. If they are taken advantage of, they are more valuable to us than gold or diamonds.

The Wise Man searches every event, every happening in his life, every misfortune for some deep lesson of self-improvement. Once Man and Men see the grandeur of the destiny before them, life will never again seem cold or narrow, discouraging or uninspired.
