CNR Station Removal Is Town Council Topic

GEORGETOWN — Mayor A. Kennedy presided at a recent regular meeting of the Georgetown Town Council. A full slate of council members was in attendance. Presenting routine reports for the various committees were: finance by Coun. A. H. Stewart, public property, Frank Lavandier; police and lights, Patrick Murphy: fire engine, Spurgeon Walker; streets and sidewalks, Guy Hephill and sanitation, J. F. Johnson.

The council received written notification from the Canadian National Railways that the present station would be demolished. It is believed the intention of the railway is to utilize a building on CNR property, formerly used as living quarters for railway personnel, for a Station House.

In this regard CNR requested the council to grant approval for the placing of 100 feet of culvert on the street fronting this building and to do necessary grading and work to the area of the building.

The present east track in front of the station will be removed, up to a point just south of the west end of Richmond Street, leaving the western track as the approach to the railway wharf.

FIRE PROTECTION

The council gave approval for the paying of the amount owed for the wiring of the new fire hall and also for the re-wiring of the town hall.

An inspection of yards was made by two members of the council, accompanied by the policeman and seven parties were given one week to clean up their properties or face court action. It was reported to the council that a considerable number of residents in Georgetown Royalty and Burnt Point have paid the $5 per year which entitles them to fire protection by the Georgetown fire fighting equipment and that others had signified their intention to come under the plan.

Work has recently been completed on placing the town dump in good condition and the road leading to the dump has been graded.

All electric light and telephone poles in the town have been whitewashed and the council is to proceed to have the wells, of which there are quite a number, on various streets, filled with rock as they necessitate constant replacing of wooden tops and are a danger to children.

GARBAGE COLLECTION

The council received a request from a party interested in supplying weekly or fortnightly collection of garbage in the town. The council's decision on the matter was that if the party applying would contact the individual property owners and ascertain their wishes on the matter with the individual paying the collector the removal costs, that the council would protect the collector by by-law, as the garbage collector for the town.

Noted Island Athlete Dies After Long Illness

One of the greatest track and field athletes of Prince Edward Island's past died yesterday afternoon in the Prince Edward Island Hospital. Harry Harley, 78, had been in failing health for the past three years, but he had been active, up to that time and never lost his interest in the sports in which he excelled as a youth and was always ready to help others who were breaking in.

Mr. Harley is survived by his widow the former Emma Martin of Charlottetown, and the following sons and daughters: Robert, Wilfred, Mrs. Jack Durant, Mrs. Robert Stewart, all of Charlottetown; Mrs. John Pringle, Wimbledon, England; Frank, Marlon and Eileen of Charlottetown; Louis who resides in Moncton and Mahlon who is employed with the Globe and Mail newspaper in Toronto, Ontario.

Mr. Harley served for many years with the old P.E.I. Heavy Artillery Regiment, was a member of the Caledonia Club, and a member of the Charlottetown Fire Department for more than 20 years.

His best event was the one-half mile run where he could hold his own with the best in the Maritime Provinces, and took home many first places in strong competition. He was also an exceptionally good miler and competed with the best of his period in the pole vault. Mr. Harley also ran many distance races up to 10 miles in length.

He established a record of two minutes and eight seconds at the Charlottetown Exhibition track for the half-mile more than 40 years ago, and the record stands to the present time, as it withstood the assault of many good runners including the great Island Indian runner Barney Francis.

He was a member of the Charlottetown Fire Department's hook and ladder race and participated in many tournaments.

No Potato Plebiscite For 6 Weeks

It will be at least six weeks before the proposed plebiscite for potato-growers, concerning both a new potato marketing board and also the idea of one-desk selling, can be taken.

Operation of such a plebiscite "would be almost as complicated as a provincial election," said Agriculture Minister Andrew MacRae, yesterday.

He said that discussions with legal counsel are still taking place on the proposed wording of questions to be asked in the plebiscite.

To date there have been many requests for this type of vote to be taken in the industry. Any actual date has not yet been set.
