Robert Burns.

BY COL ROBERT G. INGERSOLL.

Though Scotland boasts of a thousand names
Of patriot, king and peer,
The noblest, grandest of them all
Was loved and cradled here.
Here lived the gentle peasant prince,
The loving cotter king,
Compared with whom the greatest lord
Is but a titled thing.
'Tis but a cot roofed in with straw,
A hovel made of clay;
One door shuts out the snow and storm,
One window greets the day,
And yet I stand within this room,
And hold all thrones in scorn;
For here beneath this lowly thatch
Love's sweetest bard was born.
Within this hallowed hut I feel
Like one who clasps a shrine,
When the glad lips at last have touched
The something deemed divine.
And here the world through the years—
As long as day returns—
The tribute of its love and tears
Will pay to Robert Burns.

A Harrowing Tale.

EXPERIENCE OF TWO SEAMEN RESCUED FROM A WRECK.

The tales of the sea are many and varied, but ons of the saddest ever published in a Halifax paper is that published in the Herald, to hand last evening. The steamer Grand Lake arrived from St. John's, Nfld., on Thursday, bringing among other passengers to the city two men named Hans Jaago and Hans Holte.

They were seamen of the Danish brigantine Lovisa, which left Porto Plata, West Indies, on the 14th of December, bound to Havre, France. Shortly after leaving port bad weather was experienced. On the fourth day out the seas washed over the vessel. The captain gave orders to get the boats in readiness.

The hurricane was followed by a calm, which was only of a few days' duration. Again the sea rose in mighty waves, and the vessel was tossed about like a cork. On the 1st of January another hurricane was encountered. There was no let up in the bad weather. The cargo shifted, and on the following day the vessel was on her beam ends. The crew crowded to the side of the vessel and held on to the rigging all day—the 4th of January. About midnight the foremast broke short off, causing the vessel to right. The waves were running very high, and the crew were obliged to take to the rigging of the mainmast. The weather was freezing cold. On the night of the 7th three of the crew could not hold on to the rigging any longer and dropped into the sea. The first to have his hands frozen was the mate, L. Petersen, and shortly after he disappeared beneath the waters. A Swedish sailor, Hilza Jochund, then succumbed, and was followed by the cook, Walter Rohdies.

The following day the captain died from exposure. His death grasp was so tight upon the rigging that the waves for a time were unable to wash the dead body off. The captain's name was J. P. Errickson. The day following the captain's death a colored man died and fell from the rigging, sinking immediately.

Jaago and Holte were now the only two remaining. They suffered great hardships. During the five days in the rigging, food or water could not be reached owing to the waves rushing over the decks. The day following the death of the colored man the weather moderated and the men came down from the rigging. To their horror the men found that the water cask had been swept away. Their thirst was terrible. On the following day there was a welcome rain storm and sufficient water was caught to last the men till rescued on the 16th January by the brigantine Kestrel. The provisions in the cabin were saturated with the salt water, but the men had no alternative but to eat the stuff, which added to the intensity of their thirst.

Known in Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Feb. 4.

Mrs. Ellen Brown, of Toronto, who was so marvellously cured of Bright's Disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills, is well-known in Hamilton, having been in the hospital here where the authorities, like those of the Toronto institutions pronounced her case incurable. People who knew her here are surprised to learn that she is cured, as they thought she was in the Home for Incurables in Toronto, and never expected to see her outside that place.

Indians on the Warpath.

FOUR WHITE MEN KILLED AND THE POLICE AND MILITARY DEFIED.

An Omaha special of the 5th is as follows: There is some excitement in local military circles over the prospects of the repetition of the Sioux campaign in South Dakota. Advices from Pine Ridge Agency, S D, indicate that serious trouble may be expected there.

The band of old Chief Two Strikes last night killed four white men and now defy the police and military authorities to arrest them. Details from the scene of the disturbances are meagre, because there is only one telegraph wire to the agency, and that is in poor working order as a result of the storm.

The killing took place at Humphrey's ranch, near the mouth of the White Clay Creek. Humphrey's ranch is about twenty miles north-northwest of Pine Ridge agency and fifteen miles directly west of the Wounded Knee battle ground. Two years ago there was considerable skirmishing in the neighborhood during the big uprising, and soldiers were stationed at the ranch for some time.

Two Strikes band was held together and has been vindictive of late, but the outbreak is a surprise.

Telegrams have been sent to the Indian agents at Pine Ridge and Rosebud making inquiries about the trouble, and at 6 30 tonight the following was received from Post Trader Finlay at Pine Ridge, it having been telephoned over to Rushville.

It was reported at the agency yesterday that white men had been killed by the Indians. The acting agent, Captain Brown, sent some policemen to investigate the matter. They report that they found three white men killed and one mortally wounded, who has since died, and he will be brought to the agency to-morrow. Three men were killed by Two Strikes, his two sons, and White Face Horse, full blood. Captain Brown has set out a detachment of twenty police to arrest the murderers. All the prominent chiefs—Young Man Afraid of His Horse, Red Cloud and others—condemn the killing, and say the guilty parties must be punished. Capt. Brown does not anticipate any further trouble. It is reliably reported that the police tried to arrest the guilty parties this afternoon and killed Two Strikes, his two sons and White Face Horse."

From the last news received it appears the Two Strikes band, numbering 100 of the most unruly Indians, had committed some depredations and left Rosebud for Pine Ridge, pursued by a band of cowboys. The cowboys overtook the Indians at White Clay Creek and were probably led into an ambush, as the whites alone suffered any fatalities. Had it been an open fight the cowboys, with their rifles and good mounts, would have been more than a match for the Indians, with their miscellaneous assortment of arms and half starved bronchos.

SNOW IN SAVANNAH.—A Portland, Me., lady, who is now in Savannah, Ga., writes to friends that though she went south to escape the winter, she has been shivering there as she never did at home. When the recent snowfall came, the first that many of the people had ever seen, it created a frolic all over the city. The people played with it like children and filled the streets, pelting each other with snowballs.

SCHOOL OF SCIENCE.—Sackville, N. B., has been selected as the site for the seventh session of the Summer School of Science, which is to be held during the first two weeks of July. The buildings of Mount Allison University have been placed at the disposal of the school, and will afford every facility for classroom work. The various features of the session will, as usual, be very interesting, and it is greatly to be desired that as many teachers as can possibly do so will make arrangements to visit Sackville during the session.

SOCIAL.—Last Monday evening a Social in aid of the Albion Lodge, I. O. G. T., at Albion Cross, was held at the residence of Daniel McLean, Esq. Although the night was very cold about one hundred people were present, and all evidently enjoyed themselves immensely. An entertainment was given by the members of the Lodge, which, with the performance on the piano by Miss Griffin, our efficient music teacher, added greatly to the pleasure of the evening. Great credit is due to the ladies who worked so hard to make the affair a success, Mr. McLean for his kindness in throwing open his house, and Mrs. McLean, who did all she could for the comfort of the guests. The proceeds amounted to about $30.

INSURANCE RATES.—According to a recent despatch, Halifax is this year doubling the expenditure of its fire department, and connecting the water supply with the city by an additional main pipe. While this is being done, scared by the recent fire in St. John's, Nfld, have entered into a combine to increase the premium rates at Halifax by fifty per cent. A committee of citizens have been looking into the situation, and report that $23,500,000 of risks are carried in Halifax upon which $175,000 premiums are annually paid, while during the last quarter of a century the average number of alarms sounded has been only forty-three per year. There have been only a dozen fires in that time with losses over $20,000, and the average annual loss during the whole period was only $15,000.

Since the interment of Mr. Blaine's body at Oak Hill cemetery, the vandals and curiosity seekers have turned out in such force that it has been necessary to place a guard at the grove in order to protect it and prevent its being stripped of the flowers placed upon it. Women are the chief offenders.

Among the Northwest's exhibits at the World's Fair will be a pillar of coal from a mine near Edmonton taken from a seam twenty feet thick. The pillar will be three feet in diameter and twenty feet high. The grain exhibit in sheaves will be decorated with wild chickens and other prairie game.
