THE NEWS OF THE DAY.

Carefully Collected by "The Examiner's" Reporters.

Miss Latewater, of doubtful age "Have you noticed this quaint necklace of mine, Miss Pepper? Papa had it made for me in Florence when I was a little child." "Indeed? Why, it is real antique, isn't it?"

An unusual advertisement appears in a Vienna newspaper:—"A respectable married couple, of whom the husband is no dancer, desires to make the acquaintance of an equally respectable couple where the wife is no dancer, in order to visit balls in company."

Mrs. Samuel Bell, residing on the Thorold road, near St. Catherine's, Ont., ran away on Sunday with a young man named Doyle. Mr. Bell had a few days previous received a sum of money from friends in Montreal to take him and his family to that city, which amount Mrs. Bell took with her. She is the mother of four children, all of whom she left behind.

The President of the French Republic has forwarded to the Department of Marine one gold medal and one silver; the first for the superintendent and the other for the keeper of the West End light at Sable Island, in recognition of the services to the shipwrecked crew of the steamer A. S. H., of St. Malo, on the 19th December. The medals will be forwarded.

The front door and porch, of the residence of Policeman George E. Corner, of Cleveland, Ohio, was shattered with dynamite a few nights ago. Corner last Tuesday night shot and killed a notorious burglar and thief, George Foster, whose pal sought this method of obtaining revenge. Corner was out and his wife and child were uninjured.

The total collections of inland revenue in the United States during the six months ending December 31st, 1885, were $68,549,000, an increase of $2,029,000 over the collections of the same period during the last fiscal year. The receipts during December, 1885, were $559,000 greater than the receipts during December, 1884.

Bismarck is equal to any emergency. His latest move is to make the sale of all intoxicating liquors a government monopoly. The details of the measure have not come to hand, but it is not proposed to interfere at present with the brewers, distillers further than to fix a price at which all the beer and spirits made will be taken over by the government. After that it will control the whole traffic and regulate the distribution and retail prices.

A Paris despatch of the 29th ult., says:—Two thousand striking employes at one of the iron works in Decazeville, department of Aveyron, attacked the house of the manager of the works. They broke open the door, seized the manager, threw him out of a window and trampled him to death. The strike grew out of the question of wages. The troops who arrived there restored order, but not until several rioters had been killed and a number wounded.

Silas Shaver, the bigamist, sentenced at Belleville, Ont., to the penitentiary for three years, was interviewed at the jail Friday morning by his Lindsay wife, Miss Walsh. The Ontario says that she fondly kissed the scoundrel through the bars, and promised to be faithful to him during his absence. She wept bitterly and in compliance with his wish gave him more funds. Their parting created quite a scene in the jail, the Lindsay bride bidding him an affectionate farewell. Shaver, it is said, has three wives.

Dennis Jackson, a farmer living at Pilot Grove, Mo., severely whipped his son, aged 14, for disobedience. At 4 a.m. the boy rose from his bed and got his father's shot gun, crept softly to his parents' room, placed the muzzle of the weapon against his father's side and fired. The father was not killed instantly, and attempted to get a pistol from under his pillow. The boy again fired at his father's head, killing him. His mother was in bed at the time, and was slightly wounded. Jackson is said to have been a rough man. The young murderer made no attempt to escape and was arrested.

In Vienna 323 persons committed suicide in the year 1885, 21 more than in 1884. Of these 271 were males, 52 females; the youngest was a boy of 12, the oldest a woman of 83 years. One hundred, including 7 women, hanged themselves, 75 men and 2 women shot themselves, 64 men and 12 women drowned themselves, 17 men and 17 women used poison, 12 men and 7 women jumped from a high place, etc. The largest number of suicides took place in January and June, the smallest in August. Insanity, alcohol, disease, offended pride, poverty, fear of punishment and dissatisfaction in love, were the principal causes.

Bank Statistics.

In December, 1874, the paid up capital of the Canadian banks was $66,309,225. In December, 1885, it was $61,763,280. In the meantime the circulation has increased from $23,257,718 to $32,363,993. The amount of specie held in 1874 was $6,879,372 against $6,710,059. Regarding specie there has been a steady decrease the past year. In December, 1884, the amount held was $7,469,757; in November, 1885, it had fallen to $6,759,471; in December, to the figures given above. Dominion notes, however, increase. The Banks held at the close of 1874, $8,544,431 of these notes; at the close of 1884, $11,007,629; at the close of 1885, $12,446,329, which was, however, $450,000 less than at the close of the previous month. The general statement of the banks is alleged to show a fair condition of business, the amount of overdue notes secured and unsecured having decreased about one-half since December of last year.

Davy Jones Filling His Locker.

A startling story comes from Morgan City, La., and is told by the third assistant keeper, Keech, of the ship shoal station lighthouse on the Gulf of Mexico. He says: "I was third, and Mr. Dunn was principal, keeper of the lighthouse. We had started the first and second assistant keepers up the Atchafalga bayou for provisions. They did not return, and five days later their boat was seen a short distance from the lighthouse with only one man aboard. I pulled out to her and found the man a stranger. I took him back to the lighthouse a prisoner, and we waited for our comrades to return. On the fourth night I was awakened by blows, and found the stranger giving it to me with a hatchet. I shouted and he drew a revolver and fired. Dunn, my comrade, was on watch above, and he came to my assistance, but was shot three times. The stranger rushed aloft to the watchroom, and we managed to barricade the door and to bind up each other's wounds. Next day we took our prisoner to Morgan City, and he is now in jail there. He gives his name as Davy Jones."

A Terrible Crime.

A horrible tragedy is reported to have occurred on the road between New Westminster and Port Moody, B. C. A man named Walker had squatted on some land, and recently he took L. Robson, his partner, Smith, and another man named Jones to the place, wishing to dispose of his site. They arrived at the ranche late in the afternoon, and after dark Walker picked up a double-barrelled shot gun, and said he was going to shoot a crow. One of the men remarked it was rather late to go shooting, when Walker said he might as well tell them his intentions—that he was going to cook their goose for them. He then shot Robson through the breast, killing him instantly. Jones attempted to take the gun away from the murderer, and received the contents of the second barrel in the leg, shattering his knee. Walker then made for Smith with a knife, but the latter succeeded in getting out of the cabin and escaped. Walker then lashed Jones to the body of Robson and fled. The wounded and dead men were found by constables who arrived a few hours later. The dead body of Walker was soon afterwards discovered. He is supposed to have killed himself.

Another Snow Slide.

Another snow slide horror is reported from the extreme south-western part of Colorado. Leonard Sutton, who has been at work in the Silver Lake basin in the La Plata mountains, reached Durango on the night of the 25th ult., with a frightful account of a slide which wrecked the cabin at the Daylight mine on the Tuesday before. While he was sitting in the cabin with Henry Thomas, his partner, and a fierce storm was raging outside, a slide from the mountain side suddenly struck the cabin and demolished it. Sutton says he was hurled some distance and buried 15 feet under the snow. He managed to dig himself out, and set about to find Thomas, who was buried about 10 feet deep. But the man's leg was broken, and he was otherwise so badly injured that he could not sit up. Thomas begged Sutton to kill him and thus put him out of misery. Sutton refused to kill him, and then Thomas begged him to leave at once and save himself. Believing Thomas would not live more than a few minutes, he finally consented to leave him to his fate. Before his departure, Thomas requested him to return in the spring and bury his body, and send his money and other property to his sister, Miss Hannah Thomas, who resides in New York.
