YANKEE BLAZE IS SET

At the draw for tonight's big free-for-all at the Charlottetown Driving Park, Emory "Cowboy" Bernard was a question mark about his 2:06-2 mile with Yankee Blaze, seen above, and how fast he thought the pacer could go. He remarked that if he had good track conditions and the rail it could be quite possible that the track record of 2:03-4 might go by the board. Well, tonight is the night and Yankee Blaze managed to come up with the rail. It should be interesting.

Giant's Gaylord Perry Reason For Teams Surge

By RON BERGMAN
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The most potent one-two pitching punch in the majors now belongs to San Francisco Giants because of the sudden development of Gaylord Perry.

At the start of the season, the list of reliable San Francisco starters began and ended with Juan Marichal, now 13-3.

But Perry has come back from a dismal last season, two injuries and the bullpen until he now owns an 11-1 mark with a 2.23 earned-run average. New York Mets beat him May 15.

Sandy Koufax of Los Angeles Dodgers has the best record in the majors so far. But his fellow holdout, Don Drysdale, who won 21 last year, is only 5-10.

This helps explain why the Giants are in first place in the National League and the Dodgers are not.

The Giants always figured Perry would be a standout performer, starting in 1958 when they gave him a reported bonus of $90,000.

The money looked ill spent last year when Perry posted an 8-12 mark with a 4.18 ERA and 21 homers surrendered in 195-2-3 innings. By August he was exiled to the bullpen.

This season, Perry has given up only one homer in 96-2-3 innings and it didn't hurt him. Batters have discovered they can't follow his hard slider and new sidearm deliveries.

BASEBALL

The managers and coaches of the three teams in the City baseball loop are as follows: The Sergeant's Mess Junior will have Ted Strain as business manager, Forbie Kennedy as manager and C.Y. MacDonald as coach. For the UCT Juniors Jack Kane will act as manager and Bill Weatherbe coach. The Charlottetown Legion entry in the league will have Carl MacQuaid as their manager and Barry Ellis will handle the coaching chores.

The league will have its official opening Tuesday evening as the Sergeant's Mess will take on the UCT aggregation. Plans for the official opening will be announced in Monday's Guardian.

Jansen, pitching coach Larry, worked with me the last two years on the hard slider," Perry said. "It finally came to me."

Another thing Perry has picked up this year is a limp and two bandaged feet. First, he severely sprained his left ankle in a slide on May 24 and had to go on the disabled list for 15 days, missing four starts.

Then, some calcium deposits started acting up on his right foot and he had to leave the team to get some injections of a drug last Monday in Scottsdale, Ariz.

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Bobby Cole, 18-year-old South African winner of the British amateur golf championship three weeks ago, has been authorized to play in the U.S. and Canadian championships in August by the South African Golf Union, Cole's father said Friday.

Cole has been exempted from qualifying in the two North American tournaments.

Golf Pros Gathering For British Tournney

By TOM REEDY
MURFIELD, Scotland (AP) — The cream of the world of professional golf assembled here Sunday to fight for one of the smallest cash prizes on the year's gold-laden schedule.

The reason: Winning it yields a bonanza.

One hundred and thirty golfers from a dozen countries plus the United Kingdom tee off Wednesday in quest of the 1966 British Open title.

The prize is only $4,900 but the winner qualifies for the $77,500 World Series of Golf in Akron, Ohio in September, made up of the United States and British Open champions, the Professional Golfers Association champion and the Masters' winner. He also collects advertising dividends hard to calculate. Tony Jema said his 1964 British Open crown was worth $100,000 to him.

The British Open returns to Muirfield for the first time since 1959.

have been constructed and the course, the Open field will face now is 6,887 yards long with a par of 36-35-71.

Peter Thomson of Australia defends the title he won for the fifth time last year at Birkdale. Nevertheless he is only a 12-to-2 shot to repeat.

A Briton has not won the Open since Max Faulkner did it in 1949.

The 7-to-2 favorite is Jack Nicklaus. Next come Arnold Palmer, twice British Open champion, at 4 to 1 and then Lema at 7 to 1. South African Gary Player, for all his great performances, is posted at 8 to 1.

Muirfield demands accuracy and finesse. Sluggers who hit the ball out of sight are not exactly sure to conquer the embarrassing hazards that Muirfield has acquired over a century.

The championship is played over 18 holes four days running from Wednesday through Saturday. The field of 130 consists of 45 players exempt from qualifying and the remainder who

This time Muirfield has thrown out a new challenge. The rough has been encouraged to grow to what a strayer would call outrageous proportions. There are some fairways where a tee shot has only 30 yards latitude.
