A NOTABLE CASE.

Interst in Commissioner Worden's Case is Intense and Widespread.

Mr. Worden Suffered for Two or Five Years—Doctors and Surgical Operations Failed to Help Him But Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

MAUGERVILLE, N. B., July 22.—The word of a man who, by his own unaided efforts, has risen to the highest position in the gift of his fellow-citizens, always carries weight with those who know him.

It is natural, therefore, that when George J. Worden, Esq., Commissioner of the Civil Court at Wickham, tells the people that Dodd's Kidney Pills saved his life, the people know that the statement is absolutely true.

Thousands of people—yes, tens of thousands—have read of Commissioner Worden's case. Tens of thousands have read his statement that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him of Kidney Disease, after he had suffered indescribable agony for twenty-five years, and after several doctors had exhausted their skill, but had failed to help him.

Was it not a bad case of Kidney Disease that had existed for twenty-five years? Think what the result of having deadly poison in the blood for that time must be.

If Mr. Worden had not been a naturally strong, sturdy, robust man he would have died years ago.

Several surgical operations were performed on him, but they too were fruitless. There seemed no hope for him.

Provisionally he heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and tried them.

That day his cure began.

If Dodd's Kidney Pills cured such an unusually stubborn and long-standing case as this, they will positively cure cases that are less severe.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are sold by druggists at fifty cents a box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent, on receipt of price, by the Dodd's Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The Man That Knows.

"There are some men," said Mr. Staybolt, "that always know about things. They have a power of judgment that amounts to genius. They discern the truth unerringly. They know what is right and what is wrong in a question, and they know it at the outset without waiting for the event. They range themselves not with confidence, but with knowledge, and however the clouds may lower they are not disturbed. Indeed they rather like the storm, for they know when the end will be."

"They are more powerful than other men because they are unhampered by doubts. They don't doubt, they know, and men follow them, as they always will. Everybody admires a man that knows and is sure about it."

Killed His Sentiment.

A newspaper correspondent at the battle of Atbara tells a good story about a couple of Scotchmen. He was walking softly about the camp so as not to disturb the sleepers on the night before the fight when he overheard a sentimental Seaforth Highlander say to a comrade:

"Ah, Tam, how many thousands there are at hame across the sea thinking o' us the night."

"Right, Sandy," replied his chum, "and how many millions there are that don't care a d—n. Go to sleep, you fool."

And silence fell upon that corner of the square.

Proof of It.

"I suppose Saxe and Slims are both truthful men?"

"Absolutely so. Neither of them is capable of making a misstatement of fact. Why?"

"Oh, I just heard them calling each other liars."—Detroit Free Press.

The Blue Hole of Kentucky.

One of the places in our neighborhood which is shunned alike by saint and sinner is the old spring near our town, in Logan county, known as the Blue hole. Though legendary, the story I shall relate of this spring is true, for it has been corroborated by the former generation, by the older men of the present century.

According to this story, when the Shaker village at South Union was first established by a few venturesome though hardy pioneers, a member of the sect was dispatched on horseback to put the money in a safe in the county capital.

When the treasure bearer reached the spring, he rode his horse in to give it water, but rider and animal were swallowed up, never to rise again. It is said that the Shaker's friends used as much as 500 feet of rope in an attempt to recover the body and coin, but never struck bottom. I myself have heard old men say they have tried to find the bottom of the spring by using hundreds of feet of cord and a lead sinker, but without success.

Gratitude in Women.

Are feelings of gratitude absent in women? That clever gentleman who does the Private Diary in The Cornhill Magazine is not quite satisfied upon the subject. This is his way of putting it: "As gratitude depends upon imagination, it may well be that women, having less imagination than men, are less grateful. The doctor told me 'intermittent heart' is a not uncommon female ailment." To sugar the pill, however, the diarist says: "In defense of the maligned sex I should like to record a case of gratitude in a woman that left me a little mournful. I had sent Charlotte a book for her birthday last autumn, and at breakfast today she said, 'Oh, thank you for that delightful book you sent me!' 'Oh,' I said, 'what was it?' 'Dear me,' said Charlotte, 'I have quite forgotten.'"

A Novelty in Bells.

Herr Appunn of Hanau has invented a bell of a new shape, which is said to have a very deep tone and to be as powerful as considerably heavier bells of the form at present in vogue. The shape is peculiar, being hemispherical, while the metal is uniform in thickness except near the "sound bow" (or the thickened tip which the clapper strikes) from the edge to some little distance above the sound bow the metal is very thick, and then alters suddenly to the uniform thickness which it has for the rest of the bell.—Invention.

The Art of Talking Back.

"I hardly know how to answer you," said she when the widower proposed. "I would not let that worry me," said he soothingly. "That is something a woman learns perfectly soon after marriage."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Perfectly Cured

Weak and Low Spirited—Nervous Prostration—Appetite Poor and Could Not Rest.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla to others. It has been the means of restoring my wife to good health. She was stricken down with an attack of nervous prostration. She suffered with headaches and her nerves were under severe strain. She became very low spirited and so weak she could only do a little work without resting. Her appetite was poor, and being so weak she could not get the proper rest at night. She decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, as we had heard it highly praised, and I am glad to state that Hood's Sarsaparilla has perfectly cured all her ailments." G. BELLAMY, 321 Hannah St., West, Hamilton, Ontario.

A Curious Fact. It is really remarkable the number of cheap plated watch cases that are made and sold these days—cases that will wear anywhere from six weeks to three years, and most of them containing a guarantee warranting them to wear for 20 years. A good filled case, one that will wear for 20 years, costs within a dollar of what it did seven years ago. That dollar represents the reduced cost of making—the gold costs just the same. I sell gold filled cases, cases that have stood the test of years, and personally guarantee every case that I sell in addition to the manufacturers warrant. I have some of the latest and most desirable patterns in stock, also silver. Any make of movement you want. E. W. TAYLOR
