THE MARKETS

CHEESE—The Montreal market continues to be quiet, the prices being—

Finest Ontario Septembers.....8 1/2 to 8 3/4
Finest Ontario Octobers.....8 1/2 to 8 3/4
Finest Pownships.....8 1/2 to 8 3/4
Finest Quebec Octobers.....7 1/2 to 7 3/4

ANDREW CLEMENT & SON, MANCHESTER, under date of 13th November, discuss the situation, as follows:—The season now drawing to a close in Canada has been a most remarkable one. The make of cheese during May, June and July has been the largest on record, and yet during that period, and until the beginning of September, prices kept steadily advancing. The make during August, September and October has not been so much above an average as the quantity is the finest we have seen for many years, and yet we have had a steady decline in prices. At first sight the explanation would seem to be that the trade was blocked with summer goods. But that is not the case, as the stock of this class of goods in importers' hands is lighter than we have known it for many years. The consumption has been very large, and will likely continue so, as the trade is now practically assured of a 6d retail cut right through the season, although it is just possible that the margin of profit, if any, may be a very small one. In our opinion, Canadian September made cheese at present prices are good value, and leave a fair working profit to the retailer, even at 6d per lb.

BUTTER—The butter market continues dull in Montreal and is confined to the jobbing trade. The weather in England has been soft and unfavorable for consumption, but to counterbalance the unsatisfactory condition, their seems a prospect of settling the engineers' dispute and averting the cotton strike, thus removing two great obstacles to better markets in the United Kingdom.

Finest creamery.....18 to 18 1/2
Secunde.....17 1/2 to 17 3/4
Dairy butter.....16 to 16 1/2

PORK—Montreal advices report a quiet and changeless condition. Canadian pork quoted at $16 to $16 per pound; hams 11c to 13c, bacon, 10c to 12c per lb. In St. John, P. E. Island mess is quoted at $13.50 per bbl., and prime mess at $9.50 to $10.00.

The Chicago provision market is reported weaker, and prices for pork declined 7 1/2c to 2 1/2c, closing $7.20 November; $7.26 December; $8.17 January; $8.42 1/2 May.

Messrs. Rattenbury are offering 4 1/2 cts. per pound for the best quality of live hogs, a great many of which have been delivered, though their factory is not yet quite ready for killing operations.

Do You Use It?

It's the best thing for the hair under all circumstances. Just as no man by taking thought can add an inch to his stature, so no preparation can make hair. The utmost that can be done is to promote conditions favorable to growth. This is done by Ayer's Hair Vigor. It removes dandruff, cleanses the scalp, nourishes the soil in which the hair grows, and, just as a desert will blossom under rain, so bald heads grow hair, when the roots are nourished. But the roots must be there. If you wish your hair to retain its normal color, or if you wish to restore the lost tint of gray or faded hair use

Ayer's Hair Vigor.

Oats—The price of oats in this city ranges from 27c to 28c per bushel, as to quality. St. John quotations [Ontario] car lots 33c and 34c.

Potatoes—The colder weather has stopped the movement of potatoes though better demand is reported in Nova Scotia.

Eggs—The price of eggs in this city is thirteen cents per dozen.

THE NEWS IN SHORT METRE.

Elaborate preparations are being made for Dr. Nansen's next expedition in quest of the North Pole.

Nearly all the business portion of the village of Iverton, Ont., was destroyed by fire a few days ago.

The new recitation hall which John D. Rockefeller has just built for Vassar College at a cost of $100,000, was dedicated at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., last week.

St. Paul will commemorate the 20th anniversary of its reopening after Sir Christopher Wren had rebuilt the edifice on December 2nd, with a great Masonic service.

Quebec is to be congratulated on its excellent sanitary condition. Since 1891, its death rate has fallen from 43 to 25 per 1,000 of its population. Montreal's death rate is 27 per 1,000.

Mrs. A. M. Dorn, a young married woman of Selma, Cal., met death in a strange manner. She was laughing so heartily that a paroxysm of coughing was caused, which ruptured a blood vessel and caused instant death.

The Director of the Christian Brothers in Montreal has given instructions that the members of the order are not to teach night schools in Hull, as he considers they are already working enough in attending to their day duties.

A London water-color painter, who ordered soda water at a bar and was hit in the eye by the cork when the barmaid opened the bottle, has recovered $1,500 damages from the proprietor of the restaurant, though no structural injury was done to the eye.

The arrangement for the extension of the Intercolonial Railway into Montreal over the lines of the Drummond County road are now completed, and the service is expected to commence the first of December.

John Joverton, aged 100 years and 1 month, was married at St. Joseph, Mo., a few days ago to Mrs. Mary Henderson, who is 77 years old. This is believed to be the record breaker for marriages of old persons. Both bride and groom are in excellent health.

For an hour and a quarter a mine engineer near Bourne, Ore., was whirled around with the flywheel into which he had fallen, but when he recovered consciousness, after the wheel was stopped, it was found that he was not seriously hurt. The wheel was a 20 foot one, and was making 125 revolutions a minute.

Oscar Gowing, a wealthy manufacturer of shirts, committed suicide in Boston last week by hanging himself to a bed post with a towel. Mr. Gowing was about sixty-three years of age. He left a letter in which he asked that his body be cremated and his ashes be distributed "to the winds and to nature."

The football players ought to be proud of the tribute which pugilist Corbett pays to their courage and endurance. Mr. Corbett says that he is not afraid to meet the best man that ever stepped into a prize ring. But all the king's horses and all the king's men could not drive him into a football team. "I have not much regard for my limbs," he says. "I could not afford to take chances."

Sir William Harcourt in a recent speech described Mr. Chamberlain as a man "lacking in good breeding." Mr. Chamberlain in reply compares Sir William to the statesman of whom Mr. Lecky has written: "Lord Thurlow, though he had a strong natural bias towards harsh and despotic measures, seems to have taken his politics much as he took his brief, and he had that air of cynical, brutal, and almost reckless candour which is sometimes the best veil of a time-serving and highly calculating nature."

SOME ONE MIGHT HEAR.

I breathed my vows one evening
Unto my love so fair.
Her tresses brushed my forehead
As I leaned above her chair.
I saw her burning blushes
As I whispered in her ear.
But, oh, she would not answer!
Said she, "Some one might hear!"

I grasped her hand and pressed it
All fondly in mine own.
And told her that her image
Was set on memory's throne.
I vowed I loved her truly,
That she to me was dear,
But, oh, no answer got I
Save she feared "some one might hear!"

I scouted at her caution.
My breath did fan her cheek.
I implored in fervent language
That she to me would speak.
I saw her with emotion
Wipe from her eye a tear,
Yet still she softly murmured,
"Suppose some one should hear!"

My hopes began to vanish.
My tears commenced to flow,
And to hide from her my weakness
I turned away to go.
When I heard a trembling whisper
Fall softly on my ear,
"Oh, yes, I fondly love you,
And I care not who may hear!"
—Finley Johnson in New York Ledger.

Scared.

"Have you caught that murderer yet?"
"No," replied the detective. "We haven't caught him, but we've got him so scared he doesn't dare show himself when we're around."—Washington Star.

HOW TO ESCAPE COLDS.

Not by Coddling, but by Becoming Able to Endure Necessary Exposure.

It is not always sufficient to point out a danger. It is often of even greater importance to show how the danger may be averted. Most people properly recognize a cold as avoidable and think they are greatly to be commended for the prudence they exercise in protecting themselves, but if they did but know it they are really doing all they can to make themselves susceptible to colds by weakening their resisting powers.

A German professor once wrote a long treatise, with a learned title, on how to avoid catching cold. After tracing the history of colds from the earliest ages, studying their causes and symptoms and cataloguing the remedies which have been used by the most eminent physicians of all times he concluded with a short chapter on prevention.

His plan was to inure the back of the neck to drafts by having some one direct a current of air upon it from a bellows three times a day.

The writer had the correct idea, although his practical application was clumsy and he was a long time in reaching it. The best and only way to escape colds is to meet the causes that produce them and not to run from them.

Let the body be hardened by a cold sponge bath or even a cold plunge, followed by brisk rubbing with a "scratchy" towel, every morning. Let the clothing be adapted to the season, though always as light as possible, but keep the neck uncovered—no turned up collar, no muffler, no boa. Never let the temperature in the house rise above 70 degrees in the winter. Air every room systematically every day, no matter what the outdoor temperature may be. Always have fresh air in the bedroom. There is nothing poisonous in "night air," popular belief to the contrary notwithstanding.

In a word, don't be always afraid of catching cold, don't coddle, but meet cold and wet and changes of temperature like a man, or rather like a horse, and you will then run a better chance of being as strong as a horse.

Of course you must strengthen your armor where it is weak, but if you recognize in yourself a weak place, a "cold spot," don't cover it up with more clothes, but toughen it and toughen your entire body until it is one homogeneous resistant whole.—Youth's Companion.

The Cooking of Game Birds.

Most game birds and animals, because of a life of ceaseless activity, do not take on fat, and such should be larded or cooked with slices of bacon or salt pork placed on them. Do not serve birds with heads on and undrawn, as is quite generally practiced, the latter point being a relic of savagery, the former an offense to sensitive nerves. It is pleasanter to enjoy a bit of choice flesh without being so forcibly reminded that we are eating dead birds. This is not the only instance where realism is inartistic.—Woman's Home Companion.

MESSAGE TO MEN

Proving that True Honesty and True Philanthropy still Exist

If any man who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell, and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-beings to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c silver to cover postage and address Mr. G. Strong, North Rock and, Mich. 135 p.w.
