The Oddfellows' Entertainment.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir, In your issue of Saturday evening, a letter signed "Argus" is noticeable for its extreme want of courtesy. The author, in a mean and contemptible manner, endeavours to damage the respectability of several young people who attended the Oddfellows' Concert. Very judiciously, he refrains from mentioning names, lest the consequences might be somewhat disagreeable to him; but, by the most disingenuous allusions, he is careful to make clear to everybody whom he means. A more unmanly course "Argus" could not have taken. Insinuations and innuendoes have ever been the weapons employed by cowards, among whom the lynx-eyed individual is worthy of no inferior position.

Yours, &c.,
BACKSLAP.

Bank of Prince Edward Island.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—Exciting times such as the present are not specially favorable for a satisfactory settlement of this much vexed question.
Political affairs are of far less importance than the resumption of business at the Old Bank. The Committee appointed at the last meeting have promptly issued circulars to the numerous creditors. An opinion is current to the effect that cold blanketing is indulged in by a portion of the Committee. It appears strange that anyone would accept such an important position whose sympathies were not in accord with the resolutions submitted. An apathetic individual seeking to convince any depositor as to the feasibility of the scheme proposed would not prove a very valuable acquisition. One thing is very certain, all the creditors are required to relate thirty per cent. of their claims, or the Bank must go into liquidation and bankruptcy. It has been shown that the business of the concern might not be wound up for thirteen years, at the end of which time the unfortunate creditors would be compelled to accept the merest trifle. It is, therefore, in the interest of all that the suggestion offered in the resolution be promptly accepted. Any one creditor who refuses to comply must know that he not only injures himself, but is instrumental in impoverishing all depositors. If the certificates issued be readily signed, resumption will follow. If through any cause the signature of the creditor is withheld, liquidation, and all the evils connected therewith, must ensue. It is to be hoped that this great disaster will be averted.

Answer to C. G., Lot 30.

To the Editor of the Examiner.

Sir,—C. G., who professes to come from Lot 30, in the last issue of the New Era, has made an attempt to bring some charges against the Hon. William Campbell. Now I have not the slightest doubt Mr. Campbell will be able satisfactorily to explain, not only in this matter, but also as regards the duties of his office. Mr. Campbell has since his appointment to office, worked night and day for the good of his country, and has a record above suspicion. The same cannot be said of his predecessor, W.
D. Stewart, the man who is now soliciting the votes of the electors of the First District of Queen's County, who spent most of his time, during the summer months, driving through the country with a pair of horses and a handsomely cushioned buggy, sporting white kid gloves; and his office, which he was paid for handsomely to attend to, was neglected. Mr. Campbell never allowed a mechanic to certify his own accounts to the tune of hundreds of dollars. Mr. W. D. Stewart did.
In 1878, Mr. Campbell voted for the measure which C. G. writes about, and the Davies Government, of which Mr.
Stewart was a member, used their influence to brook the Bill by having it reserved for the Governor General's assent.

Yours,
A LOVER OF TRUTH.

Public Meeting at Stanhope.

To the Editor of the Examiner.
Sir,—On Thursday evening, the 27th April, pursuant to notice, a public meeting was held in Stanhope School House for the purpose of nominating candidates for the approaching election. At about 7.30 p. m.
Mr. William Shaw was, by unanimous vote, put in the chair; and, in a few remarks, stated the object of the meeting. He then called on Mr. John C. Leitch. Mr.
Leitch made a short, but, from his standpoint, vigorous speech, in which the policy of the Sullivan Government was overhauled and found fault with; but did not say a great deal about the question at issue.

Mr. P. P. Campbell, of Tracadie, then followed; and, in a sensible and vigorous style, defended the policy of the Government, and showed that every pledge made by Mr. Sullivan at the last election had been fulfilled, even to the repeal of the Assessment Act.

After some other speeches had been made on both sides, in which the speakers at times waxed warm, L. McMillan, Esq., entered the School, and being called on, replied to the supporters of the Opposition, defending the policy of the Government and his own line of conduct during the last four years.

George Alexander, Esq., replied, and appeared rather surprised at the speech of Mr. McMillan, and said that he would support the Opposition candidates. After some hot discussion, Mr. McMillan moved, and Mr. James Carr seconded, that a division of the house be taken. Carried.

The division being taken, 26 voted in favor of Ferguson and Egan, and 17 in favor of Beer.

After three hearty cheers being given for Ferguson and Egan, the meeting broke up at 11 o'clock, p. m.

It was rather surprising to me, Mr.
Editor, that when the Government supporters desired to divide the meeting, as between the Government and the Opposition, or as between the candidates Ferguson and Egan, and Beer and McDonald, their opponents would not agree to anything of the kind; and, during the whole meeting said never a word about their other poor man McDonald, and appeared rather ashamed of him.

Summerside Notes.

Friday's storm was one of the wildest we have experienced this year in consequence of which we have had no Colonial mail since Thursday.

This is nomination day, and a number of country people are in town. The general impression here is that Hon. John Lefurgy and Dr. Gillis will be returned with little difficulty. There is a report in Summerside that the aesthetic editor of the "Journal" made a speech at a political meeting in Charlottetown on Thursday evening, and that he referred to Hon. Mr.
Lefurgy as one of the candidates certain of success. He told the truth for once; but how will the Grits like such a statement?

There was quite a fiasco at the Clifton House here on Saturday morning. It appears that a young gentleman from Tyne Valley became enamored with a young lady belonging to Port Hill, and the love was so deep on both sides that an elopement was arranged while papa was absent. The young couple started on Friday, and arrived in the evening at the Clifton House preparatory to getting married the next morning, but the young lady's mother having missed her daughter, and becoming anxious, drove from Port Hill, arriving at Summerside about two o'clock on Saturday morning. It is needless to record what followed—the marriage was prohibited, and the girl returned home with her mother to Port Hill, while the young man went off to his business at Tyne Valley, finally resolved to ask papa's leave for the hand of his daughter, on his return home. It is but fair to say that the young gallant behaved himself in the most honorable manner throughout.

Two Notorious Burglars and Ruffians on the Rounds.

In 1879 two men named Riley and Troy were sent from Charlottetown, P. E. I., to Penitentiary, subsequently being removed to Kingston under the charge of Mr.
Foster, of the Dorchester Penitentiary. At the expiration of their time (two years) on their way from Kingston they were arrested by the Railway Detective at Point Levis, for being drunk and creating a disturbance at the station. On being searched a quantity of skeleton keys and pick locks were found in their possession; also two tickets for Pictou. They were released after undergoing a short imprisonment, and continued their journey to Pictou. These facts were communicated to the police authorities at Pictou, St. John, and Halifax, by the Railway Detective.

These men are known to most of us in Fredericton the time the post office was burglarized; also in Truro the time the Post Office at that place was robbed. They are also suspected of being the parties who stole a horse from a farmer a few miles out of Moncton. About four weeks ago they were recognized by Detective Skiffington, of the I. C. R., in an hotel opposite the station in Truro. The Detective sent a telegram to Stipendiary Wornham at Moncton to try and get a definite charge against them, but not getting a reply, and having other business to attend to, he left. The following night a place was robbed in Truro. On Sunday night last a place was entered in Apohaqui and a quantity of goods to the value of $300 to $400 stolen.
These same men were known to be in that place during the day.

Riley and Troy travelled together under the pretence of being peddlers, selling cutlery, knives and forks, etc. As such are known to hotel keepers, livery stable keepers, etc. Riley is the principal of the two and a desperate ruffian. Height: five feet eleven inches; light complexion; (looks very like a well known character called Sim Jim) dressed in a brown suit and hard felt hat; considerable of a talker. Troy small in size, about five feet seven inches; dark curly hair; dark complexion; dark suit of clothes; in the habit of borrowing horses to peddle through the country, and then selling the horse and when they turn a trick split up, one going one way and the other another, having previously agreed on a place of meeting.

[A mistake occurs in the above. Riley, who was sent to the penitentiary from this city, returned last fall, shipped in the brig Florence, belonging to R. F. Quirk, Esq., and was drowned on the passage to Liverpool.]

The temperance reform is making rapid strides in England. Last year the beer duty fell off to the extent of £220,000. In the year 1879-80 no less than 51 per cent. of the English revenue was raised from alcohol; last year only 43 per cent. was raised from that source. Sir Wilfred Lawton continues the fight with renewed courage.

It is reported on good authority that Prof. Burwash contemplates retiring from his position at Sackville to go regularly into the ministry. Also that the Prof's first circuit will be Charlottetown. Likewise that Prof. Goodwin, who took the Gilchrist scholarship, is to take the place of Prof. Burwash at Sackville.—St. John News.
