HOW TO TREAT A COLD.
Don't stuff a cold, as the old adage says, if you do you will have a fever to starch. A genuine cold is a shock received by the many surface nerves which approach near the surface of the human body, and which control the nearly seven million pores of the skin. This shock closes the pores of the skin, transmits to the nerve centre and back to the mucous membranes, forcing a great amount of blood to these membranes, creating more or less irritation and consequent fever, inflammation, dryness, then watery discharge and catarrh. The shock may have its cause from a chill, from improper eating, a nervous fright and various other causes which irritate the surface of the skin and the mucous membranes of the nose, throat and bronchial tubes. Excess of blood in the stomach still more clogs the system and pores of the skin, so that effluvia matter, which should be carried off by the natural courses is retained; which is ample reason for not stuffing a cold. Experimenting with a severe cold is a dangerous custom, as most persons try to remedy it with stimulants and suggests another "cold cure." When slight hoarseness or tightening of the nasal membranes warns one of a skin exposure or chill from whatever cause, act promptly, may mean crop and stragulations with adults, catarrh, bronchitis, perhaps pneumonia. Scores of mothers would as soon go to bed without matches in the house as without that old-fashioned remedy, "The Astringent Liniment near at hand for colds and croupy children. The proprietors, J. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send their new illustrated book entitled "Treatment for Diseases," free to any person for the asking.

"Ten will be clearer now on account of the China-Japan trouble," said the first "Well, it won't make any difference to us," said the second one, soothingly, "because we use English breakfast tea."—

A STEALTHY FOE.
Bright's Disease may Exist a Long While before it is Suspected.
Dioxonia, Jan. 14.—Bright's disease la-no symptoms of its own, and may long exist without the knowledge of the patient or practitioner, as no pain may be felt in the kidneys or their vicinity. The disease may not always be in the water and no tube-casts, yet Bright's disease may be present. It often develops suddenly and may run a fatal course before it is recognized. Bright's Disease is thus recognized as a mysterious and insidious foe, which is increasing at an alarming rate. Before Dodd's Kidney Pills were placed within reach of the public, these diseases were considered by medical men and the public to be incurable.
Thanks to this popular remedy, thousands are now enjoying perfect health who, without it, would to-day be laid away in their graves.

Hicks—Did you find some for him?
Mrs. Hicks—Yes, I washed two new suits of yours.
—With Invalids.
Yes! with invalids the appetite is capricious and needs coaxing, that is just the reason they improve so rapidly under Scott's Emulsion, which is as palatable as cream.

The Boston Mother—Do you believe in Santa Claus, Claudius?
Claudius—In my opinion, mamma, man, man, as an institution, mamma, not as an entity.
—Hands and ankles raw.
For years I have been a great sufferer from itchy skin trouble and salt rheum.
My hands and ankles were literally raw.
The first application of Dr. Chase's Ointment allayed the burning, itching sensation. One hour after a hot ointment, cured me.
It is also instant relief for chilblains,

Priestley's Dress Materials Every lady should be interested in the fact that the Priestley's Dress Materials are to be had from the better class of dealers throughout Canada. For beauty, texture and enduring quality, they are unequalled. Many factories as they are in pure wool, and in silk and wool interweaves, these goods have a soft richness which is a perfect delight to a lady's taste.
Priestley's goods are mostly in black, and in black and white.
A gown in Priestley's fabrics retains its style and beauty as long as there is anything of it left, hence they are the most economical for all classes.

See that the goods you buy are stamped "every five yards with "Priestley's name." No others are of their manufacture.

What is
CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil.
It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency.
Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.
"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
—D. G. C. O'Connell,
Lowell, Mass.

Castoria.
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any other known to me."
—H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merit of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

ROMANCE OF A BULLET.
It recalls the Eventful Days of the Siege of Paris.
This advertisement was printed in one of the newspapers recently:
"Last—On Friday evening, in 2d st., near 7th ave., a lady's gold watch and chain, with a bullet set in silver, a small glass cross and a medal; the finder will be rewarded at Priest's drugstore, 351 st. and 7th ave.
There is nothing remarkable about the watch, chain, cross or medal, but the bullet has a romance which the loser of the trinkets told to a Sun reporter. It begins away back in the time of the Franco-Prussian war. At that time the person in question was studying art in Paris. In her own words the romance of the bullet is as follows:
"When the siege of Paris began, I, like a number of other American women, were enough of us, I am proud to say, to maintain a hospital of our own. About the last of October or the first of November, 24 years ago, our ambulance drove up one day to the tent over which I had charge, and the illustrious handsome young Zouave got out of it. He had been shot in the calf of the leg. The surgeons immediately laid him upon the operating cot and began probing for the bullet. I was holding his head and trying to relieve his pain. When they finally cut the bullet out I took it, washed it, and, as is customary, handed it to the second man. With a cheerful smile he said:
"Won't you keep it, mademoiselle? As soon as I get well I can go out and get another."
"I thanked him, and promised that I would keep it and wear it. I had a silver bangle placed around it, with three little silver chains, so that I could wear it on my watch chain."—New York Sun.

AFTER DIVES HAS DINED
A Thrifty Freshwoman Collects Enough to Purchase a Boarding-House Table.
An illustration of keen French thrift, beside which yankee methods resemble almost oriental extravagance, is the catering done by a little French boarding-house keeper in New York. Evening Star.
She supplies small rooms and two meals a day to lodgers of modest means, who boast of her table. It is, indeed, quite socially superior, and literally from the kitchen of millions. A year ago it occurred to her, as she went to market in the early morning, that the garbage cans sent out from the arcades of fine houses betrayed a lamentable wastage of good food. She was visited by a great idea and acted upon it by the utmost discretion, and in her own several upstairs mansions. The result was that for a small consideration these cook-concocted to permit her the privilege of making what she selected also went from the plates and dishes returned to the kitchen from the mistress' table, after the cook had made certain reservations. Here was a wealth of material beyond the dream of any boarding-house gourmand. The little French woman rarely goes to the regular market, but once a day makes her round to the kitchen. She carries a large basket lined with zinc and divided into compartments, and a fork. Her selections from the plates and dishes are made with the utmost discretion, and in her own kitchen every scrap is turned to the most tempting and wonderful account. Her expenses have been greatly reduced, and her larder, looking forward to her meals with great anticipation.

Worry.
Worry is killing. It is bad management that kills people. Nature will let no man overwork himself unless he plays her false.
If he takes stimulants as irregularly as times, smokes much or takes opium, if he is irregular and obeys the laws of health and walks in the way of physiological inconvenience, he will not allow his or any person to work too hard. I have never yet seen a case of breaking down from overwork alone, but I admit that it is necessary at all times to cultivate tranquillity of mind.
Try to exercise your wills in regard to the things you will count for something in securing tranquillity—to accept things as they are and not to bother about yesterday, which is gone forever; not to bother about tomorrow, which is not ours; but to take the present day and make the best of it.
Those women who will continually peer into what lies beyond never have any present life at all—they are always grizzling over the past or peering into the future, and this blessed-day, which is all that we are sure of, they never have.—Sig Andrew Clark.

"Little" Japan.
Possibly it is because Japan is a per of the American public that she is so frequently spoken of as "little Japan." Among the nations of the earth Japan is not specially little either in area or population. The area of Japan, 147,655 square miles, is larger by 27,000 square miles than that of the United Kingdom. Furthermore, there are 41,000,000 people who are subject to the Mikado, against 38,000,000 in the United Kingdom, taking latest census reports in both cases. Japan's population is larger than Italy's by fully 10,000,000, while her area is 27,000 miles greater. No one speaks of Italy as "little Italy," although she is not so populous as Japan or the Chinese Empire on such a scale as the United States. That she is big enough to hold her own and more she has evinced in battle to the amazement of her great antagonists—

Christmas Carols.
The first Christmas carol, as Milton and Jeremy Taylor have said, was sung by the angels on the plains of Bethlehem. This custom has prevailed in most Christian countries and is perpetuated in England and on the continent. Calabrian minstrels still leave their melodious during the last days preceding Christmas for Naples or Rome, saluting with their wild music the shrines of the Virgin Mother, to cheer her until the birth-hour of the infant Jesus, now near at hand. The first Christmas carols were hymns in honor of the nativity.
They afterward assumed a more secular character, many of them being songs of revelry accompanying the festivities of the season.

Harpers Weekly
IN 1895
HARPER'S WEEKLY is a pictorial history of the times. It presents every important event promptly, accurately and exhaustively in illustration and descriptive text of the highest order.
The number in which, during 1894, it has treated the Chicago Railway Strikes and the China-Japanese War, and the amount of light it was able to throw on Korea the instant attention was directed to that little known country, are examples of its almost boundless resources. Julian Ralph, the distinguished writer and correspondent, has been sent to the seat of war, and there joined by C. D. Weldon, the well-known American artist, now for many years resident in Japan, who has been engaged to cooperate with Mr. Ralph in sending to HARPER'S WEEKLY exclusive information and illustration.

During 1895 every vital question will be discussed with vigor and without prejudice in the editorial columns. It is also in special articles by the highest authorities in each department. Portraits of the men and women who are making history, and powerful and caustic political cartoons, will also be published. "The Red Cockade," a stirring romance of olden days by Stanley J. Weyman, and a novel of New York, entitled "The Son of His Father," by Brander Matthews—several novelettes, and many short stories by popular writers.
Send for Illustrated Prospect.

The Volumes of the WEEKLY begin with the first number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order.
"Club Cases for each volume, suitable for binding, will be sent free of post-
