Ellen's Diary

"Yes — and it's nice to be so esteemed and well respected by the neighbours that they consider their leaving the farm as a distinct personal loss. That's the kind who find friends wherever they may go."

And the moon! Was there ever lovelier moon of May than that which shines now, a little sadly, we fancy upon this world of ever-change.

Until tomorrow — Good-night — Diary

Plants Grown On Fence Increase Garden Yield

Largest tomato crop for a given space is produced by pruned and supported plants.

To grow the largest crop of tomatoes from a given ground area, the plants should be pruned and staked. Each plant will bear less than a plant allowed to spread over the ground, but the area occupied will produce a larger crop.

A picket fence along the north, east, and west sides of a vegetable plot will enlarge the garden area perceptibly, making air rights available for growing not only tomatoes, but cucumbers, pole and pole lima beans, and other vine crops. The pickets allow air to pass freely through the foliage, and avoid mildew and fungus disease.

Market gardeners find that staked tomatoes give an earlier harvest. When pruned to a single stem the plants are set twelve inches apart, when pruned to two stems they are placed 21 inches apart, and tests have shown that the single stem planting gives earlier fruit and heavier total yield.

The tomato plant naturally starts with one central shoot or leader. As soon as the first blossoms have appeared, at each point made by a leaf with the stem, a branch begins to grow. If these are allowed to develop, the typical sprawling tomato bush will result.

To prune the plant, the side shoots or branches are removed before they are four inches long; if left to grow longer, the vigor of the plant is reduced. If the plant is to be pruned to two stems, the central stem and one side shoot are allowed to grow,

Favorite Fashion

Eye-catching was this fascinating formal modelled by Miss Doris Hillion. Of light blue nylon tulle, with pink flowers, it is waltz-length and features an over-shoulder strap and a full skirt over layers of crinoline. Pink dancing slippers matched the pink of this evening gown.

Phiat Fashions

Modelling an afternoon dress at the Summer Fashion Show, which was repeated again last night at the "Y", is Phiat member Dorothy Dewar. Shown in a dress of coral linen with inter-weaving thread, Miss Dewar chose as accessories white high-heeled sandals and white clip-on hat with matching purse and gloves.

CLINTON W. M. S.

Miss Vivian Woodside was hostess at the May meeting of the Clinton Auxiliary of the W. M. S. held on May 5th. The President occupied the chair and the devotional period was led by Mrs. Hillard Woodside. The worship service in the Missionary Monthly was used, supplemented by a reading by Miss Joyce Easter. Hymns sung were: "Take Time To Be Holy" and "Jesus Saves."

Roll call was responded by ten members repeating a verse containing "come." One visitor was present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The Treasurer gave her report and six sick calls, five treats, and four cards were reported to the Community Friendship Secretary for the month.

A letter from the Presbyterian Literature Secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Parker was read by Mrs. Bert MacKay. A receipt with thanks for the $2 sent to the Temperance Federation was received and a collection taken to defray this expense.

Mrs. Bruce Clark gave the program for the evening and used Chapter I of "The Church in India." She pointed out that India has an area of about 1/9 that of United States and Russia combined, and has a population of 361,000,000; 10,000,000 of these are Christians. They have a yearly increase of 5,000,000. One of their problems is procuring food for their millions and they have to import a great amount. Much of their irrigation program is carried on by funds received from the U. S. A. 80% of India is owned by people who never work the land. Five acres per cultivator is all that is allowed. Education is the responsibility of the state. They have 37 Universities and 650 colleges.

Mrs. Hillard Woodside was appointed secretary for the summer months. Meeting closed with prayer in union.

The hostess served a dainty lunch.

SEA VIEW W. I.

The regular meeting of the Sea View W. I. met at the home of Mrs. Lealand Campbell on May 3. Mrs. W. C. Donald, president, presided by opening the meeting with the Institute Ode followed by repeating the Creed in union. Thirteen members responded to roll call by naming a favorite cleaner.

Financial report was given and it was agreed that all bills be paid. Correspondence consisted of two thank you letters and a paper on Agriculture. Sick committee reported making two sick calls.

New committee were appointed as follows: sick, Mrs. Douglas Woodside, Mrs. Heber MacLellan, and Mrs. W. C. Donald; school, Mrs. Horace Stewart. After some discussion it was decided to purchase a piano for the hall and Mrs. Earle MacKay, Mrs. Lorne Campbell and Mrs. Douglas Woodside were appointed on a committee to see about same.

A brief discussion over having a play ensued, and it was decided to have the committee for the month make the arrangements. Mrs. Leighton Coulson gave some instructive suggestions about growing strawberries which it is hoped will encourage each member to start a patch for herself.

Mrs. Fred Donald conducted a "Car" contest. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Douglas Woodside and Mrs. John E. Campbell, served a delicious lunch. Collection was 85 cents. Meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

Opposes 8-Hour Day For Hospitals

OTTAWA (CP)—The eight-hour day, says Mayor Charlotte Whitton, has no place in Canada's hospitals. Welcoming to the capital the Canadian Hospital Association's 13th biennial meeting, she said: "You can't ask illness, accidents, death or disaster to work on an eight-hour basis."

She spoke sharply about the movement among nursing associations throughout the country to press for an eight-hour day. The profession had to be prepared to rise to situations as they occurred. "The men and women who dedicated themselves to the care of the sick today are not impelled by the motive of packaging up their services and marketing them."

YOUTH KILLED

S' Side Girl Becomes Bride In Calgary

Baskets of spring flowers adorned the altar to form an attractive setting in Tuxedo Park Church of Christ, Calgary, Alberta, recently, when Sarah June, daughter of Mr. Alexander Chappell and the late Mrs. Chappell of Summerside, P. E. I., became the bride of Mr. Elgin Louis Banting, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Banting of Macrorie, Sask. Mr. M. L. Breakenridge, principal of Alberta Bible College, officiated at the ceremony.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. M. L. Breakenridge. Mrs. Merle Zimmerman was soloist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was wearing a full-length white gown with bodice of satin overlaid with lace. The skirt was of net over satin. Her headpiece, a crown of rhinestones and pearls, held in place a beautiful chapel veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of Talisman roses.

The bride was attended by Miss Veda Stewart, formerly of P. E. I., a maid-of-honour and Miss Elsie Banting, Saskatoon, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid. They wore similar dresses of blue and yellow taffeta with net over-skirt and matching bolero. Each carried a bouquet of carnations in contrasting colors.

The groom was attended by Mr. George Tweedie of Macrorie, Sask. The ushers included Mr. Ronald Dakin of Edmonton and Mr. Robert Howell of Calgary.

Mrs. Annie Belle Houston, Bible College Dormitory Matron, and formerly of P. E. I., and the groom's mother chose navy dress complimented by white accessories and wore corsages of red roses.

A reception for approximately one hundred guests followed in the church hall which was tastefully decorated for the occasion in blue and yellow.

The bride's table was centred by a three-tier wedding cake and tall matched tapers. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. M. L. Breakenridge and was ably responded to by the groom. Soloist at the reception was Miss Eileen Case. The bride and groom served the guests personally with their wedding cake. The serviteurs were the bride's former classmates.

For going-away the bride donned a navy suit with white accessories and red rose corsage. The newlyweds will make their home on the groom's farm at Macrorie.

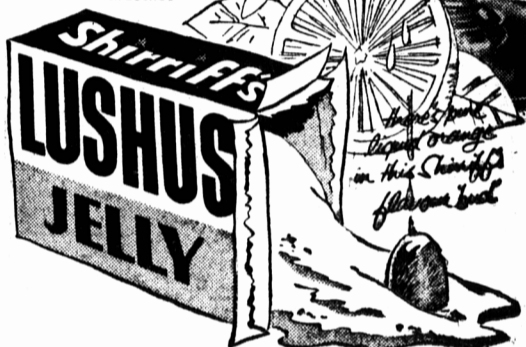

Guests, formerly from Prince Edward Island were: Mrs. Ronald Pelham (nee Joyce Linkletter), Mrs. Herbert Johnson, Miss Vera Ramsay, and Mr. Wallace Howlett.
