

Tea At Cocktail Parties Is Self-Preservation Measure

TREAL (CP) — Richard Ainley is nearing the end of a tea-drinking, toy-collecting, play-judging marathon.

He drinks tea for "self-preservation" at Canadian cocktail parties.

He collects toys for Choux and Peewee.

And he judges plays for the Dominion Drama Festival.

The British adjudicator, tall, charming, sandy-haired, sipped tea at a combination press conference and cocktail party Thursday night and confessed he was wearing a piffered yellow chrysanthemum.

PICKED IT UP

"The flower?" he said. "It's nice isn't it? I picked it up at the Chateau in Quebec. I was paying enough for my tea, so I thought I could take a flower."

This raised the business of tea-drinking. Mr. Ainley, 47, has spent the last three months touring Canada from coast to coast, judging plays and being the guest of honor at dozens of cocktail parties.

"It's self-preservation, I tell you," he explained. "It's my smoke-screen."

He said each town regards its festival as THE festival. But the adjudicator also has to consider every "ival as THE festival."

"Too many parties is just not my cup of tea."

Mr. Ainley will adjudicate four French-language productions at Montreal La Comedie Canadienne Theatre April 1-4 and then go to Kingston, Ont., for his final adjudicating task.

After that he heads for home aboard an "ocean" ship—"A plane won't carry all the toys I've collected."

His two children at home in London, Choux (David Morris, 7) and Peewee (John Henry, 3) will greet him at the ship and help carry the toys ashore.

OTTAWA (CP) — Three top scientists have been appointed for three-year terms to the National Research Council, it was announced Friday.

They are Dr. F. R. Hayes, 55-year-old fisheries expert who heads Dalhousie University's zoology department; Dr. A. D. Milner, 46-year-old physicist in charge of the physics department at University of Western Ontario; and Dr. John Urrah, 47-year-old expert on plant genetics and chief of the plant science department at University of Alberta.

The new NRC members fill vacancies created by the retirement of Dr. J. H. L. Johnston, head of Dalhousie's physics department and dean of graduate studies, and the deaths of Dr. R. S. Jans, president of Shawinigan Chemicals Limited, and Dr. R. B. Miller, zoology professor at University of Alberta.

Time to take a DODGE Count-down

demonstration drive!

10 And this Dodge Swivel Seat is the place to begin! Simple flick of a lever swings the new Swivel Seat out to meet you. Just sit down. Seat glides you into driver's position and locks automatically! Makes Dodge more graceful to enter... more graceful to get out of!

9 Check Interior Appointments. Rich new colours, luxurious new fabrics, tasteful trim combinations make your new Dodge interior as exciting to look at as it is easy to live with. And stylish new instrument panel puts controls right at your finger tips!

8 Adjust Outside Mirror (from inside)! Dodge pilots can adjust that outside rear-view mirror to their own angle of view, in seconds, without ever leaving the driver's seat! Dodge Remote-Control Mirror does the trick.

7 Check out Push-Button Drive. Just press a button on control panel... push-button automatic transmission goes into action. Dodge Push-Button drive is that easy!

6 Accelerate! Test Dodge "go"! Here's a car that idles like a precision watch, yet can move out like a wildcat! And it's yours with either the great new Econo-Flite Six or the big "313" V-8 engine.

5 Try Constant-Control power steering. But be prepared for a surprise. You won't find the time-lag common to ordinary part-time power units. With Dodge power steering, you're in finger-tip control... all the time!

4 Check out Torsion-AIRE Ride! And notice: Level corners, level stop, level get-away. And easy—oh, so easy—over bumps and ruts. (Torsion-AIRE is standard on every Dodge!)

3 Test Total-Contact brakes. They're safer, surer, easier. Reason: Unlike other brakes, the entire lining makes contact with drum, brings your Dodge to a smoother, quicker halt and promotes longer lining life.

2 Push-Button Ventilation and Heating. Still more push-button magic! One finger adjusts heating, defrosting, ventilation in the '59 Dodge. And what an improvement that is over those muscle-tugging levers some cars still have.

1 Note Dodge price tag. If you've looked at other cars you'll know what a bargain this Dodge is. Dodge gives you more car for less money than anything in its class this year!

BUY! The Dodge Count-Down Deal makes that Dodge price tag look even more exciting! The trade-in we'll offer on your present car promises to have you orbiting in the sweetest automobile on earth—a brand-new Dodge!
