

MR. AND MRS. ALDEN LEA BELL

Lovely Autumn Flowers Background For Wedding

Birch Hill Lodge, Summerside, was the setting for a pretty autumn wedding on Saturday, October 4, at 2 p.m. when Mary Arlene Bowness, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Campbell, Kensington, became the bride of Alden Lea Bell, son of Mr. Alton Bell and the late Mrs. Bell of Burlington. Rev. L.M. Murray officiated. During the ceremony, Mrs. Walter Moase, aunt of the groom, played "Praise My Soul the King of Heaven," "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" and "O. Perfect Love."

Baskets of Autumn flowers created a pretty setting for the bridal party. Miss Shirley Mann was bridesmaid and Mr. Lyman Moase, cousin of the groom, was best man. The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Sterling Bowness, was lovely in a floor length portrait gown of white nylon net, with lace panels over satin on the bouffant skirt. The fitted bodice, buttoned down the back and trimmed with seed pearls, had long sleeves coming to a point over the hands. Her finger tip veil of tulle illusion fell from a crown of lace, trimmed with seed pearls and sequins and she carried a cascade bouquet of red sweetheart roses. The bridesmaid was gowned in mauve nylon over taffeta, ballerina length, with matching hat and mitts. She carried a nosegay of yellow mums. Mrs. Campbell chose for her daughter's wedding, a street length dress of royal blue crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. After the ceremony a reception for seventy guests was held. The bride's table with its attractive arrangement of Autumn flowers and lighted tapers, was centred with a three-tier wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom. Miss Paulette Mutch was in charge of the guest book. For the honeymoon trip to New Brunswick, the bride changed to a brown wool suit with pink and brown accessories and a muskrat fur jacket. Her corsage was of pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Bell will reside at Geary, N.B. where the groom is attached to the Royal Canadian Army at Gagetown. Prior to her marriage the bride was in the employ of F.W. Ward and Sons, Summerside. Out of the province guests included Mr. and Mrs. Haven West, Moncton, N.B. and Mr. Judson MacLean, New Glasgow, N.S.

Reference Book Habit Is Educational Necessity

By Ruhamah S. Frank

Dr. Wilder Penfield in his lecture here last week, offered the intriguing suggestion that "Canada even with her existing resources and native stock could well create as well suited to intellectual growth as that of Classical Greece." No one who is not entirely familiar with the "existing resources and native stock" of both Canada — and "Classical Greece" — can take issue with the noted physician and it wasn't with any idea that I could acquire such information that I went to the library the following day. It was just that Dr. Penfield's brief outline of the "Glorious that were Greece" gave me the desire to refresh my fading knowledge of that period.

Reference books should be chosen as carefully as text books (should be selected) and their use should be taught in schools as carefully — even more carefully — than arithmetic — or reading. Though in the latter case a true love of reading often leads straight to the shelves where the reference books rest.

A SUNNY CORNER
I took the two volumes of the Encyclopedia Britannica dealing with Greece and Athens from their shelves to a sunny corner of the library and had a most delightful time. I anchored bits of information that had been floating around in my mind and came across provocative statements that I did not remember having read before. For instance I found that "payment for public service was introduced (in Athens) by Pericles (443-429 B.C.) and may have added to the greatness of Athens by attracting the best minds of Greece but created dangerous precedents and incurred the censure of notable Greek Thinkers."

Furthermore, it seems the payment for public service was "obtained at the expense of the Confederates which Athens exploited in a somewhat selfish and irregular manner." The cry of "Tyrant City" (Alas! Is this Athens, Symbol of Freedom?) roused public opinion in Greece against Athens and brought on the Peloponnesian War (431-404 B.C.) which ruined the Athenian Empire." (Later volumes than these of 1929 may cast a different light on this period.)

HOME AND SCHOOL
The above is just a preamble to the point I wish to make: that there can be no continuing education after school days or over, or the fullest advantage from school and college without an interest and pleasure in the use of reference books. And that the habit and desire of consulting

HAPPENINGS

Tonight is Hallowe'en. We like the spooky side, there is so much fun getting dressed up—going out after dark and meeting all the strange groups of funny little people like ourselves. Molasses kisses — how can we ever eat them all! The real witch of Hallowe'en scurries too fast across the moon for most of us. Well—Indoor games after the door-bell ringing is over and treats enough to provide a feast for our fire-lit ghost-story time. Yes, we love Hallowe'en.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Seller, Charlottetown, are at present in Cleveland, Ohio, where Mr. Seller is attending the National Assessors convention in that city.

Mrs. Kent Jones, Hazelbrook has returned home after a pleasant visit with her sister, Mrs. Hart in Quincy, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Vessey, York, and Mrs. Lena Cooke, Central Royalty, have returned from an enjoyable motor trip. They were guests in Cambridge, Mass., of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sanford, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrew, West Acton, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Watts, York, have returned from a two-week motor trip to Lynn, Mass. where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Matheson.

Mrs. Laughlin MacKinnon, North River Road, entertained at her home on Saturday night in honour of Miss Verna Darrach, prior to leaving for Moncton, N. B. Miss Darrach was presented with a gift by the hostess.

Mr. Peter Mellish and Mr. Norman MacLeod, students at Mt. Allison University, spent last weekend in Charlottetown, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Mellish, Brighton Road.

Mrs. Gerald Maddigan, R. N. arrived by plane on Wednesday, from Spencer, Mass., where she had been called three weeks ago, due to the serious illness and subsequent death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Devereux. Mrs. Maddigan spent some time with her brothers, Mr. Joseph Devereux and Mr. Ivan Devereux and other relatives and friends in Boston, Dorchester and Wellesley Hill, Mass.

Mr. Dennis O'Shea arrived by plane this week from Boston, Mass., where he had been spending the past two months with his daughters in Roxbury, Mass. and Rhode Island.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Future Secrets Revealed In Magic Of Hallowe'en

"Among the bonie winding banks Where Doon rines, wimplin' clear; Where Bruce ance ruled the martial ranks, An' shook his Carrick spear; Some merry, friendly, country-folks Together did convene, To burn their nits, an' pou their stocks, An' haud their Hallowe'en, Fu' blythe that night."

So Robert Burns in the autumn lang syne of the witching night. And tonight Island-over, young and older will coax future to disclose certain of its secrets to them as they too observe customs of Hallowe'en, some handed down through many a year. Not perhaps with the abandon of once, nevertheless most enjoyably. For this is a hallowe'en eve.

Today if you notice it, it is already one of strange expectancy, a sort of eerie stilling day. Toward the Autumn twilight it becomes positively mysterious. How oddly the fallen leaves rustle on the yard-paths even though the wind has gone up the creek before this to rest! Let a fowl but pass to its roost, what queer little whispers of sound stir.

How many dogs bark! More than last evening we are sure. And on a bewildered not why? How should a human know? Likely disturbed by strange signs and portents of magic in the air. Twilight pauses, a h a n g s breathless. And, we are startled at the loud "Bang" of the door we close so quickly behind us, as we come away indoors.

When the moon rises, setting the barn in shadow as it climbs the sky behind it, shall we glimpse an owl perched darkly to one end of the ridgepole? For owls will be among the likeliest broad tonight—in flesh and blood come to the odd company of picnycor.

UNION PROTESTS
TORONTO (CP)—Local 43 of the Toronto City Employees' Union has sent a letter to the Metropolitan Toronto executive committee asking it not to canvass employees during working hours for the United Appeal. The union letter said it donated $1,000 on behalf of its 3,300 members and that civic bylaws do not allow soliciting of members in working hours. Metropolitan Council chairman Fred G. Gardiner said in a letter a canvass is within Metro's jurisdiction.
