Important Decision of the Supreme Court.

PROTECTION FOR THE TRADE MARK OF THE LEADING REPUTABLE PUBLISHER OF POPULAR STANDARD LITERATURE.

The daily press, and indeed all who have the moral welfare of the community at heart, have found frequent cause of complaint, in the course pursued by extensive publishers of so called "popular literature." Pandering to the most depraved tastes of ignorant readers, some of these concerns, keeping barely within the pale of the law, have flooded the country with sensational productions devoid of literary merit, but which owing to their highly spiced character, have met a demand that it should be the work of every honest publisher to discourage. Lengthy diatribes against their action have never been effective, but valuable service in the cause of pure and instructive reading has been performed by publishers who have placed standard literature, the works of the best authors of all nations, in cheap and attractive form before the public. Among them, Norman L. Munro, of New York, occupies an honored position.

The success that has attended his republication of these works in the world famous "Munroe Library," and later in pocket form, together with the unprecedented results that have followed the publication of The New York Family Story Paper, furnishing lively, instructive and interesting reading for the home circle, and enjoying the largest circulation of any periodical of the kind in the world, cannot but be accepted as a criterion of the value of the services he has rendered the community, while no intelligent citizen, much less those who have benefited by his enterprise, will begrudge him the profitable results of his work. Few therefore will find cause for complaint in the recent action of Judge Donohue, in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, in sustaining Mr. Munro in his claim to the trade mark, "Munro's Publishing House," under which, in connection with his name, his publications have become so widely known. A title had been used by a brother of Mr. Munro, in the publishing business, but a permanent injunction was issued by the court, restraining him from its future employment.

As a pioneer in business of publishing cheap and entertaining literature of a standard and unobjectionable character, Norman L. Munro has fairly earned his pecuniary good fortune, while his liberal patronage of the arts, his prominence in social circles and the interest he has shown in the higher class of sports, as manifested by his recent construction and equipment of his superb steam yacht "Norma," render him an excellent example of America's true aristocracy, her successful men of business.

Student Pranks in Berlin.

German university students are privileged beings, who may outrage propriety and good manners to any extent without arousing the wrath of either professors or public. Long before Bismarck entered into the ranks of the students they might do things which other people might not. The chancellor has got to the top of the tree in spite of all the pranks in his student's life, and there is therefore some hope that the young Berlin student who the other day paraded about one of the most frequented streets of Berlin in a lady's white petticoat, a red-feather hat, with a sunshade held gracefully aloft, may turn out something better than the leader of a shouting and applauding crowd, attracted to his strange attire. It appears that the young man had made a wager to walk from his residence to a favorite students' haunt in the centre of the town adorned with the above costume. We regret to say that his courage did not meet with due reward, for long before his goal was reached he had to seek refuge from the crowd in the nearest house, from whence without the unwonted garb,he emerged after the crowd had been dispersed by the police.

MRS. ROSS'S
"Magic Healer" Salve,

(Warranted to Cleanse and Heal.)

BURNS, Scalds, Chapped Hands, Cuts, Boils, Frost Bites, and Skin Sores of every description.

It is said by those who have tested the "Magic Healer" for Burns, that it is the best and quickest remedy for extracting heat they have ever used.

For Chapped Hands or Cold Sores, it is unparalleled for its speedy and effective results, making the skin soft and pliable.

For Fishermen and persons employed in handling wet or rough articles, it is invaluable for giving the hands a smooth texture and healthy tone.

Its cleansing and healing properties are remarkable where the skin is broken by external means, while its rapid action in removing all offensive matter from Boils or Old Wounds, and forming a new skin is truly wonderful.

Price, 25 cents per box.

Sold at the Drug Stores of W. R. Watson, Apothecaries' Hall and Fraser & Reddin, and by the manufacturer.

MRS. SOPHIA POTTER'S
Bone Rheumatic Liniment

IT is a fact worth knowing that Mrs. Sophia Potter's Bone Rheumatic Liniment cannot be excelled for removing pain and soreness. It is no worthless trash, as some may suppose, simply because they have been imposed upon by others but is positively the "King of Pain." Sore throat cannot stand before its power.

All we ask is a trial that you may be convinced of the truth of our statement. Our experience is that one bottle tried also sells many more.

See circular for particulars and testimonials, and try a bottle—it will not fail to do all that is promised.
