Eagles Throw Big Surprise

The RCAF Eagles didn't win the ball game on Friday evening, but they threw a big surprise into just about everyone including their own supporters. A few we talked to were making a feeble attempt at whistling in the dark. Because the Eagles were missing three of their key players in Bob Sleigh, Steve Phillips, and John Brisebois, we, and a lot of others, thought they were in for a lop-sided trouncing. But they made it a nip-and-tuck struggle all the way. The Eagles have already achieved their most desired goal, having won the tri-service tournament in four straight victories.

We think the rugged games they had all winter in the ISHL helped them a lot. Credit must go, however, to their manager, SL Gerry Smith, and their coach, FS Andy Gilpin, for the great improvement this team has shown. When they first participated in the league last November, sports writers were pessimistic about their chances of putting up satisfactory competition against the other teams in the circuit, and the results of the first few games were a bit discouraging. But the boys came along fast and provided some of the most exciting battles we saw this winter.

Regardless of whether or not they will be eliminated from the semi-finals tonight, and don't bet more than your week's allowance on this, most people will agree, we think, that the RCAF Eagles have had a decidedly successful year.

The Summerside Pee Wee All-Stars travel to Natick this week under the supervision of the chief sponsors of this international exchange of visits (and of friendship and good-will) Gord Kelly, Bob Schurman, and Sid Forbes. Mayor Ernest Morrison and Deputy Mayor George Key will also make the trip. This Natick-Summerside relation is a pleasing one and was begun because Natick's Johnny Carroll was a very popular coach of Summerside's minor baseball players for a number of years.

By the way, these same all-star Pee-Wees lost out to the RCAF Pee-Wees last week in Island playdowns after playing overtime. The airforce Paperweights were also victorious over our 8-10 year old kids. The Summerside Bantams retrieved a part of our lost prestige, drubbing the RCAF Bantams by a lop-sided score in the home-and- home games.

Royals, Penguins Blood Brothers

It has been reported that now that series "A" semi-final series is over, the Royals and Penguins are blood brothers. The Royals are rooting for the Penguins to win, and the Penguins are prepared to cheer themselves hoarse for the Royals. We can understand the first part of that last statement because all Islanders should support the Penguins, but it's a little more difficult to understand why all the Penguins should be rooting for the Royals.

Might not one or two of them have a leaning towards the Combines or Eagles? Perhaps the writer was thinking of the Maritime Intermediate playdowns, and is taking it for granted that the Royals will be in there— a sad commentary on the balance of our league. Well, we refuse to take the result of the finals for granted. We believe that the Combines (or Eagles) if they give every minute on the ice sixty seconds worth of distance run, can cause a big upset, and there is nothing more thrilling in sports than that.

Last Week's Bouquet

Kudos to smooth Greg Deighan for scoring that "money" goal
A pat on the pads for Walsh who so often plugged the hole;
But a pretty English lass named
Molly Pharoah
Who throws a ball as straight as a blinkin' arrow--
With her ten-0-six she's out front in the honor poll.

Last Week's Brickbat

If you don't ike a player, then put on the razzberry show;
Boo him as much as you like;
it's a harmless pastime, we know.
But when a player is injured,
and nobody knows how bad,
To cheer at this time's the despicable act of a cad.
The best of the "limbo rock" boys could never go down that low.

UNSUCCESSFUL BID

Bobby Rousseau (15) of Montreal Canadiens fails to score against Terry Sawchuk of Detroit Red Wings during Saturday night's National Hockey League game in Montreal. Other players are Pete Goegan (18) and Alex Faulkner (12) of the Red Wings.

Wings Withstand Rally To Edge N.Y. Rangers 3-2

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit Red Wings withstood a late New York rally and edged the Rangers 3-2 in a National Hockey League game Sunday night, mathematically eliminating the Rangers from the four - team Stanley Cup playoffs.

New York trails the fourth-place Wings by 18 points and has only eight games left to play. A year ago it was the Rangers who knocked Detroit out of a playoff berth.

Gordie Howe, the league's scoring leader, assisted on two of the Wings' goals and boosted his individual output to 73 points.

Detroit collected one goal in each period. Norm Ullman, Floyd Smith and defenceman Howie Young were the Detroit marksmen. Young's goal, which proved to be the margin of victory, was a sizzling angle shot that caught the left corner of the net at 11-58 of the final period.

Brier Classic Opens Today; P.E.I. Meets Alberta First

By GRAHAM COX

BRANDON, Man. (CP) — Competing rinks in the Canadian curling championships found out Sunday who they are going to play.

The competitions start today at 4 p.m., EST, but tension mounted as the last name to be drawn was the first to face the Ernie Richardson rink of Regina.

The honor went to the host-province, rink, Hersh Lerner of Winnipeg, and brought sighs and applause from the crowd assembled at the Dominion Association luncheon, called for the purpose.

It was announced at the luncheon that the 1964 championships would be held at Charlottetown, P.E.I., in conjunction with the centenary celebrations of the island province.

The luncheon also saw the installation of Lieutenant-Governor Errick F. Willis of Manitoba as a trustee of the championship trophy. He is one of three custodians and replaces Senator John F. Haig of Manitoba who died last year. The installation was performed by David M. Stewart, president of the company sponsoring the championships.

B.C. GETS BYE

The first bye of the competition went to British Columbia's Glen Harper rink of Duncan while Quebec's Bill Kent of Montreal drew against Bob Mann of Hanover, Ont., and Nova Scotia's Ian Baird rink of Kentville drew against John Pike's Grand Falls, Nfld., quartet.

The Doug Cameron rink of Charlottetown was to play Jim Shields' Calgary rink in the first round while the New Brunswick rink of Don Mix of Moncton was to play the Northern Ontario entry of Doug Gathercole of Copper Cliff.

In the second round, scheduled to start at 9 p.m. EST it will be Manitoba against Alberta, New Brunswick against Nova Scotia, Ontario against Northern Ontario, Quebec against British Columbia and Saskatchewan against Newfoundland with Prince Edward Island getting the bye.

Most of the rinks arrived by special train from Winnipeg late Friday night to be greeted by throngs of citizens and a torch light parade from the station to their hotel.

At a reception Saturday night, the curlers were presented to guests at Brandon College and were greeted by the Lieutenant-Governor, Premier Duff Roblin and Walter Dinsdale, northern affairs and natural resources minister and member of Parliament for Brandon-Souris.

In defending his championship, Richardson will be aiming at an unprecedented fourth title. He, Ken Watson of Winnipeg and Matt Baldwin of Edmonton are the only skips to have taken their rinks to three titles.

In addition, Richardson has won three world championships, in 1959, 1960 and 1962 against rinks from the United States, Scotland and Sweden.

Chihawks Tie Habs 2-All; Lead Slashed To 4 Points

CHICAGO (CP) — Chicago Black Hawks' National Hockey League lead was cut to four points Sunday night when they played to a 2-2 tie with Montreal Canadiens here.

Toronto moved to within four points of the Hawks by beating Boston Bruins 6-3.

Montreal remained in third place.

Kenny Wharram scored both Chicago goals, the second coming late in the second period after the Canadiens had taken a 2-1 lead on a marker by Dickie Moore.

Rookie Bill McCreary scored Montreal's first period goal, which matched Wharram's initial score.

Both teams were crippled and had several minor league replacements in action. The Canadiens were without defenceman Tom Johnson and forwards Gilles Tremblay and Phil Goyette, all out with injuries, while the Black Hawks played without defenceman Pierre Pilote and scoring star Bobby Hull, both also hurting.

In addition, the Hawks had rookie Denis DeJordy in the nets in place of veteran Glenn Hall, who was being rested after having allowed 12 goals in his last two games.

The rookie from Buffalo of the American League came up with 34 saves in his fifth National Hockey League appearance.

Maple Leafs Trounce Boston Bruins 6-3

BOSTON (CP)—Dave Keon's second goal of the game and Carl Brewer's second of the National Hockey League season proved decisive Sunday night as Toronto defeated Boston 6-3.

After Forbes Kennedy, the Charlottetown native opened the free - scoring battle for the Bruins, the Maple Leafs ran up a 5-1 lead before the home forces could begin to chop away at the margin.

The second-place Leafs were in front 3-1 when Brewer, a part-time left wing, scored on a 60-foot flip-in at 5:13 of the middle period. Goalie Ed Johnston came out to stop the puck which took a sudden hop over his stick and rolled lazily into the net. Defenceman Brewer was in the starting lineup as a forward.

Keon clicked less than two minutes later for No. 224 on a wide-angle backhander.

Frank Mahovlich not only scored his 33rd goal but added two assists, remaining within hailing distance in the scoring race with 66 points. Ron Stewart also scored for the winners.

Guy Gendron collected his 19th and 20th goals for Boston as he tried to lead the Bruins on a comeback.

The game was interrupted momentarily in the finale when veteran goalie Johnny Bower was missed narrowly by a thrown bottle which shattered on the ice in front of him.

Shortly before the windup, Toronto got a sixth goal when Brewer assisted George Armstrong. Once again Johnston was getting no protection.

In addition to the flying debris, Bower had a busy final period, making 17 of his 37 saves as Boston pressed hard if unsuccessfully, trying to get back into the contest.

Hawks Win Opener; Shade Tartans 3-2

MONCTON (CP) — Veteran Shermie White came through with a 35-foot shot into the Halifax Tartans net late in the third period here Sunday night to give Moncton Hawks a 3-2 win in the opener of the best-of-seven Nova Scotia Senior Hockey League finals.

After the ankle-high blast by White, a senior hockey player more than 20 years, Tartans made a desperate bid to even the scoring and came close on two occasions. Goalie Gary Doggett was pulled with one minute and 10 seconds to play in favor of an extra forward.

Germain Munger almost got his second of the night as Tartans swarmed over the Hawks net with 40 seconds remaining. Gilles Picard missed a near-goal with 10 seconds left.

The series resumes Tuesday night in Halifax.

The fast-moving windup contrasted with the first two periods in which a crowd of 2,780 fans saw a close-checking, cautious game.

Each club scored in the first but neither tallied in the second period.

Hartley Estabrooks gave Tartans an early lead on a first-period power play while Lou Kiley of the Hawks was serving a high-sticking penalty. Ronnie Gaudet of the Hawks got that one back before the half-way mark of the first. Alf Flanagan came close to a Hawk lead as he hit the post late in the first.

After the scoreless second period, Munger took a pass from Moe Lamirande and beat Hawks Jean-Guy Morissette with a 15-footer to give Tartans a 2-1 edge. Moncton's Dick VanSnick caught the left corner of the Halifax net with a 30-foot slap shot to tie the game as Hawks were changing lines.

White's winner was a screened shot that followed a pass from VanSnick and went in just 85 seconds after VanSnick's tally.

Doggett had a slightly busier night with 28 saves, than Morissette who kicked out 21 in the Moncton net.

In an interview, coach Bert Hirschfeld of Tartans and Doug McPhee of Hawks both predicted a long and "tough" series.

AAU Accused Of Refusing Help From Organizations

By STUART LAKE

OTTAWA (CP)—The Amateur Athletic Union of Canada was accused Sunday of refusing to accept help from other organizations because of fears it would be usurped as the governing body of track and field in Canada.

"It's high time you accept the aid which groups offer in good faith," Fred O'Brecht, national chairman of the Royal Canadian Legion's sports program told AAU officials at a national track and field conference here.

"We have no ulterior motives," he added. "We only want to work with you to improve the sport."

He made the remarks during the closing minutes of the two - day meeting of sports experts, sponsored by the AAU and the legion. The conference was called to work out a co-ordinated plan in which various organizations would each take responsibility for some aspect of track and field.

Delegates suggested that the legion and the Canadian Track and Field Coaches Association work with the AAU in improving the calibre of instruction available to athletes.

They also said the armed forces could be responsible for training officials. Other groups could also be assigned specified chores.

AAU officials indicated they would consider the offer but said they didn't have the authority to accept it without consulting their members.

WANT TO ACCEPT

Ken Twigg, national chairman of track and field for the AAU, said his organization is anxious to take advatnage of all offers. But the AAU wanted to be assured it would be informed what organizations are doing.

A five-man committee was named to make recommendations to the AAU in time for its annual meeting later this year. Members are Jim Worrell of the Canadian Olympic Association, Geoffrey Dyson, a member of the legion sports training program, Pat Galasso, director of athletics for Queen's University O'Brecht and Twigg.

The meeting passed a resolution urging that sports facilities owned by schools and the armed forces be thrown open to responsible amateur sports organizations.

"We paid for these facilities in taxes and we should be permitted to use them," O'Brecht said.

An RCAF officer said: "it would be wrong to ask the government to build other facilities when the ones we have are so little used."
