

Four Commons Members May Not Be Able To Take Seats

By JOHN E. BIRD
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) — Four members of the Commons may not be able to take their seats at the opening of the first session of the new Parliament Monday, May 1, because of a legal technicality. They are Perrault Larue, Progressive Conservative member for Saguenay, Que.; Stanley James Korchinski, Progressive Conservative member for Mackenzie, Sask.; Chesley W. Carter, Liberal member for Burin-Burgeo, Nfld., and Frank Howard, CCF member for Skeena, B.C.

Writs from returning officers declaring the four elected may not be received in Ottawa in time for Chief Electoral Officer Nelson Castonguay to publish them in the Canada Gazette by May 1. No member may be sworn in and take his seat in the Commons until such legal procedure has been completed.

UNOFFICIAL COUNT
The four have been declared elected only on the basis of an unofficial count of ballots cast in the four constituencies March 31.

Returning officers in the constituencies of Saguenay, Mackenzie and Skeena have set April 8 as the date for receiving ballot boxes from polling stations. The date for Burin-Burgeo is April 9.

There is a possibility that all boxes will not be received by those dates because of the remoteness of some polling stations. In that event returning officers must delay their official count of the ballots for a period not exceeding two weeks.

Once all boxes are received and the ballots counted returning officers must wait six days before declaring the winning candidate and sending the election writs to Mr. Castonguay.

The earliest date on which the writs for Saguenay, Mackenzie and Skeena may be mailed to Ottawa is Monday, May 6.

TOUCH AND GO
Mr. Castonguay said that even if the writs are mailed May 5 and 6 it will be "touch and go" whether he will receive them in time to have them published in the Canada Gazette before Parliament meets. He said he fears the mailing date may be some days after May 5 and 6.

Every effort is being made, Mr. Castonguay said, to have the writs in Ottawa in time for the four members to take their Commons seats.

Mr. Castonguay now has re-tion of 49 members of the 265-member House. Except for Saguenay, Mackenzie, Skeena and Burin-Burgeo, he expects to receive remaining writs in time for them to be published in the Gazette before May 1, including those from constituencies where recounts are taking place. Those constituencies are Kenora-Rainy Rier and Montreal Cartier.

Says Aluminum Industry Faces New Outlook

MONTREAL (CP) — The aluminum industry is in a period of transition and continuing expansion with indications supply will exceed demand for a time, President Nathanael V. Davis of Aluminium Limited told the general meeting today.

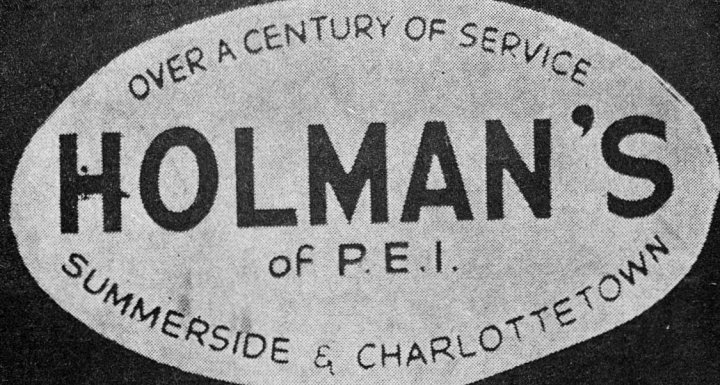

Yet basic optimism underlies the industry and there are splendid opportunities to expand use of aluminum, he said.

The company's recent price reduction was designed to stimulate consumption rather than meet Russian competition. But that competition might require government intervention.

Mr. Davis said a preliminary estimate of first-quarter earnings for common shares is $5,300,000 compared with $15,000,000 in the first quarter of 1957.

CAUSE DISRUPTION
Russian sales had caused "disruption in the market and did lead to some loss of business for us."

He said sellers of Russian state-produced aluminum in several cases had offered to maintain a lower price whatever level was set by Aluminium Limited.
