Yes, Somebody Killed a Mule

It is a great pity to see the once great producing island of Cuba—"The Garden of the South"—now a dreary waste, the outcome of international and civil strife. It sets one's heart sick to think of it. But, wait one moment, and you will see somebody's heart sick on our "Garden of the North" before the summer is over, the outcome of giving their orders for "Crayon Portraits" &c. to the foreign agents, who will patrol on this Island very soon. I am getting well fortified in my line of enlarging Photos and Tintypes. My agents also form a strong squadron and I think if foreigners get a mule for a prize they will do well.

I am prepared to do your work in a better way than before, and cheaper than any one else. My "Crayon Portraits" take well—no need, now, of appending testimonials as heretofore.—I have also made arrangements by which any one wishing to have originals enlarged in any of the following grades, I can have them done, by A 1 Artists cheaper than any one else.

"Superb" India Ink. "Royal Pastel", "Raphael" Sepia "Regal" and in water colour enlargements "Victoria", "Imperial" and "Crown Jewell" grades. All bust pictures 16x20 and larger "Oil Painting" from 16x20 to full length size and colour I can give you all what foreigners will, and more too, for I do not skip away with your money. I wear my shoes here. As I am ordering my frames from special Portrait firms I can supply your wants cheaper than heretofore.

LE SABRE DE BOIS

Dans une de ces visites que le grand Frédéric faisait incognito à ses soldats il lui arriva un soir d'en rencontrer un qui paraissait avoir levé le coude un peu trop souvent, car il n'était pas solide sur ses jambes. Il l'aborde d'un air familier, et lui demande par forme de conversation, comment, avec sa modique paie, il se trouve en état de faire des libations aussi copieuses. "Pour moi, camarade, ajouta-t-il, je suis à la même paie que vous, et cependant je ne puis rien mettre de côté pour la taverne; de grâce, apprenez-moi comment vous faites?"

—Vous m'avez l'air d'un bon biable, répond le soldat en lui serrant la main, pourquoi vous le cacherez-vous? Aujourd'hui, par exemple, je viens de régaler une ancienne connaissance; il serait dur, n'est-il pas vrai, que de temps en temps, on n'eût pas la satisfaction de trinquer avec un ami? Or, en pareille circonstance, la paie d'un jour ne nous ménerait pas loin. J'ai donc été forcé de recourir au viel expédient.

—Quel est-il donc, ce viel expédient?

—Il est tout simple; le voici; je mets en gage ceux de mes effets dont je puis me passer quelques jours, ensuite un peu d'abstinence ramène de quoi les racheter. Ce matin, j'ai fait ressource avec la lame de mon sabre; on ne nous assemblera pas avant une semaine, ainsi, je n'en aurai pas besoin? Frédéric eut soin de bien remarquer son homme, puis il le remercia du conseil et lui souhaita bonsoir.

Le lendemain, les troupes reçurent, à l'improviste un ordre de s'assembler; le roi les passa en revue, et venant à reconnaître son camarade de la veille il le fit sortir des rangs avec le soldat à sa droite, en leur commandant de se dépoûiller. "Maintenant, dit-il à celui qu'il voulait surprendre, tirez votre épée et coupez la tête à ce misérable."

Le soldat veut s'excuser, il supplie le roi de ne pas le condamner à gémir toute sa vie d'avoir fait mourir un honnête homme, avec qu'il sert depuis quinze ans. Le roi demeure inflexible. "Eh bien! sire, dit le soldat, puisque rien ne peut vous fléchir, je prie Dieu de faire un miracle en ma faveur, et de changer mon sabre en un sabre de bois." Il prononça ces mots avec une dévotion affectée, et feignit la plus grande surprise, lorsque, ayant tiré son sabre, il vit son souhait accompli.

Le monarque admira son adresse, et, non content de lui pardonner, lui glissa dans la main de quoi retirer son sabre mis en gage.

Mrs. Eliza Reitz, 33 Wellington St., Berlin, Ont., says, "For ten years I have been afflicted with kidney and back trouble, suffering greatly from dizziness, nervousness, weak eyesight, loss of sleep, and appetite, and an almost constant tired, weak feeling. They removed every vestige of pain, dizziness and nervousness, and enabled me to get restful sleep; so that from being a sick woman I am now strong and well again."
