

Yvon Durelle Fights To Draw With Tony Anthony

By DAVE DILES
DETROIT (AP)—Swarthy Yvon Durelle, a hard charging French Canadian who never backed off, battled heavily favored Tony Anthony to a draw Friday night in their 10-round light-heavyweight bout. Durelle, the crowd's favorite, weighed 176½, Anthony 174½.

The 37-year-old Canadian light-heavyweight champion from Lake Ste. Anne, N.B., unranked and slightly regarded, carried the fight to the 10th round. He clobbered Anthony, who just two months ago knocked out Chuck Spieser in the same Olympia Stadium ring, with looping rights and lefts.

Anthony, with a four-inch height advantage was content to counter-punch.

Durelle swarmed all over Anthony with bull-like rushes in the early rounds and had the No. 1 contender groggy and holding on in the second.

FIRST DRAW

Anthony, fighting to his first draw in 35 fights, tried to end it in the third.

He threw 15 or 20 punches early in the round, bloodied Durelle's nose and cut him in the left eyebrow. But Durelle after tiring in the middle rounds, came on with a furious finish that had the slim crowd standing and cheering for him in the final going.

Referee Lou Handler scored it 41-41. Judge Barney Pitoinik awarded the decision to Anthony 43-39 and Judge Malcolm House scored it for Durelle 40-39. The bout, televised coast to coast was scored on the five-point must system.

Durelle took a mandatory eight count midway through the sixth round when Anthony landed a right hand to his mid-section. Durelle and his handlers complained the blow was low and the crowd seemed to agree.

Although he was blood-spattered from the third round on, Durelle, a commercial fisherman, had no other difficulties.

Anthony, 22-year-old battler reported in line for a shot at Archie Moore's title, looked little like the sharp-punching fighter he was in knocking Spieser out in three rounds Friday night he retreated for the full route and his best blows were left hooks fired at long range.

MUCH IMPROVED

Durelle was described by one observer as a "very much improved fighter, a fighter who has polished up the rough spots."

The Acadian has had five fights this year, winning four and losing one, a third-round knockout to Clarence Hinant. The record books show he has 40 victories in 56 bouts. One fight was called "no contest"; there were two draws, and there were 14 defeats.

The likeable battler who owns several fishing boats, is definite about his aims. Before the fight he declared, "Moore is ready to be taken, and if I beat Anthony I figure I'll be the guy to take him."

Ancient Archie now, is touring in Europe.

Despite Durelle's confidence, he was a 3-to-1 underdog facing Anthony who gained much prestige by knocking out Spieser two months ago.

A two-time Olympic fighter, Anthony has won 30 of his 35 bouts, 23 of them by knockouts. He is unbeaten since he graduated from the middleweight ranks.

Durelle says that the record books tell only part of the story of his career.

"I've really had about 135 fights. The people who make up the record books never heard about a lot of my early fights in Canada. Actually, I've been fighting for 12 years now."

SPORTS TRAIL Are Made To Be Broken

NEW YORK (AP)—Records are made to be broken, but it now appears improbable the mark of four victories in the U.S. National Open, shared by three men, will be bettered for a long time.

Willie Anderson was the first to accomplish the feat. Then came Bob Jones, long since retired.

That left the third man, Ben Hogan, as the only active competitor with even a chance to establish a record, this year at least. Cary Middlecoff has won it twice, and is young enough to add three more in time, but you could get pretty good odds on his chances.

Hogan said he would try again next year, as it is no secret he wants that fifth championship more than anything else. But Hogan will be 45 next year, a golf age verging on the venerable, and in his few appearances this year he indicated he had lost much of the sharpness and consistency which had marked him as one of the game's greatest.

He admitted himself, at the recent round robin, that he was having trouble holding his concentration, and Gene Sarazen once remarked the first sign of deterioration in a player's game did not show in the legs, but in the ability to concentrate.

The manner in which Hogan withdrew from the Open this week was in keeping with his case history. The flinty fellow with the level gaze and uncompromising jaw was born to drama, and the last-minute fadeout of the great star combined with a furious storm to provide a memorable opening day for the 1957 event.

It was sheer drama the way he came back from his near-fatal automobile accident in 1949 to win the open in 1950. He couldn't do it, they said. Yet the man, weary, pain-tortured man did it.

He couldn't make it three by winning in 1951, they said. He did, and two years later he did it again, and also won the Masters and the British Open that same year for the equivalent of a pro grand slam.

Ben still might do it, but his chances fade with each succeeding year. Four of a kind seems destined to be the top hand.

Redlegs Beat N. Y. Giants Red Sox Swapped Goodman To Orioles For Fornieles

NEW YORK (AP)—Big Ted Kluszewski made his comeback from the disabled list official Friday night with four consecutive hits in five at-bats, including a two-run homer, as Cincinnati Redlegs cut their losing streak at four games with a 5-4 victory over New York Giants.

The Redlegs, who have won only four of their last 13 games, moved from third to second in the National League race, eight points behind Milwaukee.

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP)—Egyptian port authorities quarantined the Indian destroyer Magar Thursday because 30 cases of influenza were reported among the crew. The Magar was bound from Bombay to Europe. Influenza is sweeping the Far East.

BOSTON (AP)—The Red Sox Friday swapped infielder-outfielder Billy Goodman, a lifetime .300 hitter, to the Baltimore Orioles for right-handed pitcher Mike Fornieles.

It was announced as a straight player swap between the two American league ball clubs.

Goodman, 31, used only as a pinch hitter on rare occasions this season, has played the outfield, first, second and third base.

Goodman has been with the Sox since they bought him from Atlanta in 1947.

At the start of this season Goodman was one of nine active American leaguers with a lifetime .300 average. He won the league batting crown in 1950 with a .354 average.

Fornieles, a native of Havana, won four and lost eight games last season while pitching for both the Chicago White Sox and the Orioles.

The Cuban righthander has won two and lost six this year while pitching 57 innings in 15 games. He has a 3.85 earned run average, has walked 17 and struck out 41. He has pitched one complete game.

DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

the press and harness horse magazine are devoting a lot of space to the late Sol A. Camp, who died at Santa Monica, California, on May 29 while undergoing an operation, after several months of illness. James Flood of this city, whose son-in-law is Joe O'Brien, who had been associated with Mr. Camp as trainer and driver of his harness horses, states that Mr. Camp had often complained to him of severe pains in his head and carried an ache, which he would often fill with ice and hold against his head to relieve the pain.

It was apparently this severe pain that caused Mr. Camp to have the operation which was regrettably unsuccessful. Not in our recollection have we ever heard so many trutes patients at a center of race horses, who have read many eulogistic expressions on the passing of a harness horse owner.

Men in all walks of life who had known Mr. Camp as employees in his many operations, or in his harness horse racing activities, paid tribute to the many good qualities which he had and considered his loss a personal one.

Mr. Camp was not given a talk much about himself, but on Horatio Alger story of success could equal the true story of this very friendly man and his activities since he started in 1917 on a little patch of land in Carolina, with a mule and raised some cotton. In 1923 his brother sent for Sol to come out to California and supervise his ranch land. Mr. Camp went along too. Sol was a foreman, and she got the meals for the hands. Sol tried cotton on the first patch of ground that he owned, and the crop was a success. He bought more land, and year after year, continued buying until he became one of the biggest ranchers in California. Then he purchased a large amount of land in Idaho and grew potatoes. He always had a love for horses, and in 1947 he gave the Harrisburg auction for White Hanover. He didn't prove a success, but that did not discourage Mr. Camp, and he continued making purchases year after year.

In recent years, he paid $45,000 each for Bond and Mudge Hanover, and $35,000 for Rosalind Frost. There were dozens of others. His first two-minute horse was Prince Jay, 1:58 3-5, and then he bred

Cabinet Members Review Defeat

OTTAWA (CP)—Liberal cabinet ministers gave varying reasons Thursday for their party's election defeat Monday.

"The people just wanted another government, I guess," Works Minister Winters said. He met personal defeat in Queens-Lunenburg, N.S. He added:

"I've got a certain amount of admiration for people who can come to such a collective opinion from coast to coast. Mind you I don't admire them for electing a Tory government, but I admire them for coming to such a collective opinion."

The vote had been pretty uniform regardless of local issues, Justice Minister Garson said.

"There was no wheat problem in Nova Scotia, but there was the same result as in Manitoba."

Transport Minister Marler's comment: "Too many Conservative votes."

Montreal Pilot Has Resigned

MONTREAL (CP)—Greg Mullevy has resigned as pilot of the foundering Montreal Royals of the International Baseball League, general manager Rene Lemyre announced Friday.

Al Campana, director of the parent Brooklyn Dodgers farm clubs, is taking over temporarily with no word on who eventually will succeed Mullevy.

Lemyre said Mullevy will report to Brooklyn, possibly today. The Royals, touted as league contenders this year, are 16 games off the pace in the basement.

Lemyre's announcement at a press conference confirmed rumors that Mullevy was through here.

Lemyre also announced that catcher John Roseboro is going to Brooklyn and that Dodgers' third-

CHARLOTTETOWN DRIVING PARK

Fines Imposed On Chicago Yankee Players For Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—One of the liveliest field brawls in big league baseball history Friday resulted in a nominal $650 total fining of five players—three New York Yankees and two Chicago White Soxers.

President Will Harridge of the American League acted on Thursday's 28-minute free-for-all between the Yankees and White Sox at Comiskey Park and levied these fines:

Outfielder Larry Doby of the White Sox and infielder Billy Martin and outfielder Enos Slaughter of the Yankees, $150 each. First baseman Walt Dropo of the White Sox and pitcher Ari Ditmar of the Yankees, $100 each.

Yankee co-owner Dan Topping announced after the fiasco the club would refund the amount of their fines to Martin, Slaughter and Ditmar.

"Our players did not start the fight," said Topping, "and we certainly would not expect them to be punished for a fight that was run when the Sox players started the brawl."

DECLINED COMMENT

Informed of Topping's announcement, Harridge declined comment.

There is a league rule, however, stipulating that league imposed fines must be paid by players, by cheque or money order, with their own signatures inscribed.

At the same time, White Sox vice-president John Rigney had announced that his Yankees and Sox players would not be fined for the fight.

and fought for their rights," ex-White Sox pitcher Rigney said. "The Yankees have been bullying opponents long enough and may-be the incidents of yesterday will put an end to their rough tactics."

The fireworks started when the 185-pound Doby knocked down 185-pound Ditmar with a left hook in a dispute over whether a Ditmar wild pitch was an intended bean that started the fight.

CO-FEATURE BOUT

A co-feature bout developed, along with a general melee, when 6-4, 230-pound Dropo and 5-9, 190-pound Slaughter went to it, fist and nail. Dropo was a main casualty with scratched forehead which he said happened when Slaughter came at him "clawing like a girl."

Doby, Dropo, Slaughter and Martin were banished by umpires from the game, won by the Yankees, 4-3, but Ditmar, who emerged with a bump on his head, was allowed to remain pitching.

While Martin was not a featured batter, he got soaked $150 along with Doby and Slaughter because, Harridge said, "after the umpires got the situation well in hand, he attempted to start a fresh fight with Doby and caused a new disturbance."

The 500 difference in the fines of Dropo and Slaughter was based on the fact, Harridge said, that Slaughter had a history of being rough on the bench to the
