

THE DAILY EXAMINER. AUGUST 10, 1882.

Surpluses vs. Deficits.

Organs of the Opposition which are wont to point with pride to the great surpluses of the United States Government...

It is curious and amusing to note the tone of melancholy in which the organs steadily play, no matter about the operation of the tariff...

That Seat.

The Patriot wonders that THE EXAMINER is "perfectly silent" about the non-representation of this Island in the Dominion Cabinet...

Everyone who has its interests at heart, must deeply regret that the Island is not now directly represented at the seat of Government...

The Syndicate.

Referring to the Canada Pacific Railway Company, a correspondent in the far west says:—

"They are not a soulless corporation as some represent; but are the very life of business in this Northwest Territory. They pay good wages, and act honorably in every particular towards their men..."

About Mummies.

Since the bombardment of Alexandria, and the troubles near Cairo, the trade in Egyptian mummies has totally ceased. Strange to say, in times of peace, vessels are specially chartered for conveying cargoes of the ancient departed from the home of their sepulture...

A Chance.

"PATIENCE" has the thirty love-sick maidens seeking lovely men. Why don't they go to New South Wales? The men there are in sad straits because they cannot obtain wives...

The War Despatch

FROM THE DESPATCH TO THE EXAMINER of to-day, the account of the disastrous defeat suffered by the sixtieth rifles, will not be satisfactory to those who look for true reports from the seat of war...

Accommodation in the Post Office.

CORRESPONDENTS OF THE EXAMINER have been directing attention to the need of sleeping and resting accommodation in the Post Office for the Postal Clerks; and some have treated the matter lightly...

A Suggestion for a New Industry.

CHARLOTTETOWN resembles, in one respect, a Turkish City. There are more dogs to the square foot in Charlottetown, than in any other town in America. In New York, all vagrant dogs captured within the city limits, are destroyed...

A Visit to the Home of Evangeline.

We have been spending a week at the pretty town of Windsor, and are quite charmed with everything we see. To-day (August 1st) we had a delightful excursion to Grand Pre, only fifteen miles from here. Our party consisted of eight. We took our seats in the train at 9.40, and at 10.22 steamed into Grand Pre Station...

Far inland now are the dykes raised by the "hands of the farmers with labor incessant." Far beyond them stretch out fertile meadows, leading down to the more recent dykes which now keep out the waves of the Basin of Minas...

When he hears in the woodland the voice of the huntsman? And where is the gentle Evangeline? Fair was she to behold, that maiden of seventeen summers. Black were her eyes as the berry that grows on the thorn by the way side...

They have all passed away—the "columns of shining smoke," the "flashes of flame" that arose at "once from a hundred house tops," the ships that carried the poor exiles away, the exiles themselves—all have passed away; and who have looked to-day will pass away also, and yet, generations now unborn, will come here to repeat Longfellow's beautiful poem, and look for the site of that old church and the forge of Basil the blacksmith.

Admiral Seymour's Report of Saturday's Skirmish.

The official report of Admiral Seymour, concerning the encounter with the enemy of the reconnaissance party at Mahalla Junction on Saturday is as follows:— Our force consisted of 200 men of the Naval Brigade, with one forty-pounder and two nine-pounder guns, under Captain Fisher; 1,000 marines under Colonel Tuson; half a battalion of the Thirty eighth and Forty-sixth regiments, and all of the Sixtieth regiment. We had a skirmish with the enemy, which was 2,000 strong, with six guns and six rockets, from half-past five until half-past seven o'clock in the evening. The total casualties to the naval brigade and marines are two killed and twenty-two killed.

The vicinity of Ramleh was quiet to day. No movement of the enemy was visible. General Allison visited the wounded to-day and found all but two doing well. He addressed the marines, praising their gallant conduct under the heavy fire of yesterday. Lieutenant Vyse and the three other soldiers who were killed yesterday were buried this afternoon with military honors in the English cemetery outside the Rosetta Gate. General Graham, in the steamer "Cygnet," will reconnoitre the Aboukir forts on Monday. The troopship "Euphrates" has arrived here.

The Chilean Garrison at Concepcion, Jasin Valley, has been massacred by the inhabitants. The soldiers had behaved rudely towards some women.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

Defeat of the 60th Rifles.

FORMIDABLE ARABI!

Greece Arming!

Contingents for the War.

THE POLICE STRIKE.

A London cable despatch says that evidence is accumulating of a disastrous defeat sustained by the 60th Rifles, at Alexandria, on the 4th instant. The affair is causing much talk on account of the suppression of the facts.

The Greek Government has despatched a commission to England, to contract for the construction of powerful war vessels. The estimated cost is forty million drachmas.

Twelve transports left Bombay, with the Indian contingents for the seat of war. The Irish Dragoon Guards left Aldershot to-day for Egypt.

The proposed interview between the deputation of Police and the Chief has resulted in the Irish Constabulary suspending the agitation at present. If the decision of the Government is unfavorable to the proposals of the Police, the force will resign in a body.

Wreck of an Ocean Steamer.

800 Passengers Saved.

The North German Lloyd's steamer Mosel, from Bremen for New York, struck on the Lizard Point this morning. The vessel was steaming along cautiously at the time, and there was a dense fog prevailing. After the vessel had struck perfect discipline was maintained, and there was not the slightest approach to a panic. The boats were lowered, and took in regular succession the passengers to the shore. The boats were worked with great alacrity, and succeeded in landing nearly eight hundred passengers at the town of Penzance. The mails and special parcels were saved from the wreck and were safely deposited at Penzance. Tugs have been sent to assist the vessel from off the rocks, but it is feared that she will be a total wreck. The loss will exceed a half million.

Conviction for Treason-Felony.

Walsh, of Clerkenwell, the man in whose shed was stored the arms and ammunition for Ireland, was to-day convicted of treason-felony in connection with the Clerkenwell seizure, and was sentenced to seven years penal servitude. Members of the Irish Constabulary proved that the prisoner had had been in the habit, for some years past, of despatching cases containing arms and ammunition to Limerick, Cork, Clare, Castlereagh, and other places. In several instances the cases were followed by detectives from London to the various places to which the consignments were made.

The Detroit Regatta.

At the Detroit Regatta, Holmes, the American champion, came in first, followed by Laing, the Canadian champion, second. A foul was claimed, but it was ruled out by the referee.

SPECIAL CABLE NEWS.

Bruce, the Inspector General of the Irish Constabulary, has issued a scathing circular against the constabulary malcontents, condemning in severe terms the conduct of the men.

Marshall Wood, Sculptor, well known in Canada, is dead.

There has been another severe earthquake on the Classic Isle of Chios. The extent of damage and loss is not yet known.

The ship "Jessie Currier," of Yarmouth, N. S., from New York to Shanghai, caught fire at sea. Four of the crew are missing. The vessel was insured for $60,000 in Halifax, Boston, and New York insurance offices.

Gladstone moved the consideration of the Arrears Bill in the House of Commons. He stated that he would ask the House to dissent entirely from the first amendment.

Parnell was opposed to any consideration of the Lords' amendments, and hoped that no mischievous concessions would be arrived at.

The House voted on the first amendment, and the numbers stood 293 against 157, thereby defeating the Lords' amendment by a majority of 136. Regarding the second amendment, Gladstone proposed a compromise. Concerning the minor amendments, he asked the House to reject them entirely. He said the House was anxious to avoid a conflict with the Lords, and, by fair concession, the responsibility of a conflict would fall upon the Lords, and they alone would be responsible for the consequences. The Commons sustained all the proposals of Gladstone.

ROME, Aug. 9. The Italian press have become violently hostile to the English movement in Egypt. CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 9. The Conference has adjourned. If military operations become more serious in Egypt the Conference will resume its sitting. The Conference will meet at the termination of the campaign.

BERLIN, Aug. 9. It is reported here on good authority that Bismarck has given English carte blanche to go ahead in Egypt, provided England offers no opposition to Germany's acquisition of the Grand Duchy of Luxemburg.

LONDON, Aug. 10. A London cable despatch says that evidence is accumulating of a disastrous defeat sustained by the 60th Rifles, at Alexandria, on the 4th instant. The affair is causing much talk on account of the suppression of the facts.

Arabi's plans are daily growing more formidable, and are giving cause for grave anxiety.
