

HAPPENINGS

Prince Edward Island is honored in having the members of the Canadian Medical Association executive meet here. Many are accompanied by their wives. The following is the agenda.

On Thursday evening, June 12, the Prince Edward Island division of the Canadian Medical Society and their wives were hosts at a reception and buffet supper at the Charlottetown Hotel at 7.30 p.m. for the members of the C.M.A. executive and their wives.

On Friday morning, June 13th, there will be a coffee party at 10 a.m. in the lounge of the Charlottetown Hotel. From there transportation will be provided to leave at 11 a.m. for the North Shore of the Island. At 12 p.m. there will be a luncheon at Stanhope Beach Inn.

Following this a golf shore drive is planned through the National Park to Cavendish, Green Gables, returning to Charlottetown via Rustico and Hunter River. At North Rustico a lobster factory will be visited. Friday evening, the Premier of Prince Edward Island the Honorable A.W. Matheson and Mrs. Matheson will entertain at an informal reception at 9 p.m. at 18 Crestwood Drive.

Saturday morning will be set aside for visiting centres of special interest (Historical Confederation Chamber, the Government Nursery). At 12.30 there will be a luncheon at the Charlottetown Hotel.

Albany Medical College gave degrees to sixty students at their 128th commencement ceremonies. Dr. John McK. Mitchell, dean of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine and president-elect of the Association of American Medical Colleges, delivered the commencement address. Among the graduates was James M. Gavin, son of Frank E. Gavin, 89 Mohawk Street, Cohoes, New York.

The following nurses from this province will be attending the Canadian Nurses' Association 50th anniversary meeting in Ottawa, June 22 to 27, 1958: Registered nurses, Miss Helen Bolger, Rev. Sister Marie Monica, Rev. Sister Mary Patricia, Miss Ruth I. Ross, Bernice Rowland, Miss Verna Darrach, Miss Hatie MacLaine.

Student nurses, Miss Edith McIver, Miss Ethel McWade.

One of the delightful features of the Spring Blossom Tea convened by the Rainbow Club and held at the Sunset Lodge last Wednesday afternoon was the Home Baking table. This table is always one of the most popular places at the tea as is evidenced by the fact that the ladies made the sum of $47.00.

Mrs. Rodd has convened this Home Cooking table for many years and she and her associates have done a remarkably fine job through the years. Mrs. Rodd is always so grateful to all who have helped with the table. This year the ladies who helped Mrs. Rodd were Mrs. Nelson Robinson and Mrs. P.B. Moreside.

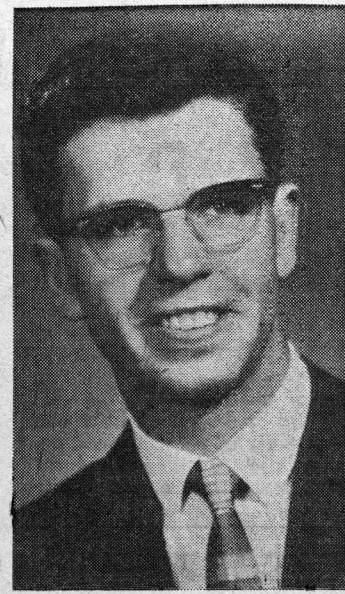

Members and friends of the Dundas Baptist Church gathered together on Tuesday, May 27, at the home of Miss M.A. MacLeod to bid farewell to Rev. Roland Hill. Mr. Hill, minister of the Montague Baptist Church, had been serving the pastorate at Dundas since the early part of last summer.

An evening of games and fellowship was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Roy Llewellyn, on behalf of the church, presented Mr. Hill with a purse and expressed the best wishes and prayers that went with it in his future ministry.

Mr. Hill extended his thanks to those who had gathered to bid him farewell and especially for the gift which they had given him. This was followed by prayer.

ELLEN'S DIARY

How Orderly & Attractive Are Farms & Farm Homes

And then the sun shone into the gray of this foggy Friday morning! He scattered the clouds, ended the showers and altogether changed to a new loveliness our world in a twinkling. Tupples barbed receptive hearts to his smile, seedlings shook away their tears, lifted heads looked up...

So orderly the farmlands have become of late, as in seasonal loveliness they reach along valley and hill. The green and red of the fields form fetching patterns with the now-colorful woodlands, and every last little wandering roadside tree and shrub now is a poem, a joy to behold in its fresh new leaves.

How attractive to the homes, windows sparkling, fresh-curtained from the Spring-cleaning, all framed in pretty settings. Here an orchard is in bloom, there a gnarled old tree is crowned strikingly with blossoms; here a chesteretti to bid farewell to Everett Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Campbell. Last year Everett attended Vocation School at P.W.C. and successfully passed his drafting course and now has joined the R.C.A.F. to continue in this line of work.

An appropriate address was read by George Read and a gift was presented to Everett by Gerard Sexton. In a few words Everett thanked his friends for their thoughtfulness. The evening was spent in dancing, after which lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Norma Ceretti, Co-rene Grant, Margaret Toombs, Shelve Bell and Mona Jay. Then all departed wishing Everett the best of luck in his chosen career.

On the evening of June 7th, a group of teenagers gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A.P.

nut is adorned with creamy candles of flowers, there a lilac bush planted, it came to mind, in many an instance by loving hands now stilled, heads up in royal buds.

In a morning-shower, perhaps to be the most important item of our day at Alderlea, the younger lad at the house across the lane was among the "itty bitty babies" and others, attending the school-clinic to receive their his second inoculation for whooping cough, etc. He accepted it as before, calmly, we learned, though we could appreciate not without an involuntary flinch on the part of his mother at the heat of the rite.

How many chicks came from the hatching? What a fine feather we have added to our extremely modest cap in respect to chicken-raising in our recent venture!

"Ha!" Mack said this evening with a grin when we counted beaks "it's not you who did it—it was the old hen."

"Put it down to two" James twinkled, "and" he added sobering, "it could have been better if one of them had been as attentive to her work as we are when we expect lambs or little pigs. There would have been twelve if that one hadn't fallen from the nest and perished in the cold."

"But it was good luck, wasn't it!" Mack offered. "What's one loss in a dozen!"

"It's just that much off the profit!" James nodded.

Moonlight washes the countryside now. And if we do miss much the span of silver which all down the years at Alderlea, bridged the millpond on nights moonlit, much magic remains to us along stream and valley as night sends now its farm-folks to rest.

Until tomorrow — — — Diary Good-night.
