The Daily Examiner

DECEMBER 2, 1885.

Editorial Notes.

—It is pleasing to note that "the Black-and-Tan Terrier Club" of England is not flourishing. "Owing to scant support, the annual show of blacks-and-tans will not be held this year; but a 'special general meeting' is to be called at an early date, to take into consideration Rule XIII of the Club, which relates to 'cropped dogs.' Such tomfoolery is not worthy the sons of a great nation. Happy for England that it is on the decline!

—Mr. C. J. Brydges says that "commercially, a very marked improvement has taken place in Winnipeg the last two or three months. The testimony of all the mercantile houses is conclusive on that point. Their sales are very much larger their collections far more satisfactory. The bank deposits have been largely increased in the last three months, and the banks are reducing the rates of interest. Wheat is coming in rapidly to market, and this helps materially.

—The mackerel season having closed, from all along the line comes reports of its having been, financially, a disastrous one. This is the summing up of the Fishing Gazette, of New York. A correspondent of the same journal says:—

"The fishing season just closed has been a very unprofitable one, with perhaps the poorest outlook for another season the business ever saw. With the uncertainty of the fishing treaty, and the low prices that have ruled for the past two years—which has left no profit for owners or men—we are placed in this position. As men we are looking for and accepting any position that will give us a living for ourselves and families, be it ever so small. As owners, that unless the fishing treaty is taken care of, and our interests protected, our fleet had better lay up than to attempt to run against cheap vessels and cheaper labor from Nova Scotia, for if they run they will sink themselves and their owners also—some have nearly done so in the past two years—and close up the industries of all the small fishing towns along our coast."

The American fishermen are evidently in a sad way. They admit that they cannot compete on equal terms with the hardy sons of Canada; and if they lose the Upper Canadian markets for their surplus fish they will be ruined. Poor fellows!

Imperial Federation.

Many of the best men of Canada are wrestling with the great idea of Imperial Federation. At the annual dinner of the University Library Society of Montreal, a few days ago, the Chairman said that a better appreciation of the greatness of the Empire has taken strong hold on the people. The Empire is not only great in territory like the United States, and like Russia, but it is great in the diversity of the peoples and countries it unites under one flag and one sovereignty and constitution. The tendency of modern nations is towards grouping together those that have political affinities with one another. After reviewing the histories of Rome, Greece, and Macedonia, he said the British Empire should profit by the lessons of the downfalls of those mighty Empires, and not allow the Empire which was the work of centuries, the aggregation of so many people of different races, all enjoying happiness combined with the greatest security for life, character and property crumble to pieces. It was the duty of all to exert themselves in the most patriotic endeavors to bind it more closely into one perpetual union, and by cultivating the closest alliances with England's nearest neighbor in Europe, and the only neighbor of Canada in America, bind the two greatest civilized races by ties of friendship, trade, art and literature into one great union that will be almost within reach of the Scottish poet's noble dream of the time "when man to man the e'er shall brithers be for a' that."

Mr. R. C. Smith, on the same occasion said that all true friends of Canada should strive to further its prosperity and prestige by strengthening the bond which united it to the Mother Country. The Federation of the whole empire would be one of the greatest achievements of history, and would unite into one powerful union a multitude of interests which on the surface appeared conflicting but which in the abstract were similar. He could not believe that the Empire was doomed to break asunder, but with Macaulay he believed that if a stranger ever viewed the ruins of St. Paul that stranger would come from New Zealand or some other part of the empire.

Mr. R. D. McGibbon said he was not prepared to say whether Imperial Federation was more desirable than any other change which the country might be called upon to undergo, but whatever change might be, he sincerely hoped that it would be dictated by patriotism on the part of the public men of Canada, and that it would be lasting for the better good of the country. It was also the duty of all to seek to further union and tolerance among the various nationalities. In conclusion he hoped that the time would soon come when public men would not be afraid to speak out their sentiments on matters of public interest and that politicians would exercise more liberty of action in Parliament and not always make the interests of the country subservient to those of party.

GOOD WALKING.—On Saturday last Mr. E. and W. Jarvis, of the Bank of Montreal, walked 11 miles in 1h 51m on the Moosepath track. The St. John Telegraph says this is the best amateur record yet made for that city for straight high-and-the walking.

Mr. Joly's Reasons

FOR RESIGNING HIS SEAT RATHER THAN HELP IN THE RIEL AGITATION—HE IS OF OPINION THAT FRENCH-CANADIANS FREELY ENJOY THEIR RIGHTS—A CALM AND MANLY LETTER.

If I refuse to attend the mass for the rest of Riel's soul, it is not out of any religious prejudice. I have considered it my duty to attend the funeral of the Hon. Judge Caron, of the Hon. Luc Letellier de St. Just, and of other public men. Neither is it out of a want of respect for Riel's memory; the courage with which he met his death entitles him to the respect of all, even of those who cannot approve of his deeds. If I refuse to be present at the church and at the meeting called to adopt the resolutions of which you have sent me a copy, it is because I cannot approve of the agitation which is now carried on in the Province of Quebec. I find in the last of these resolutions the following words: "That it is desirable that all French-Canadians and those who sympathize with them should unite, in order to form a powerful party that will secure for us respect and the free enjoyment of our rights."

I am of opinion that the French-Canadians have the free enjoyment of their rights. If they have not made a better use of them, they can blame no one but themselves. I cannot see how the foundation of a new party, the National Party, could better their position, but I think I can see how it would make it worse and how it would endanger the future welfare of the Dominion. Born and educated in France, I returned to Canada after leaving college, a thorough Frenchman in feeling. It used to be a subject of deep astonishment to me, whenever I heard my opponents in our electoral struggles contest my right to represent French-Canadians in Parliament, on the ground that I could neither understand nor share their inmost feelings.

The day has arrived when I must admit that my opponents were not so far wrong on that point. I can neither understand nor share the feelings expressed, with so much force, by the great majority of the French-Canadians in the Province and in this county. Disagreeing as I do, with my constituents on such a point as this, I owe it to them to resign my seat, so as to allow the free exercise of their right to choose a representative who will sympathize with their feelings more fully than I can, and I send my resignation to the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly.

It only remains for me to thank you, gentlemen, and all the electors of the County of Lotbinière, for the great confidence shown me for so many years; with sincere wishes for your happiness and the welfare of our country.

I remain, Yours truly, H. G. JOLY.

Leclercville, November 25, 1885.

The Overland for December.

Advance notes announce the important features of the closing issue of The Overland for the current year. The leading article will be upon "The Lick Observatory" by Prof. Edward S. Holden, the new President of the University of California. This may be regarded as an authoritative statement on the Observatory, from the highest official source, and will be very attractive to general readers, as well as scientists.

"Personal Recollections of the Late John M. Callough," written by an old Californian and one of his most intimate friends, will form a notable feature. Prof. Howison will contribute an article entitled, "Is Modern Science Pantheistic?" An Army Officer of wide experience will make practical and pertinent "Suggestions on the Indian Question."

The Austrian Consul to Nicaragua will furnish some vivid sketches of "Travel in South America." "The Anti-Chinese Riot in Wyoming" will receive further attention, in an article treating it from another standpoint. There will be a careful study of the famous Hawaiian Volcanoes, by an old resident of the Islands. Dr. Le Conte's third paper on "Camping in the High Sierras" will describe Mt. Dana, Lakes Mono and Tahoe, glacial action and extinct volcanoes. Another feature will be a description of "A Wedding among the Communistic Russian Jews of Oregon." Charles A. Murdock will contribute a story entitled "A Problem of Love," the scenes in San Francisco and in summer camps of Marin. Another story will deal with the exciting period of the Anti-Opium Crusade in China. Charles Howard Shinn will furnish a story of the Upper Sacramento region, called "Shaata Lilies."

The Reviews of Holiday Books, Editorial Comment upon Educational and Literary Subjects, Poems and short Stories, will be fully up to the Overland's high standard. The December Number will also contain important announcements regarding the plans of the Magazine for 1886. Address—The Overland Monthly, 120 Sutter Street, San Francisco.

Dr. J. C. Wilson, Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used it as a general tonic, and in particular in the debility and dyspepsia of overworked men, with satisfactory results."
