Tignish Fisherman Stranded When Engine Breaks Down

TIGNISH — A Tignish fisherman, Guy Shea, missing since Saturday, was spotted standing by his boat on the shore at Conway inlet by an RCAF Search and Rescue plane from Summerside. Mr. Shea was spotted last evening about 6:30. Shea went to Stanley Bridge on Friday to sail a fishing boat back to Tignish. When he failed to arrive Saturday night the Department of Fisheries was notified and two boats from Tignish and an Alberton boat skip-pered by Lemont Hutt went to sea and searched as far as Malpeque Bay without results. The Summerside Air Force plane went out about five-fifteen Sunday.

Shea was reported to have had an engine failure on Friday near New London and was towed back to Stanley Bridge. He left Stanley Bridge Saturday morning and was accompanied as far as Malpeque Bay by another boat which left him about two o'clock Saturday. He again had engine trouble, and was very hungry when picked up by a boat from Rocky Point.

Alberton Native Passes In West

ALBERTON — Relatives in Alberton have received word of the death of William C. Wells, a native son of this town. He was born at the dock 77 years ago, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Wells.

In 1904 he went to Western Canada, living first in Wilkie, Sask., and more recently in Victoria, B.C. He became interested in lumbering and then in construction work and was eminently successful in this latter field. He founded the construction company which bears his name.

Death came to him at his summer home near Seakatoon. Surviving are his wife, the former Mabel MacKay of Cape Breton; one daughter, Barbara, married and living in Wilkie; two sons, John and Walston, and two sisters, Miss Agnes Wells of Braintree, Mass., and Mrs. Arthur Clark (Annie) of Alberton. The funeral and interment will be in Victoria, B.C. This afternoon.

INCOME FALLS
NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Prime Minister Nehru said in the House of the People here Thursday that the average annual income in India fell from 291.5 rupees (about $58) in 1956-57 to 239.1 rupees (about $47) in 1957-58. The second five-year plan inaugurated in 1956 aimed at increasing the average income by 16 per cent by 1961.

FALL LOBSTER SEASON OPENS

Cutting through the mist-shrouded waters of Summerside harbour, 17 boats headed for the lobster fishing grounds, loaded with traps, as the fall season opened for an estimated 150 boats from Victoria to North Cape. Fisheries Inspector Nor-ban MacLeod who gave the starting signal to the boats, was among the spectators that lined the end of the wharf to watch the colorful departure of the boats at the 10 a.m. starting time. (For story and other pictures see Page 1).

Presbyterian Charge Holds Two Vacation Bible Schools

Two Vacation Bible Schools were conducted in the Brookfield Presbyterian charge in July. The congregations of Hartsville, Hu-ler River and Broadalbane sponsored the school in Hartsville Church the week of July 13, and the following week Brookfield and Gilaogow Road held sessions in the Brookfield Church. Both schools were under the direction of Mr. Robert D. Bhe, minister of the Brookfield Charge. Mr. Robert Syme, student minister of Broadalbane Presbyterian Church was song leader and assistant director of the former. Miss Elizabeth Taylor was the organist.

The daily programme included group worship, Bible stories and lessons, memory verses, and handicraft, all of which were related to the theme "The King's Adventland". A contest based on attendance, having ones Bible, enrolment of new pupils, and achievement was held. Florence Kennedy was the winner at Hartsville, and Faye Gaster and Gail Good tied for first place at Brookfield.

HARTSVILLE
Seventy pupils registered at Hartsville on the opening day and the attendance increased daily until the concluding sessions on Friday when 109 were present.

Treats were donated during the week by Mr. Benjamin Cousins and Mr. Stephen Burns.

The closing programme held in Hartsville Church on Sunday afternoon, July 19 was largely attended. After the service the congregation viewed the display of handicraft.

Alberton Lady Is 101 Years Old

ALBERTON — Mrs. Thomas Wilkinson, Alberton, celebrated her one hundred and first birthday on Saturday.

Sunshine and shadow have touched her long life but a happy disposition and a strong Christian faith have enabled her to always see the bright side. She has not grown weary with the years and accepts philosophically the limitations they have placed upon her.

Always of a sociable nature, she continues to enjoy visits from friends old and new, even though she has difficulty in hearing conversation and in seeing faces.

She is able to be up every day and to spend some time out of doors on the verandah. Her health is remarkably good.

On her birthday she was gladdened by greetings, gifts and calls from many people.

Ripple Rock Chunk Moved

HALIFAX (CP) — The navy said here Tuesday that a nine-man frog team had removed "a significant chunk" out of Ripple Rock at the entrance to the harbor at Goose Bay, Labrador.

The navy said it had been advised by the United States Navy at Goose Bay that the Canadian team had completed blasting shoals on the south side of the channel. Still to be removed are portions of the rock on the north side.
