POLITICS VS. PEOPLE

Sir—I believe it was Willie Rogers who said the politics is applesauce. I don't know why Rogers' name is mentioned here when so many other sources are on the market, but since one of one kind or another is much in evidence in the political "brawl" nowadays. It is being spread on so that both parties and those who lead one to believe that the Canadians who are old enough to vote are nothing but a bunch of nuts.

TORONTO

TORONTO (CP)—After showing trendless action throughout most of the session, the stock market, led by industrials, ended trading moderate trading Monday.

And all of us ought to begin thinking on the National level, not seeking how much the government owes us, but how much we, the people, can do for our country in these difficult and troubled times.

Selling one's vote for anything but medicine, no matter how you look at it. It leads in the end to political bawling, and God knows we have seen the result of that thing during the history of our own glorious Dominion.

Perhaps the average person does not vote for anything in particular, but against something or someone who is like him. The true statesman ought to be able — it has been done by able men in the past — to bring a nation from what it is, into what it ought to be, never thinking of self-interest, or handing out the choice places to a handful of ardent supporters, as has so often happened in the past.

Don't go away mad.
Just go away in a Volkswagen.
You'll come back smiling on the money you saved going The Volkswagen averages 38 miles to a gallon of gas. In fact we've heard a few owners claim 50 mpg. (They're either very good drivers, or a little weak at mathematics.)
The Volkswagen is small change in other departments too.
For a start, the oil never needs topping between changes. And even when it is time for a change, two and one-fifth quarts will do it.
