HOW TO GET TO CHARLOTTETOWN

The steamer Halifax leaves Boston for Charlottetown every Saturday at noon and will be due at Charlottetown on Monday night. On the following Tuesday at one she will leave on return to Boston. Halifax and Port Hawkesbury are called at every trip. Passengers may take the steamer at any of the ports mentioned. The Halifax has been supplemented by the Grand Duchess.

The steamer City of Ghent plies between Halifax and Charlottetown each week, calling at several ports en route. She is due here every Thursday.

The steamers Coban, Bonavista, Campana, Tiber and Polino, of Montreal, also make Charlottetown a port of call.

Passengers for this Province coming by way of Pictou are brought to Charlottetown by the steamer Princess. Those coming by way of Point Du Chene connect with the steamer Northumberland, and may come through to Charlottetown by the mail special which leaves Summerside each evening immediately after the steamer reaches that port.

A Capital by Accident.

Nature never intended Berlin for anything but a provincial town. It has been made into the capital of a great empire deliberately—of malice aforethought. It has, in fact, been victimized by favorable circumstances. To the stranger there is nothing about it that fascinates, nothing that excites the imagination. It has neither the architectural beauty of Vienna nor the reckless gaiety of Paris; neither the vastness that surrounds London. It is a sprawling commercial town in the middle of a sandy plain. A muddy and most melancholy stream wanders unobtrusively through the center of the city as if rather ashamed of itself. To the north and south are forests of pine and plains of sand; to the east and west are plains of sand and forests of pine.

The Protean Kaiser.

The emperor of Germany receives and congratulates officers and functionaries just promoted, foreign ambassadors, German princes and members of the aristocracy, chatting with each a minute or two. Frequently he changes his uniform six or seven times, having enough uniforms of all nations, grades and arms to clothe a small army. Suppose the son of an artillery general comes to announce the death of his father. The kaiser, to honor the memory of a valued officer, dons the uniform of a general of artillery. He makes the costume fit the compliment. For foreign ambassadors or attaches he wears some uniform or decoration conferred on him by the sovereign of the dignitary in question.—Self Culture.
