

Hockey Deadline Extended To Feb.

MOSCOW (CP)—A Soviet sports committee spokesman said Monday the entry deadline for the world hockey championships in Moscow has been extended from Jan. 1 to Feb. 1. The championships are scheduled for Feb. 24-March 5.

He said applications have been received from five countries, in addition to Russia-Japan, Finland, Poland, Czechoslovakia and West Germany.

Officials of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association announced last month that Canada would not send a team to the Moscow matches. Russian intervention in the Hungarian revolt was given as the main reason.

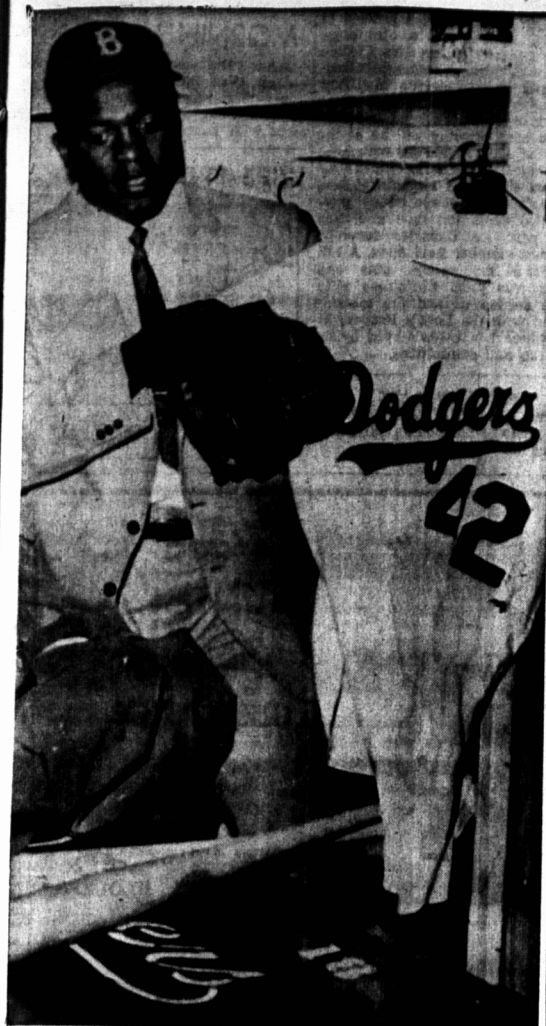

Supreme Court Rules Against Boxer Lou Nova

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The California Supreme Court Tuesday decided against former heavyweight boxer Lou Nova in his attempt to collect libel damages from Vincent X. Flaherty, columnist for the Los Angeles Examiner, and the Hearst Publishing Co., Inc.

The court denied Nova's petition for a hearing. This action makes final the decision of the state District Court of Appeals which last Nov. 13 reversed a $5,000 judgment won by Nova in Superior Court.

The Court of Appeals had reversed the Superior Court verdict favoring Nova on grounds that the jury was instructed erroneously on the law of libel.

Nova contended his reputation was damaged when Flaherty wrote that Nova was "cowardly" in his fight with heavyweight champion Joe Louis Sept. 29, 1941. Flaherty denied malice and contended that his account was true and also was fair comment.

JACKIE EMPTIES LOCKER

Jackie Robinson, 38, a Brooklyn Dodgers star for 10 years, emptied his locker at Ebbets Field after announcing his retirement from baseball to become a vice-president in charge of personnel for a restaurant chain. His decision to quit nullified a trade in which Jackie would have gone across the river to play for New York Giants.

Robinson Still Makes News

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP)—The Jackie Robinson retirement story still is a prime topic of conversation and editorial comment around New York, partly because it has debatable issues and partly because these are the dog days in sports when news is scanty.

The facts are pretty well known by now. The ex-Brooklyn Dodger star two years ago made an agreement with Look to give that magazine an exclusive on the announcement of his retirement for a reported $50,000 as part of a package deal, and he signed as vice-president of a snack-bar chain about 20 minutes before he was notified he had been traded to New York Giants.

The most questions are: Should he have given preference to the magazine and ignored the newspaper reporters who had given him such a good press down through the years? Should he have notified the Giants immediately when he decided not to play more baseball instead of leaving them with the impression he would play?

Concerning the first question who can criticize Robinson for making the deal with Look when it meant $50,000 to him? News-

I.B.C. Spokesman Says Television Killing Off Boxing

CLEVELAND (AP)—The chief defense counsel for the International Boxing Guild, an organization on trial on charges of violating the U.S. Sherman anti-trust law, said Monday that television may kill off boxing and other professional sports.

Edwin Knache, lawyer for the IBG, said boxing and all sports "are facing their doom because of the influence first of radio but primarily of television."

IBG objections to revised "studio" bouts put on by a local television station led to the anti-trust charges now being heard in federal court.

The IBG, the Boxing Guild of Ohio and three officers of the two organizations, are accused of conspiring to fix prices and boycott studio bouts and anyone connected with them.

Knache said the IBG is interested only in making certain that fighters "got a fair share of the proceeds."

100,000 Greet Soviet Athletes

MOSCOW (AP)—A crowd estimated at 100,000 turned out Tuesday to welcome another group of Soviet athletes on their return from the Olympic games at Melbourne.

Among the newcomers was Vladimir Kuts, double gold medal winner in distance races at the games, and other Russian athletes who returned by plane last month.

Mrs. Becket's husband, an all-star member of the Saskatchewan Roughriders football team, was among those aboard the missing plane.
