Magic Healer Salve.

WEST CAPE, August 4, 1890.

Mrs. Ross—I wish to inform you that your "Magic Healer" Salve has proved a sure cure for Salt Rheum. A young lady residing in my house tested the Salve, and found it the best article she ever tried, after using other Salves without doing any good. I recommended her to try the "Magic Healer," and before using half a box, the Salt Rheum disappeared. I cheerfully furnish the above facts. And remain, yours,

ALFRED McWILLIAMS.

Big Bargains in Xmas Groceries,

BEER & GOFF'S.

WE WANT to do a larger Xmas trade this year than we have ever done before, and are therefore going to offer our entire stock of RAISINS, CURRANTS, PEELS, ESSENCES, etc., at the lowest Rock Bottom Cash figures. Call and see our prices before buying anywhere else.

Raisins and Currants.—We have received over 6,000 pounds of Cooking Raisins, including some Layer Valentias, which are very fine this year; and as we have marked them all down low we expect them to go off quick. Our stock of Layer Raisins is also very large and the quality excellent. We have just received a lot of the "Black Basket" brand, and they keep up their reputation for the best Table Raisins going.

Candied Peels.—Just received from London, a lot of KEILLER'S CITRUS, LEMON and ORANGE PEEL, which we are selling much cheaper than usual on account of a drop in the price abroad.

Essences and Spices.—Imported direct from the manufacturers and guaranteed STRICTLY PURE and UNADULTERATED. Bring along your empty bottles and have them refilled.

Special Notice to Retailers.

Our Stock of NUTS, DATES, FIGS, APPLES and XMAS CONFECTION-ERY is very large and varied, and we think it will pay you to look at it if you want

MORE ABOUT LICENSE.

By Prof. Geo. E. Foster, M. P., Minister of Finance.

I. What license means.

It is important that in the first place we should get a clear perception of all that is meant by the word license.

The underlying idea is that of permission or allowance. A hackman's license, for instance, permits him to engage in the business of cab-driving, a marriage license permits two persons to be legally united in wedlock, and a liquor license permits a person to sell intoxicating liquors.

This permission or allowance always carries with it the idea of right. When a parent or teacher permits a child to do a certain thing, the child instinctively feels that the thing itself is right and not wrong. Similarly, when the law licenses or permits anything to be done, it teaches that what it permits is correct in principle and expedient in practice. When, therefore, a community or a country issues licenses it does three things:

1. It calls the dram shop into existence and permits its work.
2. It declares that the dram shop is correct in principle and expedient in practice.
3. It pledges its authority to the protection of the dram shop, in its congenial and permitted work.

II. What it is we license. Before a community calls an institution into existence, declares it right, and pledges protection to it, the people should carefully consider what are its aims and effects.

1. It provides nothing useful. No fabrics to wear, no food to sustain the body, no implements of labor, no books to inform the mind, no article of comfort for the home, nothing that adorns civilization, elevates society, or adds a single impulse of good to the community, can be found on its shelves or within its four walls. If every dram shop in America were to be burned to-morrow, the country would not lose a single iota in all that goes to clothe, feed, develop and beautify her millions.

2. It encourages idleness. A dram shop immediately reduces "loafing" to a fine art. It is a convenient place to "drop into." Some of the "boys" are always on hand. There is constantly something to hear or see. Games for the idle hour are ever ready. Drinks are forthcoming at any moment, and stories and songs fill in the intervals.
All are invited and welcome to stay.
And thus the dram shop is continually turning the active and industrious into the idle and shiftless. Thus it is a standing peril to the children in its neighborhood.

3. It is a school for tippling. The principal object of the dram shop is to get sober people to tinkle, and tippers to drink to excess. It exists for no other purpose,—if it succeeds in doing this its gains increase; if it fails, it starves and dies. Unless it is able to turn sober children into drinking men and women, it must cease with the present generation. So its aim is to debauch each generation of children.
It greedily eyes the school and homes, and sets itself to trap the innocent.

The "stand" is chosen in the most public resorts, the temptations are made as alluring as possible, the bar-keeper is selected with this point in view, the host puts on his blandest manner—all to gain custom; that is, to induce sober people to tinkle and tippers to drink more and more. In no other way can they reap their harvest of gain.

4. It breeds disorder, vice, poverty and crime. We would scarcely ever hear of a brawl or fight if it were not for the dram shop.

III. What the voter does by licensing it. Christian voter, before you cast your ballot for the dram shop, please think that by your licensing it:

1. You compromise with wrong.
Suppose a man comes to you and says, "Sir, you have a nice boy growing up there, I will pay you one hundred dollars if you will give me the liberty to teach him to tinkle and drink. I will not compel him, but simply use attractive display and persuasion upon him."

You indignantly repel the awful proposition. But a friend standing near says, "You might as well take the one hundred dollars; if you refuse, he will get your boy in some secret and illicit way, and teach him to drink.
Your boy will learn to drink all the same, and you will have the one hundred dollars." And yet you repel with perfect abhorrence the suggestion that you should allow anyone, for a money consideration, to attempt the ruin of your boy. But when a man goes to your corporation and says, "I will give you one hundred dollars if you will allow me to teach as many of the boys in your country or city as I can allure to tinkle and drink," what do you say?

2. You go into partnership with the traffic. The dram shop destroys a happy home, and mother and children sit weeping and broken-hearted in its ashes. You must be quiet, for in your pocket clinks a portion of the silver into which that happy home was pitilessly transmuted. And when at the end of the year the dram seller counts up the gains,—while outside you behold the ruin, the vice, the misery and the sorrow which have been wrought—he invites you and with almost demonic leer says to you, "I know it looks ugly out there, but I have the gains and here's your share, sir. We're partners, you know." Can you partnership the traffic?

3. You lend it respectability and sanction. The liquor traffic without license is a vagabond, a bankrupt, an out-law. It slinks about with the brand of Cain on its brow whoever finds it may slay it.

The very moment you license it, it is entitled to claim full citizenship; it lifts its head boldly on your best streets; it is recognized as full brother to every useful and legitimate business; it wears the full flowing garments of respectability and sanction, and leans for support on your schools, your churches and your laws. Every voter who casts his ballot for license practically throws his own mantle of character and respectability about the traffic and endorses its work.

Without license. It has no abiding and secure place. It haunts the alleys and dark ways. Wherever it shows its hand, the law descends upon it.
If it injures, the injured one can demand and obtain redress. It is haunted by the millions of the law and has the registered condemnation of the people lunging over against it—a continually impending sentence.

5. You become responsible for what it does. When the unlicensed dram shop plies its illicit trade and works its evil, the whole weight and responsibility falls upon the head of the law breaker. Him the law holds guilty in the sight of heaven.

When you license it, you—the voters—share the responsibility for all the ruin that is wrought. Has it ruined a home? You made it possible, and as the just eye of God looks down upon the desolate earth, and listens to the cry of the lone one for vengeance, He sees the poor over-taxed appeti-tized one at whose feet lies part of the guilt; He sees the dram seller behind the bar who pitilessly fed the passion for drink which finally burned out all love and duty; and He sees behind all, the men who placed the dram seller in the position to cause his ruin, and He holds them responsible. They had a part in the desolation of that home, and will He not make requisition at their hands?

Arise quickly, O Christian voter, and come out from this awful partnership, which throws upon your soul part guilt for every broken heart, every saddened home, every wrecked life, which, but for the dram shop you placed in their way, might have been singing for joy, brightened with sunlight hope, and filled full of refining influence.

Sayings of Rev. Sam Jones.

The biggest fraud in God's world today is the cry for "high license." The church that will house a man that sells whiskey is a detestable fraud.

If your party has to ride into power astride a whiskey barrel it ought to be hurt.

The liquor traffic ought to be made so odious that nobody but an infernal acounter will sell it, and nobody but an infernal fool will drink it.

A woman that marries a man with whiskey on his breath is the biggest fool in the world, except the one that stirs the toddy for him after he is married.
