What Is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food?

In appearance Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is an oval, chocolate coated pill. In the condensed form it contains all of nature's most strengthening and invigorating tonic and restoratives and for this reason it is unapproached as a blood builder and nerve restorative. It cures all diseases caused by thin blood and exhausted nerves and makes pale, weak nervous men, women and children strong and healthy. 50 cents a box.

P. E. I. NOT REPRESENTED.

met an official of this government in front of this building, and I knew that he had been in contact with Pineau, and I asked him where Pineau was, I asked him: Did you see him while he was here. He said: 'Yes.' I asked: 'Where is he now?' He replied: 'He left yesterday with Mr. Tarte.' I asked if it was for Paris, and he said: 'Yes' it seems whether the intention was he did not go to Paris as I stated; but the evidence I have submitted, much of which was known to me when I made my former statement to the House, and the conversation of this gentleman in the office employ of the government of Canada, and who knew Pineau,—that official's statement in conjunction with all this information which within the scope of my knowledge, fully justified me in saying that Pineau had gone to Paris. If the government changed its mind, and dropped Pineau somewhere near New York or Boston, after he left Ottawa, I could not be held responsible for that. I have submitted the declaration and evidence to this House to show that this man was approached and approached by some person about whom we have recently had a discussion in this House, as having been given a monopoly of handling and controlling the fisheries bounty cheques, and it appears this man is recognized by the officers of the department and was made the custodian and dispenser of fishing bounty cheques in the district of Tignish. Taking that in connection with the affidavits which I have read from two highly responsible men, that Pineau told them this man approached him, in February, and offered him this position, telling him he could go to Paris Exposition, and Pineau's own letter in which he said that the government received him well and that he was waiting to go on which he expected would be the next day, all shows most conclusively that, as far as poor Pineau was concerned at least, he thought he was going on to Paris up to a very late period in the negotiations, and that he was dropped out latter on, for what reason can be best known to those who had control of the negotiations. Anyway Pineau's letter reveals this act, he was received and received well by the government at Ottawa. The affidavits reveal the fact that he was approached by a person, who was recognized by the government, we know, in another matter, as a trustworthy person, all of which goes to show that this matter of the employment of the man to represent the province of Prince Edward Island, at the Paris Exposition, was made a matter of political concern for a political purpose, and that this Dr. Wickham was no doubt authorized, and that his instructions were to send this man to the Premier, at Charlottetown, and the Deputy Minister of Public Works, at Ottawa. Taken in conjunction with Pineau's own letter, that he was well received by the government and was waiting to go on, which he expected would take place that day or the next day—on this evidence I think hon. gentlemen will admit that I have made out a clear and substantial case, and that this is a veritable scandal.

"I felt relief one hour after taking the first pill. It is a great source of comfort to me to know that there is a medicine to help my weak kidneys. Those wishing further particulars may address me as above."

dal that has occurred in our country. A member of a provincial legislature, a man whose political faith was so strong, that he became a candidate against his own brother-in-law, accepted the nomination of a political convention and was elected by the efforts of a political party, and after that election was over, the organ of the government admitted a substantial and decided defeat, and not only that, but Pineau showed by his action on the 23rd of January, in seconding the resolution I have read, that he was a most uncompromising opponent of the government of the day. Then we have the evidence which follows afterwards that he was approached by this man Wickham to go to Paris—that he was induced to leave his home and to abandon meetings of his constituents that he had called for the purpose of political organization, and was induced to go one step after another he until, finally, went to the legislature and voted in direct opposition to the way he was elected to vote.
