NOTES AND COMMENTS

One hundred and thirty boys from the Quarrier Home, in Scotland, are now on their way out to Canada.

The budget speech was delivered last night by Premier Peters. It was a rather tame presentation of the case for the Government. Hon. Mr. Gordon's reply was brief and to the point.

The public debt of the United States was increased during the past month by $1,812,152. The amount of the new four per cent bonds issued during the month was $28,807,900.

They are taking steps for the better enforcement of the Scott Act in Montreal. A committee of twenty-five members of the Peers Council, Royal Templars of Solomon's Temple, was recently appointed to confer with a similar committee from the W. C. T. U. and Sons of Temperance. The idea is to take action through the City Council.

The Montreal Witness, (grit) says of the common leadership: Mr. Foster has the support of a majority of the leaders and organs of the party, and they have certainly much to argue in his favor. He is the most effective parliamentary man in the government. He is an able, thorough and industrious administrator, and has always given close attention to business in the House. He better than any other commands the confidence of the party.

L'Electeur.—Mr. Laurier's organ—says that the government will do nothing for the Roman Catholics. By way of sustaining the opinion, it adds: "The principal object in life is to absorb or destroy the Catholic and French element in Canada." The organ finally reminds us that "Mr. Laurier recently said at St. Jerome, Quebec, that he would not do anything for the Catholics, but it will be by the liberal party." But Mr. Laurier says nothing!

—Montreal Times: The Toronto Globe dropped more truth than it thought when it said, "Sir Mackenzie Bowell can operate a cabinet quite as well as anyone else in the government. He is an able, thorough and industrious administrator, and has always given close attention to business in the House. He better than any other commands the confidence of the party."

PROVINCIAL LEGISLATURE.

FRIDAY, APRIL 5.

After recess the bill relating to the repeal of black knot, was further considered in committee and reported agreed to and ordered to be read a third time to-morrow.

On motion of Mr. H. C. Macdonald, the bill to confirm the title of land in the Hazel Brook Dairying Company was read a second time in committee. With Mr. Prowse in the chair. Reported agreed to and ordered to be read a third time to-morrow.

On motion of Mr. Warburton the act to incorporate the trustees of the Presbyterian Church at Stanley Bridge was read a second time in committee. Mr. McKinnon in the chair. Reported agreed to with amendments and ordered to be read a third time to-morrow.

Hon. Mr. Peters presented the report of the Registrar of Deeds for 1894. On motion of Hon. Mr. Peters, the "Land Purchase Act of 1893" was read a second time in committee with Mr. Warburton in the chair. Progress was reported.

At five o'clock His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor arrived, and in Her Majesty's name assented to the bill respecting the incorporation of butter and cheese manufacturing associations. The bill goes into effect at once.

At the evening session Hon. Mr. Peters, in moving that the House resolve itself into committee of supply, claimed that from 1884 up to last year no effort was made to make revenue and expenditure meet, and that a deficit was invariably the result of each year's transactions. In 1891 the Government made an extra effort to make revenue and expenditure meet, but although about $70,000 was realized from the Land Office there was a deficit of $1,000,000. The deficit was not a new departure, and they were more successful. For the first time since the Davies administration was in power the Government determined to raise sufficient revenue to meet their running expenses. The estimates of last year were real estimates, the actual expenditure coming within $2,900 of the sum estimated. He thought this was a very good showing. He had the statements from the year 1881 to the year 1894 inclusive, and the nearest they ever came to the showing of last year was in 1882 when they came within $700,000. The difference was much larger in other years. The estimates of the preceding Government were wide of the mark. He believed estimates should always be real. The Government are the guardians of the people's money and it is their duty to see that the expenditure is kept close to the amount estimated. In very few instances were the estimates of last year exceeded. It was true that the Public Accounts showed a deficit of $20,164. But it was only an apparent deficit. The capital account amounts to $22,800, and if they were to take this off they would have a surplus. The capital account included a new boiler for the Hospital for the Insane, which was good for the next 15 or 20 years and should not be charged against the year. They also fitted up a new department in the Provincial Building, which was good for years. There was also an expenditure of $7,400 for the steamer Hillsborough, which should not be charged against the year. Then there is the claim against the Steamship Florida, which should be in the suspense account. There was also an expenditure of $2,100 for road machines. These few items alone foot up $13,298.

—Meers, W. P. Stead and B. O. Flower, who have studied the question in Europe and America, say the main causes of social impurity are, 1st, ignorance of matters that mothers should teach; and 2nd, our double standard of morals that makes an outcast of the woman and allows the man to retain his position in society, and 3rd, the poverty and misery that surrounds the poor in our large cities. Helen W. Gardner, Lady Stanger, Francis E. Willard, Edgar Fawcett and others support the conclusions of the above gentlemen. They also name heredity, parental influences and the age limited by our country laws as being additional factors responsible for a large portion of the evil. All the authorities on the subject agree as to the main causes, and the array of facts by which they sustain their views admit of no reasonable doubt.

—Among the men who have been discussing the Manitoba school question is Rev. Mr. Grant, a Baptist minister at Winnipeg. Speaking at an Orange banquet, Mr. Grant referred to certain severe remarks of his own on another occasion, after which he explained his present position. He is thus reported:

"Both the Confederation and Manitoba acts proved that the provinces cannot take away rights conferred since entering confederation. Looking at the question in that light, and after hearing the full text of the remedial order, he retracted all reflections on the Dominion Cabinet, and was glad the provincial government had decided to take time to consider the whole matter. If there was any fault it was in the Act of Confederation, and to secure equal rights and privileges that constitution would have to be changed. He urged patience and unity in seeking to settle the question, and believed that calm deliberation would ultimately establish the principle of national schools."

—From several of our wide-awake advertisers who make use of our widely-circulated paper, we notice a nascent tendency towards the cash system. The old-fashioned, worn-out method of allowing bills to run on for an almost interminable length of time, cannot be adopted with advantage to either party in this progressive age. Such a system is unfair to the merchant and cruel to the buyer. We all know that under the credit system the merchant must add a certain percentage to the price of the goods in order to recover himself for bad debts. This means one of two things, that the seller has to raise two prices, but state the fixed price and keep to the truth; if he does not get his price, he gets the truth and is rich in the possession of his integrity. Through the credit system people have been tempted to buy things they could really do without—thinking that in the future some lucky windfall would drop at their feet and thus enable them to meet the bill when due. Plautus in her "Aseberia," introduces a passage showing the custom of the ancient Greeks, Coelestia: "When I send for a lot to the taker's, for wine to the vintner's, certainly the articles are delivered; but when? Why, as soon as those people have touched the cash. She goes on in her speech to contrast the difference between cash payment on the one hand and of credit on the other. It would not be a bad idea to go back two centuries before the Christian era and copy their way of doing business."

—A new concern has been organized in New York with a capital of $1,600,000, which will fight the Bell Telephone Company.
