

Joe Louis To Meet Jimmy Bivins

BALTIMORE, July 26—(AP)—Baltimore fight promoter Benny Trotta today named Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland the opponent for Joe Louis in a scheduled ten-round fight here Wednesday, Aug. 15. The veteran 31-year-old Bivins has an impressive 12-year ring record against competition from all levels. He lost a decision to Ezzard Charles in 1948.

Majority Of Sydney Players Will Return For 1951-52 Season

SYDNEY, N. S., July 26—(CP)—Majority of members of Sydney Millionaires, Maritime senior hockey champions, plan to return this year, a club spokesman said tonight. Word has been received from defencemen Tom Rockey, the off-season undertaker, Laurie May and Ronnie Matthews, a two-year veteran, and centre Alex Birukow, returning for his fourth campaign. Still in the city are utility player Don (Red) McRae, centres Cliff Roach and Don (Whip) Whalen. Ottawa Senators of the Quebec Senior League are interested in a trade involving Fred Hildebrand, high scoring Sydney winger for the last two campaigns. A deal is pending.

Quebec Aces are also interested in big Bob Bowness of Montreal. Cape Breton goal scoring champion last season, Bowness missed most of the playoffs due to injuries. He has been with the club for two seasons. Millionaires, who had four coaches in their four straight title triumphs, will make another shift for next season. Currently favored is a former National Hockey League player with professional experience. Henry (Hank) Hayes of Montreal was playing coach when the rebuilding started. Jack Fritz directed the team the following year, and then came Murph Chamberlain, former N.H.L. firebrand. Veteran O.H.A. rearguard Bill Dinning of Hamilton had the job last season.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

In discussing Frank St. John's freak hit which ruined Alan Stewart's chances of pitching a no-hitter last Monday, you may remember we said: "Perhaps there is an angle of the play we are not considering but for a batter to throw his bat into fair territory either deliberately or accidentally in such a way as to prevent a fielder making a play, and remain unpunished doesn't make sense with us."

Well, the angle we were not considering has been supplied in a letter we received from George Francis of Charlottetown, and for which we are grateful. George quotes the rule which he says was amended either at New York, Feb. 5, 1951, or at Tampa, Florida, March 14, 1951, and he underlines in red ink what we will put in black face type: "If the runner drops his bat and the ball rolls against the bat and, in the umpire's judgment, there is no intention to interfere with the course of the ball, the ball is alive and in play."

George asked us to query the umpire, Jack Schurman, if St. John dropped his bat and if the ball rolled against the bat. Umpire Schurman was very cooperative and said that in his judgment the batter dropped the bat all right, but that instead of the ball rolling against the bat, he bat rolled and hit the ball. Whew! Half a sec, please, while we reach for an aspirin.

Let's see, where were we?

HENDERSON & CUDMORE

WHERE QUALITY IS SURE

Ordinarily if a batter drops his bat it does not roll very much, and if it does, would you say he threw the bat? On the other hand, if the batter rolls and balls up the hit, and the umpire balls out the batter—no, that wouldn't do. Gromyko would certainly veto that; might even walk right out of the building. That, we think, calls for something stronger than aspirin.

In any case, George's explanation has helped a lot and we can see that in that particular situation the batter's intention could well be taken into account. No batter could be so clever as to drop his bat in such a way that the ball would roll against it and still make it look like an accident. That would require expert knowledge of billiards, blind man's buff and how to win friends and influence umpires. We had to take the word "people" out of there because, as you probably know, umpires are definitely not people.

In the light of what George Francis has said, and what umpire Jack Schurman has said, (although the bat and ball reversed their respective roles) and what we ourselves saw of the play, we think that the umpire may have been correct in declaring the runner safe. Thanks a lot, George.

Lippy Gaudet's Curran & Briggs gals have won two games this week, defeating Holman's girls' softball team 16 to 5, and edging out the R.C.A.F. ladies 8 to 7. There are three girls' softball teams active in the town now with a possibility that Summerside High might make it four. Now seems to be the time to organize a league for those three or four teams, so that the winners might advance in the Island play-downs.

Earl Smith, last year's Island tennis champion, has reached the finals in this year's championship tourney and will play his final matches Saturday. Summerside sport fans are hoping Earl will make it two in a row.
