

the proposed communication, to be made by land or water, between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans in the States of Central America and of New Grenada.

The Intelligencer with great propriety calls this the Great Treaty. If the hopes of those persons who propose a ship canal between the Oceans shall ever be made real, this Treaty will prove the medium of securing the most remarkable water communication in the world. Such a communication, it is true, whenever made would effect first, a commercial revulsion, sudden enough to be hazardous, for it would bring about the change forever of those commercial arrangements which have now been sanctioned and followed for centuries. But as it would shorten the communications on some of the world's greatest lines of travel, it would be an enterprise well worthy of the civilization of the time:—and the commercial enterprise, which is the most remarkable feature of that civilization.

If the great work proposed, of a ship canal, is ever to be accomplished in our time, it will be by the means and protection afforded by this treaty. However that may prove, the treaty is still to be regarded "a great treaty," for the dignified and impartial way in which it puts an end to a petty controversy between the two nations:—for its generous abandonment of any local interests of the one nation or of the other;—for the sincerity in which it calls on the civilized world to aid in an undertaking of universal importance:—and for the support which it will give to the lesser works of communication which will be built before the great Inter Oceanic is completed.

Patent Artificial Slate,

AND UNCHANGEABLE METALIC PAINTS; PROOF AGAINST FIRE AND WATER.

MANUFACTURED AT THE PATENTEE, IN COLCHESTER, NOVA SCOTIA.

THE ARTIFICIAL SLATE is the product of a mixture of mineral substances known to be the best non-conductors of heat as well as the most indestructible; the Chemical affinity of which, converts the surfaces of materials covered into a Coating of Actual Slate—Proof against FIRE and WATER. Thus the laws of nature are made to accomplish results, as surprising as they are useful, by rendering wooden fabrics as durable as Brick or Stone, and less impervious to moisture, and consequently preventing decay and destruction from corroding influences hitherto supposed unattainable.

The principal ingredients are Alumina, Silica and the Oxides of Iron. The adhesive quality of the latter, not only binds but attracts the particles together, but the substance covered also. The longer exposed to the weather the more powerful the attraction, and consequently the harder the Slate. As various shades of colour are obtained, Brick Buildings may be made impervious to moisture and the fashionable colours of either Free Stone or Granite. The oil must be evaporated by the action of the weather before it is Fire proof, which will take from nine to twelve months.

The METALLIC PAINTS, Purple and Red, are offered as Weather and Water proof solely. Their base being Iron, secures them from Galvanic action, so fatal to lead and other Paints on Iron work—and their chemical combination makes it impossible that any change should take place from atmospheric influence or the action of Salt Water and Sulphurated hydrogen, so prevalent in Sea Ports and tidal Harbours. They surpass all Paints yet discovered in Cheapness and Durability, which render them preeminently adapted to the covering of all kinds of Ironwork, such as Shipping, Mills, Bridges, Steam Machinery, Railway Cars, and Iron Railing. The Metallic Paints have been analysed by Professor Hays, of Boston.

The following is an extract from his certificate:—
"As a permanent pigment, this mineral must rank with the most indestructible and unchangeable bases. For covering Metallic Ware, its composition shews that it is eminently fitted.

"Signed, AUGT. A. HAYS, State Assayer."

DIRECTIONS.—Artificial Slate: Mix the powder with pure Boiled Lined Oil and a little Spirits of Turpentine, to the consistency of very thick Paint, and applying with a common Brush, being careful to keep the mixture well stirred while putting it on. One pound will cover ten square feet with two coats.

The Metallic Paints are mixed and put on like an ordinary Paint.

JOHN ROSS, Patentee.

The above new and really valuable Compounds will on trial, be found to sustain the characters given of them; large sales of each have been, and are being made, in the United States of America, as also in New Brunswick where paints are extensively used for coating Ships generally; and are acknowledged as being particularly well adapted to covering the bottoms of sea-going vessels.

The extreme cheapness and unequalled qualities of these indisputably valuable materials, commend them to individual interest and general adoption. They are for Sale at Longworth's Buildings, Water Street, by ANDREW MITCHELL, Agent at Charlottetown, for the Patentee.
