POVERTY — Alex Burke:

"Will expose sources of poverty"

by dave macleod

"We intend to uncover and publicize the sources which cause and promote poverty," said Charlottetown Poverty Committee leader Alex Burke while addressing a Progressive Conservative rally last Saturday.

Mr. Burke made it clear that he was speaking in a non-political role, but indicated his committee would accept help from any quarter.

He said that many roads had been paved in this province and that now was the time to start work on the road to recovery of P.E.I.'s underprivileged citizens.

Burke said that already the poor were outlining their problems at Committee meetings, and that he intended to solve them. "I know what they are going through," said Burke.

His committee plans to deal with the rent situation, housing, juvenile delinquency and other problems, and gave graphic example of what his committee has already uncovered.

"Who is better qualified to change our environment but the poor," said Burke, and further stated that mutual respect between the poor and other groups would lead to increased support for the committee's cause.

He was introduced at the meeting by Young Progressive Conservative Provincial President Vimy Gregory who stated that the Conservative Party should make sure that more people are involved in fighting poverty. "The voice of those who should be heard must be heard," said Gregory.

Paul Jelley played an outstanding game in the nets. Jelley broke up several Mountie breakaways as he poked-checked the puck away from the onrushing offense.

The defensive squads of Carson and Ballem, Chandler and MacDougall played steadily and must be credited in stopping many of Mount Allison shots.

With this victory the Panthers upped their season record to 3-2; following last week's two heart-breaking defeats at Dal. and Acadia.

Barry Turner broke the shut-out at the 10:53 mark of the first period. Cecil Mac-
