DO YOU ADMIRE STRONG AND HEALTHY BABIES?
Lactated Food Gives Health, Strength and Heartiness.
There is no artificial food in the world that contains so many muscle and tissue-forming qualities as Lactated Food. A well-known Canadian physician recently affirmed that the large majority of foods now sold were of no real value as flesh and bone producer.
Lactated Food is the best diet for the infant's development and strengthening.
Lactated Food is easily digested and assimilated and does not cause inflamation and irritation of the stomach and digestive organs as other foods do.
Lactated Food saves baby from dysentry diarrhœa and cholera infantum.
Lactated food will make baby well, if it is sick, cross or peevish at present.
Lactated Food is the best on earth for infants when teething comes on; it keeps them bright and happy.
Lactated Food "saves babies" lives."

THE ART OF GOING WITHOUT.

The hard times through which we are passing, and which have been severely felt by many Canadians as well as by our friends to the south of us, have taught many lessons, perhaps not least of these being the art of going without. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, writing for the Outlook, under the heading above says:

The practice of economy needs training as much as the practice of any other science; and the worst of a situation like the present is that so many of us are forced into the exercise of a skill for which we are without education of hand or brain or spirit.

Like everything else in this life poverty, whether relative or absolute, can be made a cross or a crown. It is all in the way we take it. Who of us has not known homes where the sweet, bright spirit that ruled them has wrought romance out of sodden care and rude denial? In later life, when we look back upon the deprivations of our first youth, what is that we most vividly remember—the things we had, or the things we did not have? A hundred to one, I venture to say, we recall the glory of possession rather than the gloom of denial. The little inventions and plots and plans by which a quick brain and cheery heart contrive to bridge the black chasm between demand and supply "hold fast all they gave us" of the sweetest things in character and the bravest things in love.

The art of going without may be slowly, but it can be brightly, learned. It needs due patience, some pluck, and, doubtless, the proper share of Christian grace and resignation. But it needs something else, if I may say so, just as important, and more apt to be overlooked. It needs them ere worldly qualities of good sense and inventive ability. It is not enough to accept the will of the Lord, and give up one's trip abroad. One prefers to do it gracefully, graciously, and even with a disposition to be jolly about it. It is not enough distinctly to buy no new clothes, or go without furs, or substitute corned beef for sirloin roast, or a corn cob pipe for regalias. It is worth while to see the "fun" in it, since it has got to be done. It is not enough to cut down the open fires, and curtail the egg bills, and wear the overcoat chiny in the seams, or even to resign from the club and read the magazines at the public library. Rather make an interesting game of deprivation, and play for the stakes of sweet temper and a merry courage, and the class of values which are to be had by going without another class.

It is not easy to say, till one has studied the matter in the school of absolute experience, how few things there are in life that can be classified as the must-be, the essential. When the horses' feet are gone, one's own are left. When the cook refuses reduction of wages, there is the cook book, and brain and hands to use it. Must the parlor be repapered? But why? Must the boy have the dues for his secret society? Let him earn them, as his father did before him. "I lived all summer at Cottage City," said the mistress of one of our most complex Boston mansions, "with one maid, and only four dishes to cook with."

In fine, how serious is the affliction of plain living and high thinking? Is it not hazarding much to say that it is the lightest to which fate has seen fit to expose our tossed and tested lives. That was a wise philanthropist who dared to say: "Cold and hunger are not the worst things in the world." At all events, to think so is going far toward making ready to endure them should they indeed befall.

THE LANGLEY CASE.
Lansing People Hear of His Illness and Subsequent Cure while in London, Ont.—Much Pleasure Manifested Over the News.
LANSING, Mich., July 2—A friend of William Langley formerly of this city, now of London Ont., received a letter a few months ago stating that Mr. Langley had Bright's disease. Of course no hope of his recovery could be held out. Within a month, the same friend has received a letter from Mr. Langley stating that he is completely cured of the supposed fatal disorder. Mr. Langley says no medicine did him any good until he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. These helped him from the first and in the end restored him to perfect health. .....

London is a unique city in many respects, but the climax would seem to be reached in that part of it that lies below its surface. Beneath Queen Victoria St., a busy thoroughfare, runs a steam railway, reaching its terminus at about 63 ft. below the streets, where it communicates with another line, the Central London, at a depth of 80 feet.

The oil or the Norwegian Cod Liver is nature's grand restorative, and is only found in its entirety and purity in Miller's Emulsion, "the kind that cures" colds, coughs, bronchitis and all affections of the throat and lungs. Every bottle warranted. No oily taste like others. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00, at druggists. .....

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.
"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ar.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

CAUSE OF BOWEL COMPLAINTS.
The direct cause of pain and looseness of the bowels, is an irritation of the mucous membrane of the same, sufficient to produce excessive peristaltic or worm-like motion in the interior of the bowels, thus the partly digested food matter is kept constantly passing along and evacuated freely. This is called a diarrhœa; where the irritation is enough to cause bleeding, we have dysentery. Indirect causes of diarrhœa, by which an irritation is started are intestinal dyspepsia, overeating unripe or over-ripe fruit, tainted meats, or oysters etc.; torpor of liver, by which not enough bile is secreted; excessive flow of bile, etc.; TREATMENT. Thoroughly evacuate the bowels with Parsons' Pills, they are among the best to get rid of all irritating matter. Then take Johnson's Anodyne Liniment in teaspoonful doses diluted with water, every four hours, and oftener if the case is severe. In case of Asiatic cholera, one teaspoonful should be given every half hour. Thousands of people remember the year 1849, when the worse known epidemic disease spread over this country. Johnson's Anodyne Liniment at that time was little known outside of the state of Maine. But for its use at that time by its friends, many would not now live to spread the joyful news that any case of diarrhœe, dysentery, cholera-morbus, or kindred diseases, can be cured by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It never yet failed. The proprietors, I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send their new illustrated book, entitled "TREATMENT FOR DISEASES," free to any person for the asking. July 25

When anything of real worth appears, there is sure to be appreciative response. At this moment Priestley's dress fabrics are worn by most of the well dressed ladies in Great Britain. They have the foundation of durability; but they add grace to merit. They are manufactured to realize a tasteful woman's ideal in dress—fineness of texture with softness of effect—in the folds, flowing lines without formality. Ladies who have worn Priestley's black dress goods will never think of wearing any other, the satisfaction is so complete with them. The trade mark is "The Vanished Board." .....

Either by acquired taint or heredity, those old foes Scrofula and consumption, must be faced generation after generation; but you may meet them with the odds in your favor by the help of Scott's Emulsion. .....
