Work Starts On The Interior Of Park Royal United Church

The final stages in the completion of Park Royal United Church were realized yesterday when the contract for the finishing of the interior was signed by the building committee with M. F. Schurman Company. The exterior of the church by County Construction Ltd. was completed several months ago.

It is expected that the finish will be completed by the middle of May. After this comes the installation of seats and certain minor parts of the plumbing and heating.

The walls of the new church will be finished in thermocrete blocks. The ceiling will be of painted gypoc wall board. The steel arch trusses will be enclosed in plywood.

The chancel area will be done in light birch. Linoleum tile will cover the concrete floor of the main sanctuary. Carpeting will be added to the aisles and chancel floor.

The basement containing the class rooms, kitchen and wash-rooms will also be finished at this time. A spire will be erected on the exterior of the building. Early next week the elders and

Liberal Candidates Speak At Meeting In Eldon Last Night

The hall at Eldon was filled last night to hear Ernest D. Reid and J.O.C. Campbell, Q.C., Liberal candidates for Queens county, who discussed some of the problems facing the electors in the coming Federal election. Hector MacLeod, president of the 4th district of Queens Liberal Association, presided.

Mr. Reid dealt with the trade and agricultural problems that have been created by what he termed the government's blundering and inexperienced attempts to deal with them.

Recalling that the Diefenbaker government had started its administration last year by attempting to cut down the volume of Canadian trade with the United States, Mr. Reid suggested it was imperial action that caused the U.S.A. to restrict the importation of Alberta gas by 15 percent.

Strongly attacking the government's farm bill, Mr. Reid noted that such an impartial and influential organization as the Canadian Federation of Agriculture had expressed keen disappointment with it.

Their experts had pointed out that butter, for example, could go as low as 49 cents a pound under the provisions of the bill. During the 1957 election campaign they talked partly but now they propose 80 percent of the average price over the last ten years. Mr. Reid emphasized, that is a long way from parity.

Mr. Reid suggested also that the government could do something worthwhile to increase the market for farm produce by encouraging processing of primary products at home.

Referring to transportation he noted that all the government did was to postpone the coming into effect of the freight rate increase until after the election. "We need much more vigorous and effective action," he said. "The time has come when we must have an end to those horizontal freight increases that bear so heavily on our Atlantic provinces because they are so far from the large consuming centres of the country."

Mr. Campbell sharply criticized the Diefenbaker Government for having no overall program for the country in spite of the crisis it is facing in unprecedented unemployment, and a fall off in business. They have done nothing except to cut and distribute pieces of pie in an effort to win approval and votes in the battle of the ballots that is approaching.

The pie they are slicing is the one that the Liberal government provided by its sound financing through the years, and the great development which this country enjoyed under wise and efficient Liberal administration, Mr. Campbell said.

The crowd applauded heartily as he referred to the Government leader as "Desperate Diefenbaker otherwise known as Jobless John".

"The sharp recession and the resulting large-scale unemployment in other provinces and in larger centres has affected our farmers. They cannot sell their products," Mr. Campbell said, unless people in other parts of the country have money in their pockets with which to buy them.

One way to provide that money is to cut taxes, "as our leader proposes to do," and to inject more money into the financial bloodstream of the country by making more money available for development.

Others who spoke briefly included Mr. David MacKenzie and Marty MacDonald of Eldon and Wilfred Furness of Vernon Bridge.

Kirk Choir Entertained

The members of the Kirk Chancel Choir were guests last evening, along with the Teachers of the Church School, and the leaders of Scouts, Cubs, Guides, Rangers, and Brownies, at a delightful turkey dinner served in the Lower Hall by the ladies of the Kirk Auxiliary, under the leadership of the President, Mrs. J. Harold Shaw.

The tables were gaily decorated with bright Spring flowers which provided a most welcome change from the rough, cold winds of a March night and the dinner was served most attractively and much enjoyed by the happy company who were being honoured in appreciation of their services to the Kirk.

The President of the Choir, Mr. Chas. MacKenzie, spoke in appreciation of the kindness of the ladies, and the Minister.

The Rev'd. T. H. B. Somers, expressed his warmest personal thanks of the services given so capably and willingly by the Choir Director, Miss E. Lillian McKenzie, the Choristers, the Teachers and the Youth Leaders, and said what a privilege it was to have such a staff on hand for the work and worship of the Church.

Potato And Turnip Prices Still Varying

There was still considerable variety in the offering price for potatoes here yesterday but most dealers interviewed agreed that the price the market warrants at the present time is around $1.80 per bag.

However dealers in various parts of the province were offering from $1.70 to $1.95.

Turnips were a bit quieter and there was also some variation in prices offered but $1.00 to $1.05 a bushel seemed to be the general price tag on this farm product.
