LOOSE BOOK-KEEPING.—A Halifax despatch says: A loose system of book-keeping prevails in the offices of the civic department of Halifax. Some examiners reported that there were no vouchers for over $100,000 paid out. This statement was the subject of much comment by the citizens at the time. Now over $50,000 of the missing vouchers have been found and a statement to that effect will be made this week.

A few days ago on going to the drawer she found $1,010 in bank notes missing, also $8 in change, a savings bank book containing a record of $300, and $2,500 in notes of hand. Strange to say $400 in gold brought from California by her brother in 1840 was not taken. There is no clue.

ARE YOUR HENS LAYING?

It is a fact but little known to people who keep poultry, that the first part of a hen which becomes disarranged on the approach of disease, is the ovaries, or egg producing organs. Excess of fat, exposure to wet and cold, poor condition, shedding feathers, improper food, want of exercise, or lack of certain elements in the food to develop the embryo egg, will all produce the same effect and cause the hen to stop laying. It cannot be laid down as an "iron rule" that when a hen ceases laying it is a positive symptom she will soon be sick; but it can be stated with the utmost assurance that something is wrong if she would not cease laying for weeks and often months. The annual egg production per hen, in this country, ranges from three to eight dozen each. Now, this is by far too small. There is no earthly reason why every hen that lays at all should not be made to lay from ten to fifteen dozen eggs each per year, and continue to do so for several years. We know of parties who get eggs at that rate in midwinter in our cold climate.

How to get eggs in cold weather interests every person who keeps hens. Mr. Charles Raymond, of New Canaan, Conn., writes under date of March 8, 1887, "I had excellent results from feeding Sheridan's powder to my seventeen hens. In December they laid 224 eggs; in January, 177; and in February, 211. People around here who have three and four times the hens that I have, (and who did not use Sheridan's Powder) did not get one quarter as many eggs." I. S. Johnson & Co., 22 Custom House Street, Boston, Mass., (the only makers of Sheridan's Condition Powder to make hens lay) will send postpaid, to any person 25 cent packs of Powder and a new Poultry Raising Guide, for 60 cents. The book alone costs 45 cents. For $1.00 five packs of Powder and a book for $1.20 a large 21 pound can and book; six cans, $5.00, express prepaid. Send stamps or cash. Interesting testimonials sent free.

The most distinguished scientists on this side of the Atlantic are in attendance, and important papers upon the most interesting topics, suggested by scientific research, will be read and discussed. To the labors of the members of this Association the rapid progress of scientific studies is to be attributed.
