Turkish Cypriots Reject Grivas' Friendship Talk

CP from AP-Reuters

NICOSIA — Lt.-Gen. George Grivas, Greek-Cypriot hero of the underground war for independence, pledged friendship and protection Wednesday for Turkish - Cypriots but called Greek-Cypriot youth to a new struggle for union with Greece.

The Turkish - Cypriot leadership quickly rejected the Grivas tender.

A declaration by the Turkish community said the offer of friendship and harmonious leadership between the island's warring Greeks and Turks "is something like the friendship between the slave and the master.

"This we reject with all our might. We are determined to die for our right of self-determination and freedom rather than yield to Greek domination," the declaration said.

The Turkish community demands partition of the island between the two communities.

RETURNS TO CYPRUS

The 66 - year - old military leader returned to Cyprus from retirement in Greece a week ago.

To avoid popular demonstrations in his honor he tape-recorded his first radio pronouncement and was not at the government radio station when it was broadcast.

He told the islanders he had returned as a peacemaker. But he added he was not prepared to accept any compromise solution on Cyprus problms and insisted there must be a popular referendum "within the shortest possible time" to give Cyprus what he termed the justice that was its right as a sovereign nation.

Grivas did not spell out the terms of the referendum.

He called for unity of the entire Greek - Cypriot people, promised to use all his influence for peaceful coexistence with the Turkish - Cypriot element, outnumbered 4 to 1, and said he would do his best to help the governments of Greece and Cyprus "to find a just solution to the Cyprus problem."

Addressing an appeal to Greek-Cypriot youths, he said: "Be the first to set an example in the drive for a united disciplined fighting Cyprus.

DON'T GIVE IN

"Give everybody to understand that you will not give in and that you will honor the blood of our heroic dead whose memory (will) be eternal.

"But if your hopes are disappointed and if the great powers forget their declarations about the self-determination of peoples and we have to fight, then you will hear again the familiar call of the ancient warrior: 'march forward, Hellenes.' Then victory will be ours.

"A new phase is beginning. Let us all join the struggle. . ."

He blamed the Cyprus troubles on the London and Zurich agreements which gave Cyprus its independence under a joint treaty with Britain, Greece and Turkey.

President Makarios has denounced the treaty as curtailing the sovereignty of Cyprus. Turkey has insisted under it, the Turks could put ashore troops to protect the Turkish-Cypriots.

The streets of Nicosia were almost deserted when Grivas went on the air. But thousands of radios blared through open windows.

There was considerable speculation Grivas would be appointed commander of the Greek - Cypriot national guard and could be counted on to impose strict discipline on armed irregulars.

Norwegian Fullrigger Plans Tour

OSLO (AP)—The Norwegian three - masted fullrigger Christian Radich will visit seven Canadian and U.S. centres after the "operation sail 1964" sailing - ship parade off New York in July.

The ship now is bound for Bermuda as one of the participants in the Liston - Bermuda tall ships race.

A spokesman for the owners of the Norwegian sail training ship said here she would visit Montreal, Chicago, Milwaukee, Alpena, Mich., Detroit, Cleveland and Toronto.

Present plans call for the white 676-ton vessel, with 88 cadets aboard, to go to Montreal first and Toronto last before returning to Montreal on her way home.

Canadian authorities have accorded the Christian Radich a free trip through the St. Lawrence Seaway and the owners of the ship, the Oestlandet Skoleskip sail training organization here, now is awaiting confirmation from U.S. authorities the American fees have been dropped.

The spokesman for the owners did not have exact dates for the visits to the lake ports, but did say that the Cleveland visit probably will be around Aug. 22.

The Great Lakes will see quite a bit of seafaring Norway this summer—the naval training ship Haakon VII will visit Duluth, Minn., and Chicago next August.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1♠	2♥	Pass	4♥

Opening lead — eight of spades.

A fine declarer must also be a pessimist if he wants to maintain his reputation.

The player who take it for granted that suits will break normally or who stakes the outcome of a hand on the result of a finesse, without at least attempting to overcome bad luck if it exists, is not really a fine declarer. He must learn to worry if he wants to get the most out of the cards.

Take this hand where South is playing four hearts. If he is not a worrier, he is likely to lose the contract.

It would seem natural to win the spade lead in dummy and take a heart finesse. The odds are high that East, who opened the bidding, has the king of hearts.

But if South takes the heart finesse at trick two, he goes down. West wins with the king and has no choice but to shift to a diamond. East cashes two diamonds and later gets the king of clubs to defeat the contract one trick.

The really careful declarer would probably make the hand by playing differently. He would win the spade in his hand and play the queen of hearts at trick two. He would win the spade in his hand and play the queen of hearts at trick two. He would not mind losing the trick to East because the contract would not be in danger if this happened. The likely losers with East having the king, would be a heart, a club and a diamond.

In the actual hand, South would probably "steal" the contract by this method of play. West would find it had to believe that East did not have the ace of hears (singleton) and he would be likely to duck the queen of hearts.

Having gotten by this hurdle, our pessimistic South, having allowed for the possibility of West's having the king of hearts, would cash the ace of hearts and then take a club finesse. The defense would now find it impossible to collect more than three tricks.
