Briton Almost Legendary

Lt.-Gen. Glubb Dismissed As Head Of Arab Legion

AMMAN, Jordan (Reuters)—Lt.-Gen. John Bagot Glubb, a Briton who had become an almost legendary figure in the Middle East, was dismissed Friday as head of the Arab Legion.

The 59-year-old soldier who developed the legion into the Arab world's most modern and compact fighting force, left for Cyprus by air shortly after his dismissal was announced in a royal decree by 20-year-old King Hussein.

As he left the country, thousands of demonstrators toured the streets of Amman, denouncing him as a traitor who had aimed to weaken the Arab Legion forces so they would be unable to meet any Israeli aggression. They cheered the young king who told them this was "a holy day on which we have succeeded in our movement by God's will."

Political observers here saw the dismissal of Glubb as a turning point in the close relations between Jordan and Britain.

The ouster came as a surprise to most people in Amman. It followed a campaign by anti-Western elements for removal of British officers from the legion, which Britain helps to finance with £8,000,000 annually.

In London, a British foreign office statement said Britain was "deeply concerned" over the dismissal and the "possible consequences—internal and external—of the action."

The statement came as Prime Minister Eden conferred on the situation in a two-hour emergency meeting with his top ministers and armed service chiefs.

Deep Concern Is Expressed In London

LONDON (Reuters)—Jordan's abrupt dismissal of Lt.-Gen. John Bagot Glubb, commander of the Arab Legion, may prompt a serious review of the whole relationship between Britain and the Jordan government, diplomatic quarters said here Friday.

The action by 20-year-old King Hussein, taken without consultation with Britain, has caused deep concern here.

Britain at present makes a substantial contribution to the finances of the Arab state. Economic help for the current year will total about £12,000,000.

Glubb, who speaks all Middle Eastern dialects fluently, has immersed himself in the Arab way of life. He always ate and lived with the men he led.

He went to the Middle East soon after the First World War, serving first in Iraq and then joining the Arab Legion as second-in-command under its founder, Col. Frederick Gerrard Peake Pasha.

countries, however. In Cairo, Dr. Raif Bellama, assistant secretary-general of the Arab League, lauded the "liberation of the Arab Legion from foreign influence," which he said would "prepare Jordan to play her full role in the face of the Israeli danger."

Glubb's chief opposition in Jordan has been from Arab nationalists, most of them refugees who came from Palestine after the war with Israel. Their opposition reached its height last year when Britain tried to get Jordan to join the Baghdad Pact.

Western riots throughout the country in which 16 persons were killed, Jordan had four governments in less than a month before the disorders were put down by the legion.

Canada In Wheat Deal With Reds

OTTAWA (CP)—Sales of Canadian wheat to Russia are expected to be completed within "a very few days" and the grain will move as soon as the Soviet can arrange its own ship transportation.

This report on the major feature of the Canada-U.S.S.R. trade agreement, signed only in mid-week, was given to the Commons Friday by Trade Minister Howe.

Under the historic pact, first between the two countries, Russia agreed to buy a minimum of 44,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat, worth roughly $60,000,000 at present prices. The wheat is expected to be shipped from Canada's west coast for use in Siberia.

Mr. Howe said he understands negotiations are in progress for the purchase of 400,000 tons of wheat. For the three-year life of the agreement, Russia agreed to take annually between 400,000 and 500,000 tons, or 14,687,000 and 18,371,000 bushels.

The minister's statement indicated there will be speedy dispatch of sales negotiations for the first year's wheat purchases by Russia under the treaty.

He was replying to questions by Hazen Argue, CCF agricultural spokesman, who termed it a "very welcome agreement."

DREW LESS SATISFIED
Opposition Leader Drew got less satisfaction, however, out of the minister's replies on other features of the pact.

What goods or materials will be sent to Canada by Russia under the most-favored-nation agreement Mr. Drew asked.

"My crystal ball is out on loan and I haven't the faintest idea," Mr. Howe replied. He didn't think anyone, including the Russians, knew.

Mr. Drew countered sharply that such "smart" answers—Mr. Howe has used that crystal ball before in his replies this session—are inappropriate. The House was entitled to know what goods and supplies are contemplated as a likely exchange for Canada's wheat.

"The exchange of wheat is an exchange for dollars," Mr. Howe said. "What Russia will be able to sell here is something that I suppose she is as doubtful about as we are. There has never been a large trade between Canada and Russia."

Ferry Bluenose Out Of Service

OTTAWA (CP)—The $5,500,000 Nova Scotia-Maine ferry Bluenose, consistently plagued by misfortune, is being taken off service immediately for repairs to propeller damage.

Transport Minister Marler said Friday night she will leave the river between Yarmouth, N.S. and Bar Harbor, Me., today and be drydocked in Saint John, N.B., for perhaps three or four weeks.

Consumer Price Index Down 4-Tenths Point

OTTAWA (CP)—Lower food prices pushed down the Canadian consumer price index four-tenths of a point to 116.4 from 116.8 between Jan. 3 and Feb. 1, the bureau of statistics reported Friday.

The index is one-tenth of a point higher than a year ago, when it stood at 116.3.

A decline in food prices in January more than offset increases for shelter, household operation and miscellaneous commodities and services. The clothing index was unchanged during the month.

The food index declined to 109.9 from 111.5, the largest decrease in more than two years, and brought this index to its lowest level since January, 1951.

Lower prices for eggs, pork and beef, oranges, margarine, cash, coffee, grapefruit and lettuce, more than offset scattered increases, including those for potatoes, tomatoes and apples, the bureau said.

RENTS HELP REISE
The shelter index continued its steady upward movement. It rose to 131.1 from 131.3 during January. Both rentals and home-ownership costs contributed to the increase. The clothing index remained unchanged at 108.6.

The household operation index advanced slightly to 116.7 from 116.5. Higher prices for coal, kitchen furniture, floor coverings and some kitchen utensils outweighed decreases in a few other items.

Woman Tells Of Horrifying Experience In Snow Slide

MACE, Idaho (AP)—"It was just horrifying—all black and under 12 feet of snow."

With these words Mrs. Cora Bell, 31, lying in a hospital bed, described a snow slide which killed her husband and injured at least a dozen other persons early Friday.

The slide roared down the Burke canyon and trapped residents in their beds, burying five houses.

Mrs. Bell, her husband Ar, 35, and their eight children were neighbors. All were injured, including the children ranging from 16-months-old Daniel to 13-year-old Louis.

Timmy Spencer, 10, was killed but his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer, and another son escaped alive after being buried by snow and debris.

Mrs. Bell said that after the shock of the slide struck their home, she started to scream but her husband said, "hush, you'll live longer if you're quiet."

She said she thought their "big old mongrel dog Billy Boy" saved their lives.

COULD'NT GET AIR
"We couldn't get any air. Then we heard the dog barking and carrying on. He was in the house when the slide happened but somehow he got out. My husband called and called and Billy Boy came on top of the snow right over us and jumped and tromped around until the snow fell down over our bed."

"Then my husband, by reaching real hard, could get four fingers up through the snow, just enough to make a little air hole. Even so I passed out later from lack of oxygen."

"The next thing I knew I heard Sheriff Lewis Gardner and he was saying, 'here's a little one, and so I yelled for him to come, that my baby was suffocating. He picked in and dug with his hands through the snow and scooped it off Danny's face. Then we all got out."

Eastern Kings Potato Mecca; An Example To All Canada

That Kings County can show the way in the growing of potatoes was emphasized by William A. Acorn (Liberal), First Kings, speaking on the Draft Address yesterday.

Mr. Acorn made reference to the remarks of the Minister of Agriculture in which the soil of the East end of the Island was referred to as "Culloden soil."

"I don't know whether we have 'Culloden' soil or not," said Mr. Acorn, "but I do know when it comes to growing potatoes I find that they grow the best in the world."

He paid high tribute to the accomplishments of Mr. Sylvester MacAulay of Campbell's Cove who last year won the grand championship at the Royal Winter Fair. He also had words of praise for Mr. Anson Macdonald who took the Maritime Championship at Amherst.

OTHER FARMERS
"These are farmers in other districts of Kings County who have achieved high honors with their potatoes and it is interesting to note that during 1955 we won three grand championships, two reserve championships, three first prizes in Charlottetown, four in Amherst and four in Toronto," he said.

"These men deserve a lot of credit and commendation from the rest of the Province, for it is through their efforts that Prince Edward Island potatoes are getting the name that they have," he added.

The Souris member said that he wanted to explode the myth that seemed to prevail in the minds of a lot of people—that the Montague is the political capital of the Island.

He said that although the Premier represents the Fourth District, most people realize that in his capacity as Premier he represents the whole Province. He noted also that the Minister of Health was included in the numbers of those belonging to the "political capital."

He said that the Minister made his home in Murray River.

ONLY TWO
"In so far as Senators go, they don't count in Provincial politics," said Mr. Acorn, "so therefore we have only two resident portfolios in Kings County and I can assure you that if all the portfolio holders in the Government are as sincere and honest as these two Ministers, we are assured of a good future."

Mr. Acorn congratulated the Minister of Agriculture for the program of artificial breeding which the Government has been organizing throughout the Province.

Resolutions had been passed by the pertinent governing bodies indicating an outstanding measure of the spirit of co-operation in realization of the province's needs to be made to solve problems of overall sewage and water systems and also the school problem.

BOUNDED BY WATER
Inasmuch as Charlottetown is bounded by water and only 100 building lots remain in the city, there is no space for industrial development. These facts, coupled with the serious water and school situation, indicates the necessity of co-operation and possible amalgamation as a solution," he said.

Speaking as President of the Federation of Mayors and Municipalities of Canada, Mayor Stewart said: "The same situation exists all through Canada today, a problem that must be faced and must be worked out. I feel that some give and take is necessary by all parties involved."

"Leadership must come from the parent body, the Provincial Government, of which we are all the creatures," Mayor Stewart said. "If the splendid spirit of co-operation which permeated the meeting continues, success and satisfaction is bound to come about."

Village Commissioner J. E. Arsenault of Spring Park, commenting on the meeting said the occasion may well be regarded as one of great importance, leading to a successful issue out of many problems which confronted also concerned the representatives of the governing bodies of Charlottetown, Parkdale and Spring Park. Mayor Stewart said last night that he was very pleased at developments, both on the part of the areas represented and the Government.

"The presentation was a follow-up of the Charlottetown Board of Trade movement inaugurated a year ago, when it was felt that the economy of greater Charlottetown was being retarded due to lack of space and something towards amalgamation should be begun at this time," Mayor Stewart said.

Hope To Act On Report Within Year

Swift action yesterday on the part of Premier A.W. Matheson followed the presentation of petitions from the City of Charlottetown and the Villages of Spring Park and Parkdale asking the Government to make a study of the problems of immediate importance, sewage disposal, education, industrial development etc.

When the House met yesterday afternoon the Premier asked permission to have Rule 31 suspended so that he could introduce a resolution regarding the appointment of a Committee of the House to inquire into the problems. (Rule 31 requires that a resolution be on the order book at least 24 hours before presentation.)

In explaining his request, Premier Matheson said that many of the common problems confronting the City of Charlottetown and the Villages of Spring Park and Parkdale were of immediate importance and felt that the Committee should be appointed at once so that they could study the matter and bring in recommendations that could be acted upon before the House meets next year.

GOOD WORK
"I believe, although I am not entirely sure, that the Charlottetown Board of Trade was largely responsible for bringing these three groups together so that they were able to present their resolution today. If this is so, they are deserving of the highest praise," the Premier said.

He felt that it would be unwise to appoint a Royal Commission to inquire into the problem. Rather he felt that the questions involved could be better handled by a Committee of the House.

The Committee named is as follows: Hon. Eugene Cullen (chairman), Hon. B. Earle MacDonald, Hon. Keir Clark, Hon. M. L. Bonnell, M.D., A. A. MacIsaac, F. A. Large, Q.C., Dr. L. G. Dewar, Morley M. Bell.

MUNICIPAL PETITION
Each municipality presented its own petition. All petitions were the same in content and read as follows:

WHEREAS the City of Charlottetown together with the adjacent Villages of Parkdale and Spring Park today face mutual and common problems in the fields of Water Supply, Sewage Disposal, Education, Industrial Development, etc.

Search planes were dispatched from Keflavik air field but they reported no trace of the missing plane.

Wants Quahog Purifying Period Clearly Defined

OTTAWA, (Special). — T. J. Kichham, Liberal M.P., for Kings appealed to Fisheries Minister Sinclair in the Commons Friday, to devise regulations to strengthen the quahog industry in Prince Edward Island.

"These shellfish, Mr. Kichham said, are present in large quantities in polluted waters of the Province, and it is contrary to law to take these shellfish in polluted waters. They can be purified," he noted, by transplanting to clean water, but no definite period has been established for the purifying process."

He urged Fisheries Minister Sinclair to have scientists determine how long this purifying period should be and to permit the transplanting of quahogs from polluted areas.

The Kings Member agreed with George Nowlan, Conservative M. P. for Digby-Annapolis-Kings that large trawlers encroach on shore fishing grounds. Many of them, he said, do not keep out three miles from shore but come closer and damage the gear of the inshore fishermen.

Warrant For Cheque Passer's Arrest Is Held

From information released by Chief of Police C. W. MacArthur the City Police are holding a warrant issued for a man who is alleged to have passed worthless cheques in Charlottetown recently.

The suspect had been in the City up until a few days ago, but left before the warrant could be served. At first it was suspected that he had moved to Summerside, but later a check with the local N. B. R. ticket office it was learned that the man purchased two tickets for Halifax.

Shortly after his arrival in that city it was reported that he had passed worthless cheques in Halifax for the amount of three hundred dollars. The suspect who used the names William Tait and William Carleton, is assumed to have frequently posed as a professional photographer, and to have visited various parts of the Province. The Summerside Police say that they have not had any reports of bad cheques being passed in that area.

Charlottetown Police reported last night that through friends of the suspected man, they have learned that he is now in Montreal, police in that city have been requested to apprehend him if possible.

200 Children Sing For Pope As He Observes 80th Birthday

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Two hundred children sang "Happy Birthday" to the Pope Friday and gave him a white-frosted cake with 80 candles.

The danced around him at a special audience in the Vatican's consistorial hall.

The pontiff, clad in white, smiled and chatted for more than a half hour with his little guests, a score of them from distant parts of the world and the rest from Italy.

His audience for the children was a highlight of the observance of both his 80th birthday and the 17th anniversary of his election as spiritual head of the world's 450,000,000 Roman Catholics.

The birthday song, "Tanti Auguri a te," sung in Italian went over big. Pope Pius smiled and occasionally beat time gently as the children—the boys in dark blue and the girls in white smocks—sang through it a total of five times.

A little Italian girl led off the presentation of individual greetings with the statement: "We believe that you, like Jesus, would like us to come to you. So we children are the first to bring you greetings and a cake."

TROUBADS GATHER
Thousands of pilgrims and Romans gathered in St. Peter's square to wish the pontiff well and many messages arrived from leaders throughout the world.

The Pope rose as usual at dawn Friday.

At 7 a.m. he said mass in his private chapel, decorated with 80 roses that had been brought to him by three sick persons in the name of the suffering sick of all the world.

It was for them that the pontiff, who himself was gravely ill a little more than a year ago, offered his mass.

Bandits Get $188,000

PORT CHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Two bandits robbed a drive-in bank of $188,000 Friday after kidnapping a woman teller and questioning her through the night about the layout.

A policeman in a squad car looked on as bank officials—carried the loot to a getaway car. He thought he was watching a routine transfer of funds.

The gunmen seized slight brunette Mrs. Mary Kostolos, a teller, at her home at 10 o'clock Thursday night. They had a working knowledge of the bank's routine which they filled in with all-night questioning of the woman, a widow.

They used Mrs. Kostolos' key to enter the County Trust Co. branch. Then they pressed into service other employees as they arrived one by one for work in the morning.

As a climax, the bandits took all most every cent in the bank and sped away in their car, unmolested, unrecognized and without pursuit.

No shots were fired. No one was maltreated.

It was the biggest bank holdup since last April's record $305,000 cash heft in Queens, Long Island. It had the same precise touch, even to the kidnapping of an employee to gain entry.

Mrs. Kostolos, 32 and widowed three years ago, lives only a short distance from the bank. She drove up to her home Thursday night and got out to open her garage door.
