

THE DAILY EXAMINER

MAY 31, 1898.

PRINCE OF WALES COLLEGE.

It is not surprising that there was a large audience at the commencement exercises of last evening, notwithstanding the petty tax of ten cents per head imposed on all those who were present. The entertainment was, we must admit, well worth the money. Though Prof. Earle had charge of the singing classes for only a few weeks, the choruses rendered were really well done and gave evidence of abundance of musical talent on the part of the pupils as well as of the rare ability of the professor. The essays were carefully written and well read and the speeches for the most part felicitous. We are pleased to note that Dr. Anderson, while accepting his own meed of the valedictorian's thanks, generously acknowledges the valuable services to the institution rendered by the other professors. His remarks upon the advisability of taking time at the beginning of life to obtain a thorough mental training, upon the importance of self-confidence and self-reliance as distinguished from conceit and upon the necessity for the continued exercise of energy in a successful career were excellent, and we trust that they will be marked and inwardly digested by the youth to whom they were addressed. As might have been expected stress was laid upon the requirement of a new and improved college building. The necessity of enlarged space and better ventilation was pointed out; and under the circumstances of the case there was a world of meaning in Dr. Anderson's quotation of the proverb, "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick." The pupils have paid fees for years past upon the express understanding that a building should be erected. Money was borrowed under the Temporary Loans Act, and when it was spent in other directions, an act of the Legislature was passed authorizing the sale of debentures (for the redemption of which the fees paid by the pupils were to form a sinking fund) in order that the money needed for the erection of the building might be obtained. In view of these facts the Premier might, we think, have been more explicit than he was when advertising, in the course of his generally acceptable remarks, to the erection of a new Prince of Wales College building. There is no obstacle in the way of the immediate prosecution of this work,—except the sense of shame which the Leader of the Government must feel concerning the Asylum bungle, and the impropriety of providing for the comfort of those who are in health and strength while our helpless and unfortunate fellow citizens, afflicted with diseases of the mind, are compelled to live in an overcrowded hospital.

A SECOND STEAMER.

A telegram to The Patriot having stated that the supplementary estimates for this year contain an item of $180,000 for a second winter steamer, the morning organ bursts into an ecstasy over this "generous action." While we have no disposition to detract from any credit that Sir Louis Davies or the Government have earned, we must protest against crediting them with generosity in regard to this matter. The Government is in duty bound, under the terms of union, to supply means of "continuous communication," by steam, winter and summer, between this Province and the mainland; and the necessity for a second winter steamer was years ago pointed out by THE EXAMINER and other organs of public opinion. Under these circumstances, the Board of Trade ought not to have been compelled to send a delegation to Ottawa to inform the Minister of Commerce that the winter traffic has increased to such an extent that the Government would be justified in putting on another steamer, and to point out the duty of Canada in this regard. We accept the second steamer not as a favour generously bestowed, but as a right too long withheld. While our thanks are due the Board of Trade of this city, and while we appreciate the kindly offices of Sir Louis Davies and others, we maintain that the action of the Government of Canada is not at all "generous." In the item of the supplementary estimates referred to we have merely an assurance that a measure of justice will, ere long, be accorded to the Island Province.

The errors and horrors of Lynch law are illustrated by the fact that a Seminole Indian has lately confessed to the murder of a white man for which two other Indians were, in January last, burned at the stake by a mob of white barbarians. The fact that lynchers invariably escape justice is disgraceful to the United States.

Men and medicines are judged by what they do. The great cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla give it a good name everywhere.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The expediency of establishing a pork-packing establishment at St John is being discussed by the press of that enterprising city.

The St. John Sun's correspondent at Ottawa remarks that the Premier is still unwilling to tell what he is going to do about the plebiscite. To Sir Charles Tupper's questions he declared more emphatically than ever that the government had no information to give. Sir Wilfrid will not say when the vote will be taken. He will not say whether the government will act on the result of the vote. He will not say what result he will consider to be a mandate from the people to act. It may please the temperance people and the prohibition organizers to learn from Sir Wilfrid that they are perfectly satisfied with the situation. Sir Wilfrid says they have not asked the government to take action on the vote if it is favorable. They have not asked that a majority vote should be pronounced beforehand to be sufficient. On the contrary, they are perfectly willing to leave all to be settled after. This is certainly very accommodating on the part of the prohibitionists and is very convenient for the government. But the Premier might have remembered that the plebiscite is not a suggestion of the temperance people at all. They never asked for it, and if they do not make any demands at this stage it is because they refused to accept any responsibility in the premises.

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES.

Ottawa Citizen: The tramp who was always looking for work and always afraid that he would find it had something in common with the Spanish and American fleets.

Mail and Empire: Sir L. H. Davies's visit to England, to argue that the German and Belgian treaties did not interfere with the working of the Laurier Government's preferential trade resolutions of 1897, cost the country $1,670. It was a lot to pay to find out how much Sir L. H. Davies did not know.

Mail and Empire: The Laurier Government has included cider in the list of liquors respecting the prohibition of which we are to vote in the plebiscite. There is a purpose in this. Who is going to vote to prohibit the farmer squeezing his apples and drinking the liquid thus produced? Sir W. Laurier is humbugging the temperance people.

LETTER FROM DR. ANDERSON.

DEAR SIR:—I am exceedingly sorry that the pleasure and comfort of the friends of the Prince of Wales College who were present at the closing exercises last evening were so sadly marred. I must, however, in justice to the students, inform them that the offenders were not students, but strangers. This I saw for myself, and my observations were corroborated by the statements of many who had the best opportunity of ascertaining the facts. It was further averred that there was an organized effort put forth to annoy and disturb the singers and speakers. The students themselves, though the reins of discipline are, on such occasions, considerably relaxed, were under perfect control; but for outsiders, whose conduct we cannot be held responsible, there ought, certainly, to be some power vigorous and effective enough to reach them.

Most truly yours,
ALEX. ANDERSON.

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure or impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standard.
