Parliament Appears Backing Pflimlin Against Rightists

PARIS (AP)—Premier Pierre Pflimlin Tuesday night bolstered his hand at the helm of France with a ringing parliamentary triumph over the challenging but numerically thin forces of Gen. Charles de Gaulle. The National Assembly voted Pflimlin special emergency powers to fight the Algerian nationalist rebellion. But paradoxically Algeria re-

Find Missing Pilot Alive But Seriously Injured

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—The search for Lieut. Raymond G. Hall, missing in a small civilian Tri-Pacer aircraft since midnight Saturday on a flight from Fredericton to Saint John, ended Tuesday when two farmers found him in a field at Salt Springs, about 25 miles from here, alive, but seriously injured. Hall, born in South Slovan, B.C., and stationed at Camp Gagetown, N.B. was found by Leo Cummings and Clarence Campbell of Salt Springs. He was lying in a field owned by Cummings. Barely able to talk, Hall told Cummings and Campbell he had staggered out of the woods Monday and almost to the door of Cummings' home before collapsing. Then he lay there all night until found about 1:45 p.m. Tuesday. The single engine plane had taken off from Fredericton for Saint John. Dr. D. P. Goel, resident surgeon at Lancaster Veterans' Hospital where Hall was rushed, said Hall suffered a skull fracture, lacerations, shock and possible limb fractures. His condition was considered serious.

started out alone for Saint John. LOST TRACK OF TIME The injured pilot was quoted as saying he had no idea what day it was. "I remember leaving Fredericton and everything was clear going until I suddenly hit fog and crashed," he told Campbell. Hall thought he had been lying in the field most of Monday night. Previously he roamed the woods but, partly blinded by the head injury, couldn't find his way out. He heard sheep bleating and followed the sound to the clearing where he collapsed. A broken whiffletree also was a factor in finding the man. Cummings, plowing in a nearby field, broke the whiffletree and took a short cut to get a new one. He then spied Hall, weak but conscious. Cummings said his dog barked all the previous night and frequently ran towards the woods as if something strange were there. Shortly after discovery of Hall, the plane wreckage was found on a high hill about 500 yards away, in deep woods.

Anniversary Of Representative Gov't. Marked

HALIFAX (CP) — A Queen's proclamation Tuesday opened 4 1/2 months of "solemn thanksgiving and rejoicing" marking the birth of representative government in Canada 200 years ago. It was on May 20, 1758 that Governor Charles Lawrence proclaimed general elections and the convening of elected representatives. They met Oct. 2. The celebrations marking Nova Scotia's contribution to democratic government will end Oct. 2 with a special session of the legislature. Plans call for a recreation of the 1758 meeting of the 19 men whose election marked the end of nine years of agitation for representative government. An essay contest with $3,000 in prizes has begun. Winners among the province's junior and senior high school students will receive a free trip here for the Oct. 2 gathering of legislators.

PRINCESS COMING

A bicentenary committee set up by the Nova Scotia government got an unexpected boost when it was announced Princess Margaret will visit the province in August. Among other proposals of the committee are the issuing by the federal government of a special postage stamp and observance of a bicentenary citizenship Sunday in Nova Scotia churches Sept. 29. The first assembly was composed largely of New England natives who migrated to Nova Scotia. Their decisions were subject to approval by the governor and his council. It was nearly 100 years later that elected representatives became responsible only to the people. Tuesday's proclamation was carried as an advertisement in provincial newspapers and on radio.

Deserted Camp Is Maine Mystery

GREENVILLE, Me. (AP)—An abandoned camp, complete with breakfast dishes still on a wooden table, presents fish and game warden with a problem. Who owns the forest green tent and valuable camping equipment at Lucky Point on Spencer Bay in the Moosehead Lake area? And why did the occupants abandon it, leaving behind all their equipment and even perishable food? All the warden know is that voices were heard in the area in the dawn hours of May 11. Flying warden checked the lake shore for floating wreckage of a boat. They found nothing. They checked out all boat liveries, all parked cars without a trace of evidence that any fishing parties were missing. Air taximen accounted for all their passengers. In the camp the warden found two air mattresses, a sleeping bag, duffle bags, lanterns, outboard motor fuel, a pack basket and fresh food. Outside was evidence that a party, presumably fishermen, breakfasted and left hastily.

Two Civic Decisions Will Be Decided At Polls Today

Voters in Charlottetown today will have the opportunity of participating in a decision, the result of which will either see the City Water and Sewerage Commission ousted or retained. At the same time citizens of the newly formed Ward 6 will go to the polls to elect two of three candidates offering for City Council. The candidates are J. Edmund Arsenault, Elmer MacRae and Pictou C. McCormac. From the standpoint of pre-election publicity, it would appear that today's contests indicate a quiet affair. The move to have the Water and Sewerage Commission come from the City Council when they petitioned the Legislature this winter to allow the holding of a plebiscite. Their reason for re-

P.M. Bows To Demands For Debate On Air Defence Pact

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker Tuesday bowed to opposition demands that the government stand by its original undertaking to submit the Canada-U.S. air defence agreement to Parliament for approval. Defence Minister Peakes had informed the Commons Jan. 4 the agreement would be submitted to the Commons for approval but External Affairs Minister Smith only Monday said this would not be done. Mr. Smith's argument—and it was repeated Tuesday by Mr. Diefenbaker—was that the Can-

OLD SOLDIERS NEVER DIE

No doubt the general is telling Sgt. Preece that the veteran's contribution is very much appreciated.

Will Not Be Deterred From Duty By Red Threats

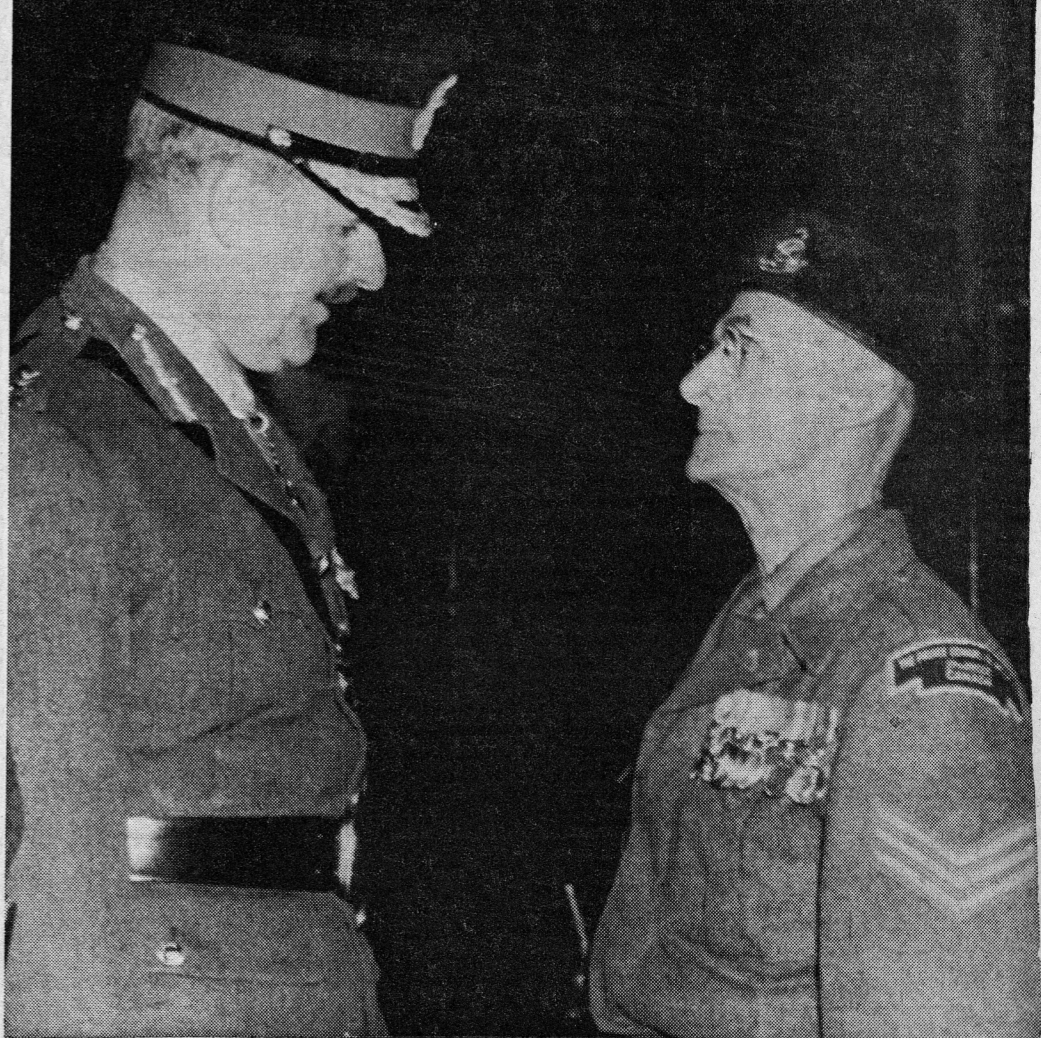

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Dulles served notice Tuesday the United States might act to help Lebanon put down anti-government rioters despite Soviet threats against outside interference. Dulles said there are "a number of areas of possible action" but said he does not anticipate that U.S. troops will be needed. The secretary, speaking at a press conference, accused President Nasser's United Arab Republic of intervening to help anti-government forces, perhaps in co-operation with Communist elements. He refused to spell out what new moves might be taken but said: "We are not deterred anywhere in the world from doing what we think is right and our duty by any Soviet threats."

Townsend Dines With Princess

LONDON (Reuters) — Group Capt. Peter Townsend Tuesday night dined alone with Princess Margaret, a Buckingham Palace spokesman said. It was the third meeting in eight days between the 27-year-old princess and the 43-year-old wartime ace whose hand she renounced in a "duty before love" decision in 1955. The London Daily Mail says they are expected to meet again before Townsend leaves for the continent Saturday. Townsend, divorced father of two sons, drove to Clarence House, the home of the princess, in his mother's car. The princess had just returned home from the annual meeting of the Student Nurses Association, of which she is president.
