SDU Debaters Meet St. Thomas Team

St. Dunstan's University debaters travel to Fredericton, N.B. on Friday to face St. Thomas University Friday night in the debate: Resolved that Communist activity should be made a criminal offence in Canada. SDU will argue the negative side of the question.

Representing SDU will be David Campbell, senior commerce student from St. John, N.B., and Weston MacAleer, senior arts student from Sherwood, P.E.I.

This is the third year Mr. Campbell has taken part in intercollegiate debating. Last year he was a member of the SDU team which won a unanimous decision over St. Francis Xavier University debaters in Antigonish.

Mr. Campbell holds the commission of Lieutenant in the 5 Signals Regiment of the Canadian Army, and has been president of the SDU Debating Society for the past two years.

In 1964 he was awarded a Gold Medal for debating and in 1965 merited the Father Cass Memorial Trophy which is awarded for outstanding contributions to debating at SDU. This year Mr. Campbell is president of the Atlantic Intercollegiate Debating League.

Mr. MacAleer holds the commission of Sub-Lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Navy. He is very active in sport and for the past four seasons has been a member of the SDU varsity football team. He has also been a member of the Drama Society and played in the award-winning production "A Man For All Seasons." An avid participant in community affairs, Mr. MacAleer is associated with minor hockey and is Boy Scout Leader of the First Sherwood Troop.

This is the second year he has taken part in intercollegiate debating. Two years ago he was a member of the team which unopposedly defeated Dalhousie University.

Presbyterians Meet Here

The Presbytery of Prince Edward Island, Presbyterian Church in Canada met in the Kirk of St. James, Charlottetown yesterday. The meetings were presided over by the moderator, Rev. B.C. Lowery and the clerk was Hugh Lowry.

Commissioners to represent the Presbytery at the 52nd General Assembly were appointed. The General Assembly meets in St. Andrews Church, Toronto on the first Wednesday of June.

The stewardship and budget convener reported that 26 congregations are showing increases over last year.

The convener of evangelism and social action reported that an inter-church conference on the church and industry would be held in Fredericton, N.B. on May 26th to 28th, and John K. Ellis and D.R. Morrison were named as the Presbytery's representatives.

Much discussion was given to the proposed amendment to the Lord's Day Act and on motion duly seconded it was agreed "That the Presbytery recommends that the Lord's Day Act be unchanged until such time as a royal commission be appointed to study the Lord's Day Act and report its findings to the government."

The report of the audio-visual committee showed that the church's radio broadcast over CJRW Summerside and the New Glasgow station was being well received and that they were appreciative of the gifts that had been made from various individuals and congregations to make the broadcast possible.

In reporting for the mission committee the convener recommended that four new appointments and three re-appointments be made by the Board of Missions.

Missionary education convener informed the Presbytery that a different film strip will be available for the use of congregations each month beginning March.

In the Camp Keir report it was noted that a rally for ruling elders will be held at the camp on June 4th and that the convener will attend a leadership training conference at Danville Ont. from June 15-23.

Christian education report showed that progress had been made in all departments during the year.

Ancient German Invention Aids Tugboat Performance

VANCOUVER (CP) — A 50-year-old German invention to give tugboats greater thrust and better manoeuvrability is coming into its own on the Pacific coast.

After 14 months at the helm of a big tugboat equipped with the so-called nozzle, Capt. Bob Ridley predicts it will revolutionize the towing industry.

The so-called nozzle resembles a barrel, opened at both ends, which encloses the propeller. The barrel incorporates a rudder-like vertical fin and can be turned right and left, directing a jet of water that steers the boat.

The propeller itself is conventional, with only the casing and fin turning.

SAYS MUCH BETTER

Capt. Ridley reports a substantial improvement in manoeuvrability compared with standard rudders, and a 26-per cent increase in thrust with no increase in fuel.

He is convinced the Kort nozzle is a good thing after experience with the Kingcope Navigation Co.'s Harmac FR, designed by Vancouver marine architect Robert F. Allan and built by the John Manly shipyard in New Westminster.

POPULAR IN EUROPE

Although the nozzle, invented in Germany 50 years ago by Herren Kort, has been slow to find favor here, it is used on nine out of 10 tugboats in continental Europe and on about half the tugs in Britain.

"Earlier models were not always trouble-free," says builder John Manly. "But with the problems now eliminated, we expect to see more and more tugboats equipped with the nozzle."

The cost is considerably higher, but there are many advantages.

Nielsen Sparks Youth Awaits Sentence For Free Vacation

OTTAWA (CP) — A statement by Erik Nielsen (PC-Yukon) in Vancouver that he has names and facts to reveal about alleged bankruptcy frauds sparked a flurry of questions in the Commons Wednesday.

Gilles Gregoire (Cred - LaPointe) asked whether it is true that the federal government has prevented the RCMP from investigating the bankruptcy fraud racket.

Justice Minister Gardin said such investigations are a provincial matter. The federal government was responsible only for the supervision of bankruptcy trustees.

Mr. Gregoire asked whether Mr. Nielsen was foiled in his attempts to obtain information from the RCMP. Mr. Cardin said he was not responsible for Mr. Nielsen's actions and the Conservative MP had not been in touch with him.

David Gross (L - Victoria, B.C.) asked Mr. Cardin to look into the remarks made by Mr. Nielsen at a west coast press conference and ensure that information on Yukon bankruptcies is given to the Commons at the same time as Mr. Nielsen's information about bankruptcies in other parts of the country.

The minister did not reply.

TORONTO (CP) — A 31-year-old youth remained in Don Jail Wednesday awaiting sentence after a credit-card vacation that took him as far as Miami and Hawaii.

Robert Noble of Toronto pleaded guilty Tuesday to charges of false pretences and possession involving thousands of dollars worth of merchandise and airline tickets.

Noble told Magistrate David Coon he was out of work so he headed for Miami last fall.

He got a job but lost it in a few weeks. While unemployed, he said, he "found" a large number of credit cards.

Noble flew to Los Angeles, then to Hawaii. After a vacation there, he flew back to the U.S. and made several side trips. Then he flew to Western Canada and finally took a flight from Saskatoon to Toronto. The total fare was $2,000.

University Liberal Officials Discuss Strategy At Meeting

Pat Sheppard, national constitutional chairman of the Canadian University Liberals, accompanied by George Chalson, president of the UNB Liberal Club, met with officials of the SDU Liberal Club here yesterday. The meeting was held to discuss Liberal strategy in the forthcoming model parliament election.

Mr. Sheppard emphasized that campus Liberals, by their very nature, must be oriented to policy. By adopting the role of policy makers they will recruit the presently apathetic campus activities. "Your campaign," said Mr. Sheppard, "must be intelligent and well-run. Don't underestimate the intelligence of the student."

Candidates for the Liberals at SDU are now divided up into various committees to study specific resolutions to be formulated in the platform. The Liberals are confident their "new look for Canada" is a basis for a very challenging platform.

Publicly expert Chalson presented a detailed account of campus advertising techniques. The former student of Saint Dunstan's expressed his delight at the enthusiastic attitude of student Liberals towards this project. He offered the unequalled support of the UNB Liberal Club to their island counterpart.

FIRST IN SIX YEARS

Special projects chairman, Bill Morse announced that the Model Parliament, to be held March 4 and 5, would be the first at SDU in six years. The three-day campaign which starts Feb. 28th, will be confined to federal issues only. There will be 30 seats in parliament and sessions are expected to be held at the Legislative Assembly, Charlottetown.

Candidates will run on party lines only and the number of each party in parliament will be determined by its total per cent of the vote.

The purpose of the parliament is to arouse student interest in current issues, and to give the student an opportunity to formulate policy and to learn parliamentary procedure.

Withering Attack On China Launched By Fidel Castro

HAVANA (Reuters) — Premier Fidel Castro, in a withering attack which could seriously affect the already strained relations between Havana and Peking, has accused China of trying to subvert the Cuban Army with anti-Russian literature and by direct contact.

The Cuban leader likened Chinese activities to those of the United States "when it tried to interfere in our internal affairs and in one way or another impose its will on the nation." He accused China of "exerciting blackmail, extortion, pressure, aggression and strangulation... and of the worst methods of piracy, oppression and filibustering."

The outbreak came in a written reply, published here, to China's reduction of rice supplies to Cuba. Castro accused Peking of "brutal reprisals of an economic nature for purely political reasons" and of joining the U.S. economic blockade against Cuba.

He said the real reasons for holding back supplies of rice, a staple diet in Cuba, were not economic but were dictated by Cuba's refusal to allow distribution of propaganda material "on questions tending to deepen divisions between socialist (Communist) peoples and states" through the Cuban armed forces and administration.

He claimed Chinese government representatives have distributed propaganda material among officers of the Cuban general staff, divisional, political and other army bodies.

"On occasion Chinese representatives tried to make contact directly with Cuban officers," Castro said.

Castro and Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos protested to the Chinese charge of "attempts here in December about propaganda."

The vehemence of Castro's attack stunned diplomats here and started speculation on the permanent effects it might have on Sino-Cuban relations.

It was the latest blast in the trade war which opened last month when Castro revealed China had refused to supply Cuba with all the rice Havana requested for 1966. Instead of 280,000 tons, China would send only 135,000 tons.

The Cuban monthly rice ration was halved to three pounds from six a person.

Castro's written reply Sunday also disclosed this year's sugar harvest would be less than last year's total of just over 6,000,000 tons. He blamed the worst drought in 60 years.

OIL MEN LOOK AHEAD

Australia's oil production in 1964 was worth £1,051,000 while £25,000,000 was spent on oil exploration.

Eskimo Trappers Learn Fur Grades

OTTAWA (CP) — Fifteen Eskimo trappers from the eastern Arctic are being given a course in fur grading to help them get fairer prices.

The three-week course in fur grading and co-operative development began Wednesday at Churchill, Man.

The northern affairs department, sponsoring the course, said in a statement that Eskimo co-operatives too often pay trappers a flat rate—perhaps $8 for furs that might sell at southern auctions for from $2 to $20.

"A basic understanding of fur grading will guarantee fairer prices to the trappers and to the co-operatives," the department said.

The Eskimos come from as far north as Grise Fjord, 4,000 miles north of Montreal, and only three speak English. Eskimo interpreters will translate for the others.

The talks, and a guide book on fur, have been translated into Eskimo syllables.

The Canadian Arctic produces $800,000 worth of furs a year. There are 20 active Eskimo co-operatives. Eight barter furs for merchandise and the others buy furs for handicrafts or resale in southern fur auctions.

Souris School Minus Power

SOURIS — The Souris Regional High School is experiencing electrical difficulties yesterday. The building was without both heat and light for the day and as a result classes were dismissed at three o'clock instead of the customary 3.30.

It is believed that the difficulty lies in an underground circuit which leads into the building. Maritime Electric Company workmen from Charlottetown are working on the problem but as of seven o'clock last night there was no report of it being rectified.

Classes are expected to be cancelled today if the difficulty has not been corrected.

Correction

Inadvertently, the headline as it appeared over a Montreal news item in Wednesday's Guardian incorrectly stated that the Coca Cola Company Limited had been held responsible for damages in a court case in the metropolis.

The news story itself correctly stated that the soft drink company had been freed by the court of responsibility for an accident involving the container of the beverage.

The Guardian regrets the error and is pleased to take this first opportunity of setting the record straight for our readers who may have been misled by the erroneous headline.
