Circumstances Alter Cases

The best kind of advertising is undoubtedly newspaper advtg. But there are exceptions to this rule. For instance, suppose you want to advertise something which is of interest only to a certain class, say schoolteachers, or merchants. You would have to use space in every newspaper on the Island to be certain that every schoolteacher saw your advt, while at a much smaller expense you could send directly to each one a circular, or better still a Booklet.
We print circulars and Booklets. We print them well. We print the cheapest and we illustrate them free.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE. Victoria Division Half a Century Old Yesterday--Fraternal Visit.

It was just fifty years yesterday since Victoria Division, No. 4, was organized in Charlottetown; and in the evening the officers and members of that organization paid a fraternal visit to Orient Division, in their division room. Bro S W Crabbe, W P, presided, and an eloquent address of welcome was given by Mr J T Mellish, after which short and felicitous addresses were delivered by Rev W J Kirby, J P Tanton, J J Chappell, John Lawson, H Rackham, G H Foster, John McPherson, and Wm Sabine. A temperance song was sung by Mr John Ross and an excellent recitation given by Miss Hodgson. The Rev. Alfred Noon, of Boston, gave a stirring address. The first R Scribe's report, dated January 1849 and signed by George W Owen, was read by Bro Tanton. The original charter members of Victoria Division were as follows: John Arbutick, George William Owen, Charles Drew, John Godkin, William Benjamin Dawson, Benjamin Chappell, John LePage, George Moore, Richard Smith, John Scott, James Hancock, George Butcher, Andrew Bearsto, William Douglas, Matthew Hay, Charles Harris, John McNeill and John McKay.
