2 Appointments Are Made To Laboratory At Halifax

HALIFAX (CP)—Dr. D. R. Idler, director of the Fisheries Research Board of Canada's technological research laboratory in Halifax has announced two appointments to the board's staff.

Peter M. Jangaard, a native of Alesund, Norway, will take up the newly created post of scientific liaison officer for the Atlantic provinces. The research board operates technological laboratories at Halifax and St. John's, Nfld., as well as at Grande Riviere, Que.

Mr. Jangaard's duties will include dessemination and passing on of fisheries research findings to plant managers and other fisheries industry personnel while also handling requests for information from the industry.

An author and co-author of some 20 scientific papers in fisheries research, Mr. Jangaard has done fisheries research in Brooklyn, New York, Bergen, Norway, and at the Norwegian Defence Institute in Oslo, prior to his association with the Canadian Fisheries Research Board in Halifax in 1953. He now resides in neighboring Dartmouth.

DOCTOR FROM JAPAN

Dr. Akiro Saito, 44-year-old native of Japan and graduate of Kyoto Imperial University and Osaka University, joins the staff of the research board in Halifax.

After emigrating to the United States, Dr. Saito worked as a chemist in New York's Mount Sinai Hospital, studied at the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology in Massachusetts and was a Fulbright Scholar at Rutgers University's institute of microbiology.

In Canada he has carried out research at McGill University's department of investigative medicine.

Possible Changes In Code, Gets Backing By Churchmen

TORONTO (CP) — Most church leaders in Toronto have endorsed possible changes in the Criminal Code that would legalize the sale of birth control pills, as announced in Ottawa by Justice Minister Favreau.

Mr. Favreau said the government is studying the Criminal Code and may decide to appeal laws banning the sale o. birth control pills and other contraceptives and their advertisements.

Rev. Kenneth Gillespie, secretary of the department ot Christian education, Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, said Friday the sale of "these things should be legalized and information made available to those who need it."

Dr. Frank P. Fidler, secretary of the United Church marriage guidance council, said:

"For years we have been urging changes in the law to bring it into the world of reality. Everybody knows it is now being broken every day and every hour."

Msgr. C. J. Mulvihill, director of the Roman Catholic family services, called the issue a "hot potato," but said the government "certainly should take a look" at the law.

Lloyd Richardson, head of the Metropolitan Toronto Children's Aid Society, said common sense dictates that selling birth control pills be legalized.

Rabbi Walter Wurzburger of Sharei Shomayim congregation called for repeal of the law because "I do not believe the state should legislate in this area of morality. This is a question that must be answered by individual conscience."

Rt. Rev. G. E. Snell, Anglican Coadjutor Bishop of Toronto, said the church recently advocated dispensation of "information about the means of birth control" to couples who want to plan their families.

Mr. Favreau, who gave no indication when a decision would be made, stressed that even if the law is retained, the provinces are responsible for enforcing it.

Que. Brigadier Sees Separatists Now On Wane

TORONTO (CP)—Brig. Paul Triquet, a native of Cabano, Que., said Friday night Quebec will never separate from the rest of Canada.

Brig. Triquet, among the guests of honor at the annual garrison ball, said in an interview that the separatists "are a rabble - rousing over-publicized minority."

The brigadier, who won the Victoria Cross in 1943 when he led a company against German troops at Casa Berardi, Italy, a village near Ortona, said:

"We in Quebec will always be Canadians. It would be insanity to set up our province as a separate country.

"We want a fair share of Canada's good jobs and prosperity and I'm sure we'll get it. The trouble is, the rest of the country is listening too hard to a few wide-eyed radicals.

"I think the separatist fad is on the wane. The RIN (Rassemblement pour l'Independence Nationale) made fools of themselves when the Queen was here. They are being laughed at now, but soon they'll fade away to nothing but a memory."

"In Quebec we are just as good Canadians as you'll find anywhere in the country. Don't let a few noisy trouble-makers fool you. They don't speak for the people."

He said too many English- and French-speaking Canadians do their travelling in north-south lines.

"We should travel east and west and get to know and understand our fellow Canadians."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

	SOUTH

	♥ K109
	♦ J965
	♣ J742

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1♠	Pass	1 NT	Pass
3♣	Pass	3 NT

Opening lead—three of hearts.

There is usually a substantial difference between how a hand would be played if all 52 cards were exposed and how a naud is played with only the dummy exposed. The outcome would often be different if everyone's cards were known.

Take a hand like this one, for example. South is in three notrump and West leads a heart. East takes the ace and returns the four, his original fourth best heart. Declarer ducks and West takes the queen and plays another heart, forcing the king.

South finesses the queen o diamonds, losing to the king and East, after cashing a heart, returns a diamond to the ace. Declarer has now lost four tricks and this is the position:

	North
	♠ AQ9
	♦ AKQ9
West		East
♠ J1063		♠ K4
♥ 8		♥ 107
♣ 103		♣ 865
	South
	♥ J9
	♦ J742

Declarer plays the A- k- Q and another club, and East, it he is on his toes, discards the four of spades. South, being then in his own hand, cashes the jack of diamonds, hoping the ten will fall, but it does not appear.

South then leads a spade and makes the normal play of finesse sing the queen. East wins with the blank king and cashes ten ten of diamonds to defeat ne contract two tricks.

Of course, South is in a position at the end to make the contract regardless of how the defense chooses to play, but, because he does not see the adverse cards, he is likely to go go down when East makes the proper play of banking his king of spades. There is no way for South to know that East started with four diamonds to the K 10 and the doubleton king of spad es.

British Gov't May Withdraw From Air Pact

By ROD CURRIE

LONDON (CP) — Britain's new Labor government is reported determined to withdraw from the Anglo-French agreement to build the Concorde supersonic jet airliner, whose projected costs now have soared to the equivalent of more than $1,000,000,000.

The French government, aroused over the development, has indicated it will demand heavy penalties if Britain fails to meet her commitments.

Reports from Paris have quoted official circles as saying France might regard Britain's withdrawal as a breach of contract which may lead her to sue for damages at the international court The Hague.

Although the Britis's government has made no official comment, two London Sunday newspapers say she will quit the Concorde scheme. The Sunday Times carries its storey under the headline, Concorde is Doomed and the observer uses the headline, Britain Will Kill Concorde Scheme by Christmas.

The French government has hinted it may find a new partner if Britain quits but many observers feel it is virtually impossible for the project to go ahead without Britain.

Britain's Labor government is reported far from satisfied the world's first supersonic airliner could be a commercial success.

The proposed plane that carry 110 passengers across the Atlantic in three hours at twice the speed of sound, has grown bigger, heavier, noisier and far more expensive than when it was first conceived back in the mid-1950s.

Latest cost estimates increase the final price tag by £60,000,000 to £340,000,000. Alreday Britain and France have spent £20,000,000 each.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
