In search of the green

By Inge Dorsey

Read and enjoy, as these are the last wise words for this column for 1985. The New Year will bring a host of meaningful and inspirational insights into the ever fascinating world of financial aid. Actually, this is the last column until January and in January you can look forward to budgeting tips (to go along with your New Year's Resolutions to spend less money and generally be a better person), news about the Canadian Federation of Student's National campaign on Student Aid and updates on the Canada Student Loans Program.

This being the last column I feel moved to extend greetings of the season to one and all. Sincerely, I wish everyone a safe and happy holiday season. Also, good luck to everyone on their exams.
