

MR. AND MRS. GARTH COFFIN

White Poms And Gladioli Color Keynote At Ceremony

The marriage of Mary Catherine "Frankie" Hooker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan M. Hooker, Ormstown, Que., to Harold Garth Coffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coffin, Charlottetown, P.E.I., took place in August at the Ormstown Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. J.C. Hood officiating. Mrs. Lindsey Coffin played the wedding music and the Junior boys of the choir, George Barrington, James Hood, Donald McEwen, Kenneth Rember and Keith Tamahill, sang "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register. Standards of white poms, white gladioli and greenery were used to decorate the church, and white satin bows marked the pews.

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD E. RICHARDSON

Hunter's River United Church Scene Of August Ceremony

June Marie Ford, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rod Ford, Hunter's River, was united in marriage to Harold Ernest Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Richardson, of Hunter's River, in August.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor length original gown of white silk sheer over tulle and styled in the controlled princess line with hand clipped chantilly lace applied on the fitted bodice. The gown was accented by a bow below the waistline and featured long pointed sleeves and rounded neck line. Her four tier veil of nylon filon fell from a crown of sequins, crystals and pearls. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade of red roses. Her train ornament was a single strand of cultured pearls, the gift of the groom. The bride's attendants, Mrs. Ewen MacEwen, maternal aunt; and the bridesmaid, Mrs. Ewen MacEwen, were identical street length gowns in shocking pink organza over tulle with rows of embroidered flowers around the neckline and full skirt. They each carried nosegays of white carnations, roses, lilies and pink gladioli. The groom was supported by Ewen Sinclair as groomsmen and Fred Jeffrey as best man. The groomsmen wore white suits and the bridesmaids wore white dresses. The bride's mother, Mrs. Richardson, wore a gown in autumn colors with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother, Mrs. Sinclair, wore a blue dress and matching lace jacket with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Mackay Bell of Cavendish. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Ewen MacEwen, who accompanied Gordon Carow as he sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register. "I'll Walk Beside You" After the ceremony, the bride presented a rose from her bouquet to her mother-in-law and the remainder of her bouquet to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Frances Glasgow of Summerside. A reception was held in the Richard Coffin acted as best man for his cousin and the usher was Lyndon Hooker, brother of the bride, and Roger Birt. Mrs. Hooker, the bride's mother, was in a sheath gown of pink brown shirred crepe. She wore a feather hat in shades of brown, and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Coffin, mother of the bridegroom, wore an olive green brocade ensemble with a beige velvet hat and accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Mary McNeil, grandmother of the bride, wore an ensemble of black and white silk, her hat was of black velvet and satin, and she wore a corsage of deep mauve feathered carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Presbyterian Church hall where arrangements of flowers in tones of yellow, and white tapers were used as decorations.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Coffin left for a honeymoon in the Laurentians; the bride travelling in a suit of teal blue Swiss Shetland with a hat of the same material, pink brown accessories, and a corsage of yellow sweethearts roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Coffin will take up residence in Charlottetown. Among those who attended from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coffin, Edith and Edgar, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Birt, Mrs. Clifford Coffin, Mr. Richard Coffin, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Coffin, Gaylyn and Isabelle, and Miss Jeanne MacKinnon, all of Charlottetown; Mr. Douglas Coffin of Summerside; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Jay, of Mount Stewart; Mrs. Lawson Drake of Meadowbank, P.E.I.; Mr. and Mrs. Austen Bowman; Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Hooker of Woodstock, Ont.; Dr. and Mrs. Byron Mills of Nanaimo, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Little of Mount Zabor, N.J.; Mrs. George Handland of Mill Valley, California.

Mrs. Allan Hooker entertained at a trossouise tea in honor of her daughter Miss Mary Catherine "Frankie" Hooker. Guests were received by the hostess, the bride-elect, and Mrs. Harold Coffin, the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary McNeil, and the nuptials of Miss Kathleen MacEwen, Mrs. Eves, Alanne Hooker, Mrs. Norman, Edith Coffin, and Mrs. Birt, who assisted in the service. Among other who entertained for the bride-elect were: Mrs. Nelson Hooker, Mrs. Stanley Craig were joint hostesses at a family party and miscellaneous showers. Mrs. Harold Kerr who were hostesses at a linen shower; Mrs. Earle Sault and Mrs. Earl Forrester who entertained at a champagne and china presentation; Miss Karen McCartney who gave a kitchen linen shower; Mrs. Ivan Barrington who entertained at a supper and presentation of a bedspread; Mrs. Skinner who gave a cup and saucer shower; Miss Judy Carow who entertained at a supper and presentation of a woolen blanket; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robertson who entertained at a barbecue and presentation in honor of their niece and her fiancé.

Following the rehearsal, members of the Junior party and out of town guests were entertained at the Hooker home.

The reception was held in the recreation room of the United Church for sixty guests.

The bride was beautifully laid with white linen, crystal, and gleaming silver. The bride's bouquet was a mixture of white carnations and the groom's cake decorated with a small feeding hen were flanked by two each side by tall white tapers in silver candleabra. Sweet peas were used at the bride's table.

Mr. Bentley proposed a toast to the bride to which the groom responded. Fred Jeffrey on behalf of all extended congratulations and good wishes to the happy young couple.

The groomsmen Ewen Sinclair read the telegrams, one from the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Craig of St. John, N.B. and one from a group of friends in Montreal.

The guest book was circulated by Miss Merilyn Carow.

For a honeymoon trip the bride wore a mauve nylon over tulle affair with a shirred dress with white accessories and a corsage of white feathered carnations.

Among the out of province guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Everett Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Matheson and Gaylyn and Keith Matheson, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawkes, all of Minto, N.B.; Mr. and Mrs. Ewen Sinclair and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Chandler of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Warren McNamee and Mr. and Mrs. William West of Fredericton, N.B.; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Richardson, Darrell, Rodney and Ricky Richardson, of Charlottetown, N.B.; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Richardson of Montreal, N.B.

On Monday evening following their marriage a community shower was held in honor of the bride in the Hunter's River Masonic Hall.

Shiny New-Born Calf Appears In Farm Pasture

"It could be, if all goes well with the weather that we would get at the harvesting toward the last of the week" Macked offered the morning. Come by on his way to school, he had... We were at the door at the time looking for a swan. Could it be that the company we had enjoyed summer-hrough, was now down? Slipped off on a sun-belt, retracing that course of the springtime, high above a dingle and hill, along which they had come? When fields were being stirred, and seeds sown? Robin's songs were then warm and sweet. Leaves too were new. Apple orchards blossomed. Days were long. There was a whole summer ahead.

Now the field were golden, ripe unto harvest. How pretty they were woven into the fabric of the countryside. And beautiful when outlined by the bright green of the afternath hay-fields, and the tawny pasture-plants. Wind and sun crossed the glided across this morning, touching them to fetching shades of light and shadow.

"And he sat him down in a lonely spot"—that poet of an elder day, he thought came to mind with a chuckle, "to chant no melody loud and sweet." No broom in hand, no noons to tidy, no dinner to plan! Nothing to do but tickle his special Muse and sing of those same "waves of shadow" that this morning from this farm "went over the wheat."

New potatoes, mostly, actually burning their jackets during the cooking, we had for dinner. But tasteful though they were, we were not missed that privilege goes to most Island farm-folks, which gives them to lift the new tubers fresh and white from us in rows. What a miracle it was to us, days to, to lift a ton and find that from a mere

COBBER SEEDS IN BARBOUR'S PEANUT BUTTER

JUST THE NUTTY PEANUTS

Try Barbour's Peanut Butter—the old-fashioned Regular Grind or the new Ultra Smooth—and see how good Peanut Butter can taste. Barbour's uses only the nutty peanuts—no bitter seeds. You see, on one end of a peanut there's a little seed that can be removed. This seed tastes bitter by itself. That's why Barbour's removes those seeds before the peanuts are ground to make Barbour's Peanut Butter taste so good.
