COLORADO AND CALIFORNIA.—Are you going on this delightful excursion on Monday night? All the old friends of the Rev. A. W. Nicolson who knew him in the days of his former pastorate on the Cornwall Circuit, and who know him in this city, will want to go. Some people leave these good things until it's too late, and then when they hear the reports say: "Well, I am sorry I didn't go." Come to the Upper Methodist Church on Sunday and hear Mr. Nicolson preach, and you will be sure to come and take a ten cent trip with him on Monday night, as he takes you on "A Four Years' Trip to Colorado and California."

OCTOBER WEDDING.

This morning at six o'clock, the residence of Fredk. Perkins, Esq., Brighton, was the scene of a most interesting event, viz., the marriage of his niece, Miss Fannie Perkins, to Mr. Samuel A. McLeod, of the firm of Moore & McLeod. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. F. Fullerton, pastor of St. James' Church. Miss Fannie McLeod, sister of the groom, assisted the bride, and the groom was ably supported by Mr. Arthur A. Alley. The happy couple, after partaking of breakfast, left on a honeymoon trip to the neighboring provinces. Both bride and groom are exceedingly popular in the community, as was amply attested by the number and variety of valuable wedding presents received, among which may be mentioned a handsome combination writing desk and book case from the employees of Moore & McLeod. To Mr. and Mrs. McLeod THE EXAMINER wishes every happiness in their married life.

Both young ladies are very popular at Georgetown; and, before leaving, according to a correspondent of the Guardian, they were tendered a surprise party at which a most enjoyable evening was passed. The party was composed of the following ladies, their children and other friends: Mrs. A. J. McDonald, Mrs. G. A. Atken, and Mrs. (Capt.) McLean.

LETTER FROM COUNCILLOR MAC-CARRON.

Sir.—Mr. T. A. McLean, who has been writing letters for the press during the past few weeks over the signature of "Taxpayer" dealing with the matter of heating the City Building, has, at last, unmasked himself, and in your issue of yesterday signs his criticism "McKinnon & McLean." But there is a little truth in the letter signed "McKinnon & McLean," as I shall show.

It is not true as stated by "McKinnon & McLean" that the authorized statement of the Public Property Committee, which appeared in THE EXAMINER of September 29th, did not lead the public to suppose that there were only two tenders before the Council. It was distinctly stated in it that there were only two tenders before the Public Property Committee.

It is not true as stated by "McKinnon & McLean" that the Public Property Committee accepted a tender without the sanction of the Council. The minutes of the Council will show that the committee submitted a report stating that two tenders had been received by them, viz., one from Bruce Stewart & Co., for $650, and another from McKinnon & Thorne for $600, both for fitting the City Building with twin Garney boilers, and that they did not recommend the acceptance of any tender, leaving it to the Council to decide.

It is true that a tender was received from McKinnon & McLean for twin Garney boilers, but it did not come to hand for some days after the time for opening the tenders, and could not, in justice to the other tenders, be named. The time for receiving tenders, namely, Wednesday, September 24th, having passed, the two tenders received were opened and the amount of each tender ascertained.

Between that time and the time McKinnon & McLean's tender came in it was not impossible for the last mentioned firm to have ascertained the lowest figures and then submit a tender a few dollars lower. But a majority of the City Councillors had principle and manliness enough to stand up for justice and fair play, and they in open council gave the contract to the lowest bona fide tender.

It is true that a tender from McKinnon & McLean offering to place a steel tubular boiler in the City Building similar to the one placed there in 1888 was also received several days after the time for receiving tenders expired, which tender was read. But as the present Council represent the taxpayers of this city, and not the above named firm, it was voted down. The taxpayers have paid very dearly for their experience of one "steel tubular boiler," although said boiler was no doubt very highly recommended by the party who engineered its construction and sale. Its remains are now on exhibition in the cellar of the City Building, where they can be viewed by any citizen wishing to invest in junk.

F. P. McCARRON, Chairman Public Property Committee.

A despatch from Berlin to the London Standard says that reports have been circulating in Tripoli that the Khalifa has asked the sultans of Wadia, Baghirmi, Bornu, Sokoto and Gando to stop his repelling the British advance in the Sudan, or otherwise the Christians will conquer all the Mohammedan settlements. The Khalifa also suggests to these sultans that they attack the European settlements of the Beuse and the Niger.

While the advance in wheat is in itself a gratifying thing, one of the causes of it is deplorable enough. India, one of the great wheat-growing countries of the world, whose competition has done as much as any single influence to bring down prices, is in a state bordering on famine owing to the failure of its wheat crop. The matter of fact, India is now importing wheat, a cargo of 10,000 tons of California having been sent there from San Francisco on Monday.

Chairman Elliot Danforth, of the Democratic State Committee, discussing the outcome of the presidential election says: "Bryan will get 277 electoral votes. His sure vote of election. The battle ground as I have said before, is in the middle west. My advice from Wisconsin say Bryan will carry the state. The old sentiment in Chicago has diminished very much within the last two weeks, and Bryan is gaining there all the time. Of course we admit McKinley has a fighting chance in the other states."

A private letter contains particulars of the damage caused by flood in the mountain districts adjacent to Rawlins, Mex., in September. Over $100,000 worth of agricultural and mining property were ruined. Great distress prevails among the farmers, who lost all their livestock and effects. The machinery of San Antonio, San Vincente and Paris gold and silver mines was carried away, entailing a loss of $80,000 to the companies alone. Scarcely a house in the camps was left standing. Relief was sent to the sufferers from the coast cities.

Rev. Father Murphy, the famous temperance reformer and the discoverer of the wonderful Father Murphy Gold Cure, has recently returned from the United States, where he has extensively travelled and lectured during the greater part of the last three years, and was interviewed by a reporter on the probabilities of the result of the Presidential contest now pending in that country. In response to a question from the reporter as to what the American people and indirectly the world at large thought of the election of McKinley, Father Murphy enthusiastically replied that Bryan would be elected by an overwhelming majority. "On what basis do you predict such a result?"

"On what basis of observation," replied the reporter, "I have lectured all through the south and the farther west and these parts are solid for Bryan. Bryan's election means prosperity for the American people and indirectly the world at large. McKinley's election would make reciprocity impossible."

British claim and the Schomburgk line and none whatever in the area inclosed by the Schomburgk line. They also show that there was a Dutch post in the Yumari district half a century earlier than any Spanish missionary. The book tends to the conclusion that the right of Great Britain as far as the Schomburgk line are irrefragable and that regarding the region beyond the line Great Britain has as much right as Venezuela. The documents establish indisputably the Dutch right on the whole coast, and including Point Barima, and also far inland. They show that there are certain tracts in different parts of Venezuela and Guiana which were not seized by either the Dutch or Spaniards and the present ownership can only be settled by diplomacy and arbitration.

L. B. MCKER, Esq., Principal Charlottetown Business College and Writing Academy.—Dear Sir.—Having taken a short course in C. G. G. I find it of great benefit to my business. Your work (handwriting) is practical, at least I have found it so in practice. Under your tuition a person gets a thorough grasp of the work under consideration, and no student from my experience is allowed to pass over work which he or she does not thoroughly understand. By your instructions you make the subject clear and therefore pleasant. I hope to find time to return and finish the full course in the near future. Thanking you for your kindness while at the college, I am most respectfully yours,
