If ice conditions in Northumberland Strait don't improve considerably within the next few days, our Wood Islands ferry service will be delayed indefinitely," said Captain Claude Hunter, president of the Northumberland Ferries Ltd., Thursday.

Captain Hunter went on to say that "ice conditions are bad" at Caribou, and unless a favourable west wind comes up soon the company's operations would have to be delayed indefinitely.

Martineau's 12th Man To Win By One Vote

By FRASER MACDOUGALL
OTTAWA (CP)—Paul Martineau is the 12th man to win election to Canada's House of Commons by a one-vote margin. He is the second to do so in this century.

On Thursday night, Mr. Martineau, former Conservative minister of mines and technical surveys, was announced as the winner of Pontiac-Temisaminque in the April 8 election. He got his one-vote margin from the constituency returning officer, J. Denzil Moodie of Campbell's Bay, Que., who cast the deciding ballot when a judicial recount ended in a tie between Mr. Martineau and his Liberal opponent, Paul O'Gould.

It was the second time since Confederation in 1867 that a member's election was decided on a federal returning officer's tie-breaking vote after a recount.

CAST DECIDING VOTES
Election records show that returning officers have cast four deciding votes in federal elections but only twice following a recount — in Pontiac-Temisaminque Thursday and in the former Quebec constituency of Joliette in 1957. The Joliette returning officer cast two tie-breaking votes in the same election, first after his official count and again, decisively, after the recount.

Two other times returning officers cast tie-breaking votes at the completion of their own official counts, but results were subsequently altered by recounts so the tie-breakers were really unnecessary.

This happened in the former constituency of Bromie in 1951, where the post-recount edge was three votes, and in Chippewa in 1952, where the count before a judge gave the winner an 11-vote margin.

The last one-vote margin was in Yamaska, Quebec, now part of Nicolet-Yamaska, in 1930 when a Liberal won by one vote. Curiously enough, there was a similar one-vote edge for a Liberal in 1931 in the now also part of Nicolet-Yamaska.

TWO OTHERS
Quebec has had two other one-vote decisions — in the old constituency of Montmorency in 1877 and in Montreal Hochelaga in 1878.

Ontario has had three, its first was in Huronland in 1887 and in Westworth North and Brant in 1891, constituencies that help to make up the present Brant-Haldimand. The former riding of Ontario North had one in 1896.

Three other provinces had one apiece: Nova Scotia in Pictou in 1874 when it had two members; Manitoba in Selkirk, 1896; and Saskatchewan in Assiniboia West, now part of Assiniboia, 1896.

Counting Pontiac-Temisaminque, Conservatives have won seven of the one-vote decisions, Liberals five.

Alberton Reports Run Of Herring

ALBERTON — A number of Alberton fishing boats brought in good catches of herring yesterday and prospects are most excellent for a good supply of lobster bait for the lobster season which opens May 7 at 8 o'clock.

Several boats landed from four to five barrels from a comparatively small number of nets. The fishermen were hard at work at 4:45 p.m. yesterday afternoon and evening and today's landings are expected to indicate the extent of the herring run.

Last year most of the bait for the spring season was purchased elsewhere at heavy cost to the fishermen.

'Hard Look' Planned At Defence

By DAVE McINTOSH
OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Paul Hellyer said here he will take a "hard look" at all embryo defence programs initiated by the Progressive Conservatives.

These are projects on which little money has so far been spent, such as the navy's $240,000,000 construction program for eight frigates, scheduled to begin next year.

"One of the Conservatives' problems," Mr. Hellyer said in an interview, "was that they slid into defence programs without reviewing them carefully."

The 38-year-old minister also said the Liberals have no intention of trying to avoid any Commons debate on nuclear weapons.

The opposition would have plenty of opportunities, if it wished, to discuss the issues long before any nuclear warheads were in place at Canadian bases in this country or in Europe.
