LIBERAL FINANCING

The letter was gerrymandered and then published in Halifax, whence the garbled version was telegraphed to the Toronto Globe, by which paper it was presented as a "manuscript" read from the altar to drive the Roman Catholics into the Tory camp, whether they wanted to go or not.

The Independent: A man who died recently left nearly all his money, about $25,000, to be expended on a monument to himself. All manner of amused and unfavorable comment has been made upon the will so out of harmony with the spirit of the age.

—The Independent: A man who died recently left nearly all his money, about $25,000, to be expended on a monument to himself.

—Chatham Work: The opponents of the proposed bill talk very glibly of the great principles involved. The great principle involved is simply the right of the Roman Catholics of Manitoba to spend their own money in accordance with the dictates of their own conscience.

—Mr. Edson's half humorous suggestion that the labor of the next generation will consist of pressing a button calls to mind the immense advance in chemical appliances witnessed in the past eighty years.

—The Administration of Justice has risen from $354,000 to $453,000, an increase of $99,000. Education has gone up from $533,000 to $693,000, an addition of $160,000.

LATEST NEWS NOTES

Bill Nye, the humorist, whose illness was reported a few days ago, is dead. Madame Alban's hand has been photographed by cathode photography at Kingston, Ont.

It is rumored at Havana that Gomez has been wounded and Maceo killed. But neither rumor has been confirmed as yet. A special despatch from Shanghai says that the Russian Government is arranging for the purchase of Delagoa Bay, is without foundation.

The National Armenian relief committee New York has sent $25,000 by cable to Miss Clara Barton at Constantinople, and will send forward other sums immediately.

Adam Turner, an undertaker, recently stood as a Parliamentary candidate for North Belfast, Ireland. He offered to "bury free" every man who would vote for him. He was defeated.

Manitola Liberal papers are now publishing "the official text" of Bishop Cameron's Cape Breton election pastoral. As there was no pastoral, this "official text" must be the work of some kind of an impostor.

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH AND DIVORCE

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 20.—To a representative of the Associated Press, today, Archbishop Ireland said: The report which comes from Halifax that Pope Leo XIII. has granted a full, or an annulment, divorce on the ground of infidelity on the part of the woman, is clearly a misinterpretation of the facts in the case.

It is certain no divorce has been granted on the ground of infidelity. The positive, inflexible teachings of the Catholic Church is that a valid marriage contract, duly consummated, cannot be annulled or made void by any authority in state or church, death alone terminating its obligations.

Where the marriage was from the beginning null and invalid through some natural or canonical impediment, or never duly consummated, declarations of nullity or dispensations may be, and often are, obtained from ecclesiastical courts. Nothing beyond this ever occurred, or can occur, in the Catholic Church.

Your thoughts.—As if a man were author of his own thoughts any more than of his own existence. A man can not live with the life given him, that is to say that kind of thoughts shall call on him and to this or that kind he shall not be at a loss.—Geo. Macdonald.

While a cage containing eight men was descending a coal pit at Leigh, Lancashire, Eng., on Thursday morning, the catches failed to work and the cage crashed to the bottom of the pit. All the men in the cage were killed.

Nothing is positively known as to what caused the dramatic explosion at Johannesburg. The latest estimate places the number killed at over a hundred. Many persons are missing. There is scarcely a doubt that they were blown to pieces.

William Belyea, of Carleton, N. B., was found dead in bed on Thursday morning. He had been melancholy, and had been watched by a young man who slept with him, lest he should commit suicide. But it seems that he had procured chloral and took a quantity sufficient to cause death.

The war in Cuba is hurting a number of people up in Maine. Because of much of the sugar crop in the island being burned, and little or no sugar being made this season, the bottom has dropped clean out of the hog-head-hoop business, which is usually a flourishing industry in many Maine towns.

Charles Quimby and his wife, of Sandwich, N. H., aged respectively 92 and 91 years, died within a few hours of each other last week. They had been married seventy years, and their seven children, the youngest being about 50 years old, are all living. There has not been a death in the immediate family of the aged couple in sixty-one years.

There is an interesting instance of the result of Christian Endeavor work in the fact that when the society was organized in 1892 in Lamar, Col., only four persons would take the pledge. Since that time, however, the society, which has supplied the only religious services in the place, except the Sunday school, and from it a church has now grown.

An elderly widower of Thurles, Ire., married a young girl, and after the ceremony entertained some friends at a banquet. While the feast was in progress, a number of young men attacked the house and broke the door, windows and furniture. The bride is said to have been injured, and received a black eye, and finally had to fly to a neighboring house for refuge. Having evaded the bride party the raiders sat down and enjoyed the wedding breakfast. No reason is given for the conduct of the attacking party.

Mr. Chamberlain, the British Colonial Secretary, is a very able man; but he has been very sharply rebuked by an equally able man, President Kruger, of the Transvaal Republic, who tells him that he must not meddle with the internal affairs of that Republic. He had suggested reforms that were necessary to satisfy the desires of the Uitlanders; but President Kruger thinks that that is a matter for home consideration, and that Mr. Chamberlain ought to mind his own business. Perhaps he ought, but if those reforms are not granted there will not be any President Kruger very long. Mr. Chamberlain's diplomacy has been characterized by unusual frankness and strength.
